Disciples of Moscow Fail in Fist Fight With Berlin Police

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Communists went a step further than usual today in the violent obstructionism which they have made part of the Reichstag's daily routine.

When for the second time within a week police were summoned into the parliamentary chamber to eject unruly Reds, the Bolshevist deputies deliberately staged a fist fight with the guardians of the law. As pugilists, however, the disciples of Moscow were outmatched by the burly plainclothes detectives employed against them.

Beyond one nose vividly stained with communist crimson, no casualties were reported.

KING'S LIFE MENACED BY ANARCHIST

Alfonso of Spain Saved as Guards Seize Pistol of Radical Plotter

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Aug. 10.—An anarchist attempted to assassinate King Alfonso of Spain as he entered the Casino at St. Sebastian Saturday night, but was seized before he could fire his automatic pistol.

The police searched the homes of all the known anarchists of Spain to try to discover whether there is a widespread plot against the King's life and they also watched the frontiers and suppressed for two days all news of the affair to assist in the search.

This was the second attack this year, King Alfonso narrowly escaping being blown up when a bomb was placed on the railway track near Barcelona over which he passed last May. The King recently bought an American limousine which has a hidden lining of half-inch armor plate and he also uses an armored train.

Briand Leaves to Confer With Chamberlain

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Foreign Minister Briand went to London today to discuss with Austen Chamberlain, the British Foreign Minister, a new guarantee pact.

The future peace of Europe may hang on the result of the visit, because, unless France, England and Germany can agree to more flexible and more practical machinery to lubricate a solution of international crises than the covenant of the League of Nations, dissatisfaction over the Treaty of Versailles may cause another world war.

Mr. Cook, in a statement yesterday attributed the utterance to the Chancellor.

COOLIDGE STUDIES BUDGET

Departmental Slashes Understood to Have Been Hard on Army and Navy Appropriations

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) Aug. 10.—In a series of conferences today President Coolidge studied the budget estimates for next year, received a report on the postal rate problem and was given late information as to the Alaskan fisheries situation.

Director Lord of the Budget presented to the Executive a tentative budget estimate for the next fiscal year calling for a reduction of $20,000,000 in appropriations. This is the amount set by the President and he approves the form in which the budget chief tentatively has allocated the new figures.

With increases necessary in some departments heavy slashes have been called for in others and it is understood the new budget hits hard on the army and navy appropriations. Mr. Coolidge has declared that while he wanted adequate defense he believes it should be maintained on the smallest sum necessary.

Although it is likely next year's budget will pare down the military appropriations, it also is understood that the aviation branches will not suffer. About $20,000,000 for aviation was authorized for this year and this sum is declared to be all that can be consumed in the annual output of the present aviation manufactory.

WORLD COURT VICTORY PREDICTED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) Aug. 10. Prediction that the Senate would ratify the World Court protocol in amended form at the next session was made here today by Senator Moses of New Hampshire, a Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee and an irreconcilable in the League of Nations fight.

Senator Moses who called on President Coolidge with members of the joint Congressional post office committee, did not discuss the World Court with the President, but said later he believed the Senate was ready to act favorably on some form of a world court proposal.

A textual amendment which would guarantee that this nation would not be involved with the League of Nations by membership in the court was advocated by Senator Moses.

A tendency among some Republican leaders to favor amendment of the protocol has been noted. Senator Pepper announced recently he favored an amendment to the World Court statute conferring voting rights in the court on the United States, but surely stipulating that the American government was not to incur any of the obligations incident to League of Nations membership.

Senator Moses, who is president pro tem of the Senate and has declared against the campaign of Vice-President Dawes for revision of the Senate rules, said he did not believe there had been any change in sentiment among Senate members on this proposal. He was confident the necessary votes for revision were not available and that no determined fight along this line will be made next session.

Town Turns Out to Welcome Division Under Flag of Admiral Robison; Gala Day at Wellington

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

AUCKLAND (N. Z.) Aug. 10.—The California, flying the flag of Admiral S. S. Robison, the West Virginia, New Mexico, Mississippi, Idaho, Maryland, Tennessee and Medusa of the United States Fleet, arrived here this morning.

After a spell of stormy midwinter weather there was a touch of spring in the air today as the California led the battleships and auxiliaries into the harbor from the shores of which great crowds watched the progress of the ships. The port was dotted with excursion boats and small craft as the warships came to anchor and the thunder of saluting guns intermingled with the demonstrations of welcome. Airplanes ascending from the battleships created a profound impression.

The California anchored abreast of the town, the others in line two miles to the heads.

After the formal exchange of calls, Admiral Robison and the officers of the visiting ships attended a civic reception at the town hall where there was a great gathering of citizens. The welcome was most cordial and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

The Navy League has provided club rooms for the enlisted men on the wharf where light refreshments will be served at all hours during the stay of the fleet. Thousands of men will be given shore leave.

BOLT FIRES OIL TANK

Shell Loss to be $1,500,000

Lightning in Fresno County Starts 750,000-Barrel Reservoir Flames

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FRESNO, Aug. 10.—Damage estimated at more than $1,500,000 will be done by a raging fire which tonight is destroying 700,000 barrels of high gravity refining oil stored in a huge Shell Oil Company reservoir nine miles east of Coalinga on the west side of Fresno county.

The fire, which is expected to burn uncontrolled for several days started when the 750,000-barrel reservoir was struck by lightning shortly before noon today.

Company officials said tonight the entire loss will be covered by insurance.

With the cover of the reservoir burned away, a surface of hundreds of square feet is a mass of roaring flames leaping 250 feet into the air and making the heat unbearable within 100 yards of the inferno.

Because of the terrific heat and the amount of oil burning, virtually nothing can be done by company crews other than to drain as much oil as possible from the reservoir to the Shell tank farm three miles distant. Company officials say that probably 50,000 barrels of oil can be saved in this way.

MAY BOIL OVER

Late this evening it was expected that the oil would boil over the sides of the reservoir. Experts on boiling temperatures said the boil-over should come about seven hours after the fire started. With the first overflow a cottage occupied by the reservoir attendant some 100 yards from the fire no doubt will be destroyed by the burning river of oil. No other damage is probable.

Persons who saw the fire start say that two bolts of lightning seemed to flash downward and meet just above the reservoir, causing a terrific explosion, and shooting flames hundreds of feet into the air. Almost instantly, they said, the entire top of the reservoir was a mass of fire and great clouds of heavy black smoke arose.

Reports were received here tonight that lightning had been striking throughout other sections of the Coalinga oil field, but that no great damage had been done. Power and telephone lines have been struck, blowing out fuses on many leases.

IMPERIAL VALLEY STORM CAUSES DAMAGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BRAWLEY, Aug. 10.—A terrific windstorm, at times reaching the violence of a tornado, swept northward over the western section of Imperial Valley today, seriously damaged the little town of Rockwood, four miles north of here, and leveled telephone, telegraph and power poles for miles.

The windstorm was followed by a near cloudburst, adding to the damage.

Tonight another rain fell, but was unaccompanied by wind and did no damage. It drenched the El Centro section.

LOSS OF $75,000

At Rockwood a row of packing sheds along the railroad track was demolished by the wind and all the ranch homes within a radius of a mile were damaged. The total loss to buildings and crops was estimated at $75,000. A few persons were hurt slightly but no one was killed or seriously injured so far as could be learned.

H. H. McLane, a rancher, lost about $3000 worth of cotton and his home was damaged. Andy Imhoff suffered a loss of $1000 to sheds and chickens; Tom Marquez lost about $2000 worth of cotton; a man named Clark suffered $3000 damage to his home and vineyard and Tex Arnold lost his store and his cotton crop, worth about $5000, reports stated.

Several houses were picked up bodily and set down on new sites, virtually undamaged. A house stands on the site of a vanished grocery; in the Mexican section, cotton pickers are camping on the former sites of their homes.

BELGIANS OPEN WAR DEBT CONFERENCE AMID AMITY

Europeans and Americans Express Feelings of Friendship When Funding Sessions Start

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Mutual expressions of friendly feeling and of a desire to see international obligations fulfilled, marked the opening meeting here today between the Belgian Debt Commission and the World War Foreign Debt Commission, which began discussion of Belgium's $480,000,000 war and post-war loans from this country. It is felt that a good start has been made and another session will be conducted tomorrow. In addition to the formal exchanges which took place at the outset between Baron De Cartier de Marchienne, Ambassador of Belgium, and Secretary Mellon, chairman of the American Debt Commission there was an outline of the program of procedure which will be followed and also some discussion of facts and figures.

All was accomplished that could be expected at the initial meeting, it was explained afterward, but as an agreement had been reached between the two sides that reports of their conversations should be confidential except when a joint statement is issued, nothing was made public officially, but the two speeches. Significance was attached to that portion of the Ambassador's remarks in which, after asserting that "Belgium who did her full duty on August 2, 1914, will honor her just obligations," added:

"She would have taken up earlier with you the problem of an equitable consolidation of her debts but for the nonfulfillment of many solemn pledges given to her people during the war. The situation so created was made even more critical by the fact, that during four years of occupation, Belgium was forced to pay Germany, under the form of war levies in case and as a result of the imposed use of German currency, a tribute which now amounts to a loss of nearly $2,000,000,000. We feel sure that you will appreciate this special situation."

FIGURES COME UP

While there was no official comment on the Ambassador's speech, this portion of it was interpreted in some quarters afterward as a possible intimation that the Belgians would seek during the course of their negotiations to distinguish, either in method or time of settlement between their actual war and their post-war debts to the United States. It is not known when they will be ready to submit definite proposals to the American commission. At today's meeting, it was learned, there was some discussion of facts and figures bearing on the general financial and economic situation of Belgium; and it is understood that the Belgians will present reports from their government's latest budget which show the financial condition of the country.

In reply to Baron De Marchienne Secretary Mellon said:

"During the war we learned high admiration for the courage of Belgium, the nation which, at the risk of her destruction, stood by her treaty obligations, and even greater courage of her citizens, a civilian population under the military heel of occupation, steadfast in their patriotism. Feelings such as these do not change. Friends and allies we have been and will remain.

"The funding of your debt to us within your capacity to pay means far more than the mere payment by you and the receipt by us of a certain number of dollars each year. It is a recognition of the integrity of international obligations and the settlement of a question which might disturb the long friendship of our two nations. To accomplish these results is worthy of our every effort.

"In you gentlemen here Belgium has sent its representative men with power to negotiate. The question before us is of narrow compass. There are but two parties to our negotiations. Politics, local or international, are not involved. We all here reasonable men around a table. Under such conditions we will soon learn each other's viewpoints, determine the true facts governing the situation

STECK GAINS TOTAL 451 IN IOWA COUNT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—A gain of 200 votes for Daniel F. Steck, the Democratic contestant, was reported today in the Senate elections subcommittee's recount of Lee county ballots in the Iowa Senatorial contest. This gain was made through the correction of errors in the State tabulation of the vote in the Montrose precinct and in the fifth ward in Keokuk. Steck gaining 100 in each bringing his total net gain to date of 451 votes.

Supervisors representing both contestants said these were the only changes of consequence noted during the day with Lee and Linn counties under examination. In the forty-two counties in which the recount had been completed at the end of last week, Steck was estimated to have made a net gain of 251 through the counting here of 1555 votes not counted in the State, 903 going to Steck and 652 to Brookhart.

DEMOCRATIC RIFT GROWS IN NEW YORK

New Borough Joins With Tammany in Attempt to Beat Mayor Hylan

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The split in the Democratic organization of Greater New York, with Tammany opposing Mayor Hylan's aspirations for a third term, has assumed wider ramifications.

Influential members of the party in the borough of Richmond, hitherto regarded as a Hylan stronghold, yesterday raised the banner of revolt against the Mayor's reign and announced their intention of placing in the field candidates for borough offices in opposition to the prospective nominees on the Hylan ticket.

Bertram G. Eadie, chairman of what is known as the regular Tammany organization of Richmond, and nominal leader of the anti-Hylan faction, accused Davis S. Rendt, county leader, of "selling out the party," to Hylan and his newspaper supporter, William Randolph Hearst.

SPECIAL SESSION BALKED

Mellon Sees No Need for Early Conference on Reduction in Tax List

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Renewed talk of a special session of Congress for the purpose of getting an early start upon tax revision has failed to make any impression upon administration officials.

It was made clear today that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is unable to see any advantage in the suggestion put forward for the calling of a special session of Congress by President Coolidge on October 1.

The President, it is known, is opposed to the calling of a special session of Congress unless the gravest sort of an emergency arises. The country will be better off, he believes, if Congress takes a long rest during the present year.

Apart from the President's reluctance to call a special session, administration officials believe that the program as already arranged by Representative Green, Republican, Iowa, chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means, makes it a certainty that tax legislation will make just as rapid progress and be finally disposed of at as early a date as would be possible if Congress should convene in special session on October 1.

Under Mr. Green's program the House Ways and Means Committee has been called to meet on October 19 to commence hearings on tax legislation. Hearings will continue for about ten days after which the members of the committee will perfect a bill with a view to having it ready for introduction in the House when Congress meets early in December. Debate on the floor of the Senate may require three or four weeks, but confidence is expressed that the Senate will pass the bill and conferees of the Senate and House will adjust the differences between the Senate and House bills in time to make the new law effective for the tax payments to be made March 15, on 1925 incomes.

In case a special session of Congress was convened October 1, as suggested, it is doubtful, according to leading members, whether the Ways and Means Committee would report its bill to the House any earlier than December 1. The committee, under the present plan, it is pointed out, will be able to work more uninterruptedly than would be the case if the House were in session and it were necessary for members to leave the committee room to give attention to other legislation.

CO-OPERATION IN ARIZONA URGED

Industrial Congress Chief Asks Colonies

Trade With Southland Also Stressed

Raw Materials Available for Factories

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Aug. 10.—That Arizona within a few years will have room for an additional 25,000 families, mainly on new agricultural projects, is declared by President P. J. Spilsbury of the Arizona Industrial Congress, this with statement that the State now has only 12,000 families on farms. Within the new projects, upon which about $30,000,000 now is being spent, the land mainly is held by present residents of the State. This condition is considered uneconomic and fresh colonization is declared essential.

So suggestion is made that there be close co-operation between Southern California and Arizona. Expanding trade is declared the former's greatest need and the latter's to be people on the farms. This idea has been presented by Mr. Spilsbury to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, which already has made arrangements for helping Arizona with advertising in the Middle West. Los Angeles also will stimulate publicity concerning Arizona in the cities of Southern California.

Arizona is considered especially as the source of raw material that may be used in Los Angeles factories and shipped from the Port of Los Angeles. With regard to this the local argument states: "Within a little over 500 miles of the city of Los Angeles, within the State of Arizona, is produced half the copper of the United States, some 6,000,000 pounds of the finest wool, thousands of bales of cotton, lead, zinc, silver and other products. Of the total production of Arizona about 80 per cent goes east of Chicago and practically nothing to Los Angeles. It is quite apparent, therefore, that if Los Angeles expects to make her harbor profitable it is necessary for her to link up and develop a trade territory which she has not yet developed—namely, Arizona. Aside from the fact that the volume of production of Arizona all goes east, it is interesting to note that the purchases made by Arizona firms naturally follow the line of financing and sales. This means that the larger portion of the goods sold in Arizona or purchased for Arizona development also come from Chicago and east."

LEE MANSION TO BE RESTORED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Restoration of the Lee mansion, on the highest spot in Arlington Cemetery, will be undertaken under supervision of the War Department, at a cost of $225,000. Union troops seized the mansion and estate surrounding it when Gen. Robert E. Lee joined the Confederate cause, and it was purchased by the government for $150,000 in 1854. The estate of 6000 acres, was originally purchased for six hogsheads of tobacco and later passed into the hands of the Custis and Lee families.

REWARD OFFERED FOR GIRL

Grandparents Return from Trip to Find Child Ward and Mother Missing

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Edward W. Browning bore with fortitude—amounting almost to relief—today the continued absence of Mary Louise Spas-Browning, his foster-daughter, who disappeared suddenly last night from the home of a business associate of her foster-father and since has been, presumably, devoting herself to her literary labors, in the form of an "I Confess" series.

Robert H. Dunnett, Browning's associate, announced a reward of $500 for information leading to discovery of the girl's whereabouts. Browning was asked later concerning the offer.

"No!" he said vehemently. "I wouldn't pay 5 cents. Why should I want her back."

Meanwhile, out of the cloud of statements concerning the case which hung over Queens and New York there emerged sharply Browning's denial of all of the statements contained in the girl's "confessions," including charges that he had known she was 21 years of age, instead of 16, before the adoption; that he had suggested they marry, and that he had demanded love letters from her.

CHARGES DOUBLE-CROSS

Browning charged that the girl had double-crossed him and that he had been fooled.

Part of the contents of a letter left by Mary when she attempted suicide—very unsuccessfully—Friday night also was disclosed by Mr. Browning. Her remarks in the letter were laudatory of her foster-father and utterly different in tone from those in her published statements.

"The only sensible remark quoted was a letter that Mary wrote Saturday afternoon," he said. "In it she said: 'I don't want to be adopted. Please annul all claims on Mr. Browning. He has always been considerate of me.'"

He said if it is necessary to have Mary Louise in the Surrogate court tomorrow when Browning is to move to have the adoption set aside he will "use the entire power of the District Attorney's office to get her there."

NOT ASHAMED

"I have not done anything that I need be ashamed of," he added. "I am very sorry to say I have been fooled.

"I am glad officials took the initiative."

Commissioner of Public Welfare Bird S. Coler finished with one phase of the Browning tangle this afternoon when he announced that "the adoption of Dorothy Sunshine (Browning's other foster-daughter,) by Browning seven years ago went through the regular channels. He adopted her when she was 3 years of age, and he was then married." Mr. Coler was very emphatic that he was giving Mr. Browning an entirely clean bill of health on that adoption.

Students Are Received at Geneva Home

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GENEVA, Aug. 10.—About 300 American and English students were received yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Stanley McCormick as a member of the American committee of the Institute of International Relations at her chateau on Lake Geneva and listened to a number of speeches on foreign relations.

Returning to Geneva in the evening they were received by Sir Frederick Drummond, general secretary of the League, and Frederic Whalen spoke to them on the recent progress of the institute.

The congress of the League opened at Geneva today, and Prof. James Shotwell and other Americans made addresses, as well as a number of prominent Britishers.

Posse Hunting Pair Who Beat, Tied Traveler

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 10.—Amador and El Dorado county peace officers were joined in a posse late today searching for two bandits, one a negro and the other a white man, who this morning robbed, beat and tied a tourist by the name of McCurry to a tree alongside the Plymouth-Jackson road, in the mountains east of here.

One of the bandits has been identified by McCurry as a man sought on a charge of passing worthless checks.

McCurry, after being robbed of his cash and a rifle, was beaten on the head with an automobile crank and tied to the tree where he was found some time later by Daniel McGregor of El Dorado. A Jackson physician, who examined McCurry, said his skull may have been fractured by the blows.

and should reach an agreement fair to your country and to ours."

CAILLAUX WISHES TO MAKE "GENTLEMAN'S OFFER"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Finance Minister Caillaux told American correspondents today that he desires very much to go to Washington to present what he called a "gentleman's offer" for the settlement of the war debts which France owes to the United States.

"I certainly would go if it were a question merely of crossing the channel, but the Atlantic is a different proposition and I do not know whether I can leave the Ministry of Finance long enough to make the trip to America," he said.

"I am going to tell both the British and the Americans just what France can pay and that France will pay, but that it is impossible for me to undertake payments likely to turn out to be beyond the capacity of the country."

Reviewing the different phases of his financial program, M. Caillaux explained that the measures already adopted and those in view constituted the first step, but a very prudent step toward the eventual return of France to the gold basis.

"It is necessary to move most prudently in this matter," he said. "Countries that were plunged by the war into a tangled financial situation cannot safely undertake to return abruptly to perfect financial equilibrium.

"The French budget for 1925 only partially accomplished the end in view. It was balanced as far as expenditures were concerned. There remains to be provided in the 1926 budget a sinking fund for debts; then, providing we shall have succeeded in eliminating the floating debt from our financial difficulties, the way will open more clearly to final financial equilibrium and eventual return to the gold basis."

The go'd coupon consolidation is going well, the Minister said, and he has little apprehension regarding the heavy short-term obligations maturing in September.

The expenses incurred for military operations in Morocco he estimated at 200,000,000 francs, though al lof this sum has not yet been spent. He placed the total cost of the operations in the neighborhood of 250,000,000 francs if the campaign terminates soon.

ITALIAN LEADERS DISCUSS DEBT PLANS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

ROME, Aug. 10. — To prepare Italy's case for presentation in the negotiations over payment of her war debts with special reference to the debt owed the United States, the government's highest financial authorities met today with Count Volpi, Minister of Finance, presiding.

The meeting's significance is emphasized by the fact that Giacomo De Martino, Italian Ambassador to the United States, sailed from New York Saturday to discuss the debt situation with his government.

The discussion dealt with the definite shape to be given documentary material which it is planned to submit to the American Debt Funding Commission and the United States Congress concerning Italy's economic and financial situation, and also statistics bearing on Italy's population problem. This material will include also a prospectus showing the international payments which Italy now is making, and also the fiscal pressure now being exerted in Italy in proportion to the wealth and revenues of the nation as compared to the same pressure in other countries.

Dr. Mario Alberti, who was associated with Ambassador De Martino in the early negotiations at Washington, presented an organic plan dealing with all these questions.

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGING PLAN HELD FEASIBLE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10. — J. B. Strauss of Chicago, internationally known engineer who arrived here today, declared that in his opinion, bridging of the Golden Gate was feasible from both a financial and engineering standpoint. Mr. Strauss, who has submitted plans for such a bridge, did not go into details other than to say that he would be available while here for any conferences bearing on the project. The proposed bridge would span the entrance to San Francisco Harbor from this city to the northern California counties.

ROUGHS GIVE STRIKE AID TO CHINESE

Merchant's Assassination Attempted by Terrorists in Campaign

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 10.—Groups of roughs seeking to aid the students and laborers, have been carrying on a campaign of terrorism in which they have kidnaped the son of a former military magistrate and attempted to assassinate a prominent Chinese merchant living within the foreign settlement.

From the merchant they demanded $50,000. This demand was made in a letter, signed by the "assassinators' battalion," discovered on the merchant's doorsteps lying beside a bomb.

During the last few days $220,000 has been added to the strike fund. Most of the amount has been paid by prominent persons in the city as a price of freedom from molestation by the strikers.

The shipping situation has improved. Coastal steamers, mostly manned by Chinese crews, locally recruited, have departed for Tientsin and Chee-Foo.

The Japanese mill owners are holding daily conferences with Hsu Yuan, Chinese Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, in an attempt to negotiate a settlement with the strikers.

RIFFIAN LEADER STILL DEFIANT

clared that "events in Syria are not so grave as certain parties sought to represent them." Suedian, the post which dispatches from British and Arab sources stated had fallen, still is occupied by French troops, he said.

The Premier said the total of French losses was not known at present. In any case, he added, it did not appear that the Druz tribesmen had attacked the French to any extent since the incidents in question.

The origin of the attack on the French detachment was trifling enough, the statement continued. The Druzes in favor of a French governor and those desiring a native governor, carried their differences to such a degree of agitation that small columns were dispatched to maintain order. One of them composed of 166 men, was literally overwhelmed by the Druzes as soon as it entered Jebel Druze. The soldiers defended themselves bravely but only sixty of them escaped being massacred.

A stronger punitive column commanded by Gen. Michaud then was sent. It was followed by a supply column which, by reason of its nature, could not march at the same rate as the infantry. The Druzes waited until they thought there was sufficient distance between the supply column and the main body; they then fell upon the supply column from the flanks with such violence that the escort of Syrian-Malgache riflemen gave way and the Druzes captured the supplies. The officer commanding the escort was wounded and committed suicide rather than fall into the hands of the barbarous assailants.

The infantry column, the Premier noted, was thus deprived of supplies and obliged to turn back, fighting as it went.

M. Painleve concluded with a word of appreciation of the attitude shown by the British in adjacent territories, which had been "not only perfectly correct, but particularly friendly."

AMERICAN FLYERS START TRAINING FOR WAR

CASA BLANCA (Morocco) Aug. 10.—The group of American aviators, commanded by Paul Rockwell of Asheville, N. Today they filled out papers formally making them members of the French air forces engaged against Abd-el-Krim.

The French officer commanding the Casa Blanca receiving centers says the American pilots must undergo three weeks of intensive training here before they will be allowed to fly over the battle front.

MANILA, Aug. 10.—Gen. Wood has sent to the Senate names of four acting secretaries to be confirmed as Secretaries of Justice, Commerce, Finance and Agriculture. This is in accordance with the law requiring the Governor to form a new Cabinet every three years.

The acting Secretaries have been performing the duties of Secretaries since the break between Gen. Wood and the Legislature in 1923, when the entire Cabinet resigned.

It is understood that the nominations will be rejected by the Senate, in which case the acting Secretaries would resume their old positions and the status would remain unchanged.

SYMPATHY FOR CHINA, KEYNOTE

Anglo-Japanese-American Pact Conciliatory

Japanese Spokesman Tells of Plans for Parley

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, Aug. 10.—Sympathy for China and an endeavor to extricate it from its economic and political snarls were the the keynote of Anglo-Japanese-American agreement reached last week, according to Marquis Komura, spokesman for the Foreign Office.

Last week the British Ambassador notified Ambassador Shidehara that Great Britain was ready to hasten a conference, according to American desire, thus bringing the three powers in an alignment. Japan immediately commenced preparations for a customs conference, Baron Shidehara calling a meeting of the representatives of the foreign, finance, agricultural and commerce departments to outline Japan's stand.

The Japanese delegates probably will be Mr. Yoshizawa, minister to China, and Mr. Komura, chief of the Asiatic bureau of the foreign office, with a representative of the Department of Finance. China is expected to call the conference in Peking on October 15.

TREATY TO GOVERN

"The conference will be strictly within the limits set by the nine-power treaty and the Japanese delegates will not be empowered to enlarge its scope," says Mr. Komura. But should China bring up the question of enlargement, Japan is willing to discuss it. Japan is entering the customs conference first, with the object of helping the Chinese finances, and second, to settle all foreign loans at present not consolidated, in order to relieve the Chinese from the heavy interest burden.

"Japan will be very careful to avoid any form of intervention, not only in foreign control of railways, but in no further control of customs. If we go further than simple financial matters we might easily encroach on the Chinese domestic politics, which we are keenly anxious to avoid even the appearance of doing.

MUST BID AMERICA

"Regarding extra territoriality, first China must ask America to send a commission, and then America must ask the other powers. The commission will then investigate and report as prescribed by the Washington agreement. Unless this is done there is no prospect of smooth progress.

"The Anglo-Japanese-American agreement on China covers three points—first, to negotiate sympathetically, second, to hasten the customs conference and hasten the dispatch of extra-territorial investigators, and third, China must act reasonably, further agitations and radical movements being undesirous. This point is self-solved, as China is practically quiet today. Everything is progressing smoothly. We have every reason to be optimistic."

MISSION SCHOOLS MAY NOT BE ABLE TO RESUME

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PEITAI-HO BEACH (China) Aug. 10.—American, Canadian and English missionaries summering here assert that many schools will not be able to reopen in September owing to the revolt against the Christian schools as the tools of imperialism. The missionaries are convinced that Bolshevik activities are behind the movement and they regard the situation as a serious blow to missionary activities in China.

Wishing to obtain an expression without formal action, the missionaries held a debate on the subject: Resolved, that missionaries are not indispensable to China. The leaders of the affirmative side were the Presbyterians and Congregationalists whose views met the approval of a considerable majority of the assembly.

Unquestionably the missionaries' views have undergone a great change since the sending of a telegram to Senator Borah urging the removal of extra-territoriality as the best means of aiding missions' efforts.

Experts indicate that Honan province is the center of the greatest revolt where Red Russians are drilling Chinese troops. There are more than 230,000 under arms.

Students of the Canadian Episcopal, the Southern Baptist and the American Roman Catholic schools of Honan have organized a union, asserting that they will no longer associate themselves with a school under foreign control and alleging that religious training is demoralizing the students. Bishop White is deferring the opening of the largest mission middle school of Honan until three weeks after the government schools because the student bodies demand that mission schools no longer be Christian but that they be delivered to Chinese control with Chinese principals. St. Mary's Hall, the largest girls' school, is to close.

Chinese groups of other missions are organizing themselves to control the churches.

power poles high into the air, sweeping them away for relatively long distances. The Southern Sierras Power Company reported that its lines had been leveled for miles, but emergency crews were rushed to the damaged sections of the power and communication lines immediately and after several hours service was re-established between Los Angeles and the valley. Electric power and lights were supplied via San Diego, from which city the Southern Sierras Company maintains an alternative line for emergency use.

The storm missed El Centro and Calexico entirely, but communication with Rockwood was severed. Crews of workmen are being hurried by the public utility corporations here and the damage to the power, phone and telegraph lines will be repaired in a short time, it was stated.

The storm is believed to have originated in the South. It struck heaviest between Brawley and Calipatria, though missing both these towns. Rockwood was right in the path of the storm.

The downpour of rain, however, covered a large district which included Brawley, Calipatria, Dixie Land and Seeley. The damage to crops was slight, since the fruit crop has almost all been harvested.

FIRST VIOLENT STORM IN HISTORY OF STATE

The atmospheric disturbance which late yesterday lifted the Imperial Valley town of Rockwood off its foundation was not the only instance of tornado weather in California, according to Col. H. B. Hersey, head of the Weather Bureau, although estimates of the damage done indicate it was the first violent storm of this type in the State.

"The waterspouts seen off Santa Barbara on one or two occasions," he said, "were disturbances of the tornado type. When it invades the land such a spout ceases to be a spout and becomes a tornado.

"Several years ago a light type of tornado struck the west end of Los Angeles, unroofing a house and causing other, but not very serious damage. Of course such storms have been so rare that one almost can say California is a tornadoless State.

"But I am inclined to doubt," Col. Hersey added, "press reports that two tornadoes collided. When two appear at the same time they usually are traveling in the same direction. It is quite possible that eye witnesses were convinced they saw such a collision but I should want to go over the ground myself before accepting the collision version."

FIVE SHOT IN RIOT AT KLAN MEET

Members Fired Upon from Ambush by Foes; Man Hurt in Confusion

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FRAMINGHAM (Mass.) July 10.—At least five men were shot, two seriously, here late tonight in a riot which followed a local Klux Klan meeting.

Alonzo Foley, who was shot through the left temple, is in a dangerous condition at the Framingham Hospital. The wounded men told Dr. C. J. Carr, who lives near the Klan's meeting-place, that they were shot from ambush while standing in the road.

When the first police arrived on the scene, calls were sent out for reinforcements. Members of the constabulary from stations as far as Boston were called out to help quell the disorder which followed the shootings.

The vicinity about the meeting place was choked with automobiles when the police arrived. Roads were filled with Klansmen and spectators collided often as the drivers tried to speed away from the scene.

The first police report said that about fifty Klansmen were returning home when they were set upon by about 100 of the anti-Klan faction.

The riot casualty list also includes ten men, including Klansmen and spectators, who were treated for minor injuries. Nearly all were bruised either with clubs or hurled stones.

Seventy-five men, said to be members of the Klan, were arrested by State troops. Seven were charged with being suspicious persons and being present when a felony had been committed.

All were herded in commandeered automobiles and taken to the Framingham police station, where they were locked up.

The State police, it was said, found two rifles, a shotgun and two belts of ammunition near the Klan meeting-ground.

'MOST HEINOUS CRIME' TOLD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—"The Schwartz murder was one of the most heinous crimes in my experience. After murdering Barbe, Schwartz worked over his victim lying there in the laboratory, disfiguring the body in an attempt to forestall possible identification.

"Aside from the murder committed by striking the victim in the back of the head with a hammer, Schwartz chiseled out his tooth to give a semblance of his own dental work. He punctured the eyeballs to destroy the color. Acid was poured upon the hands to eliminate the possibility of identification by fingerprints.

"All this was done coolly and deliberately.

"It was not the work of a man actuated by revenge. Schwartz did his work carefully after he had murdered his victim, stamping him as a man entirely without compassion."

ONE FATAL MISTAKE

Such was the statement today by Edward O. Heinrich, Berkeley criminologist, whose work as a scientific criminal investigator contributed all clews which led to a solution of one of the most baffling crimes in the history of the State.

"Schwartz made one big mistake," said Heinrich, "when he poured benzol about the laboratory, distributing it over the body and about the room between the benches. He did not wait long enough before setting the fire.

"Benzol fumes are heavy. Schwartz did not wait until they had sufficient time to rise above the level of the benches. If he had, it might have been a different story, for there would undoubtedly have been an explosion which would have wrecked the building.

"As it was, the flames spread from under the locked door where the fire had been set and into the first alleyway of benches. These two benches acted much as a gun barrel in directing the explosive force of the fumes. Schwartz had apparently calculated on the explosion blowing shut the one open door. Instead, with the gun-barrel effect of the benches, it blew the door entirely through the opening.

"Then, when the night watchman entered the room, he broke one of the outside windows with the fire extinguisher when he was attempting to subdue the flames. This point undoubtedly saved his life and also the plant.

"The heavy draft through the laboratory swept the blazing fumes away from the watchman and also kept the flames from cans of acetone which were dangerously near the exploding point. Otherwise, Gonzales would have lost his life and the 'too-perfect crime' would have become a ghastly reality."

SCRAPS TELL TALE

After solving the problem presented by the fire and explosion, Heinrich turned his efforts toward identification of the body. The autopsy had already established that the body was that of a man who had been murdered. Heinrich's problem was to fathom out other facts in connection with the murder and, if possible, gain some clew as to identification.

"In my opinion, Schwartz killed his victim the day of the explosion—some time early in the day," said Heinrich.

Heinrich then turned to identification of the body, working on sweepings from the laboratory—a conglomeration of charred particles left by other investigators concerned in seeking only objective evidence.

"Among the articles unearthed in this manner were a small piece of soap, wrapped in a bread wrapper; small bundle, consisting of ground coffee wrapped in a five-pound sugar sack; a 'housewife,' containing needles, thread, and pins; charred pair of new socks, bits of charred clothing, and three religious pamphlets, one of which later revealed the name of Barbe, Schwartz's victim.

Through these bits of evidence Heinrich reconstructed the victim as he was the day he walked into Schwartz's laboratory.

The religious tracts that he carried, as reflected by the lined passages, indicated that he was heeding the injunction to "go out into the highways and byways and preach the gospel."

INSURANCE VOID

"This far," Heinrich explained, "we had proceeded toward unraveling the mystery when Barber, Placerville undertaker, appeared and simplified the problem by identifying Barbe. All my information, which was uncovered bit by bit, was related to Dist.-Atty. Tinning of Contra Costa county, who was in charge of the investigation.

"The points I have related are only the highlights of the identification. There were many little details which involved an immense amount of work.

"Schwartz's dramatic death, however, provided the concluding chapter of the tragedy. I am glad it is over, though it provided unlimited opportunity for the application of science to solve baffling crimes."

A battle over $165,000 insurance carried by Schwartz, who attempted the "too-perfect crime," then shot himself to death to cheat capture, is in the offing as the closing chapter of the remarkable crime.

Schwartz's widow is beneficiary, but insurance officials said today that in all probability she would never receive a penny of the money. They said that $140,000 of the insurance was voided by a one-year suicide clause, and that Schwartz had allowed a $25,000 policy to lapse. The widow is still prostrated by the revelation that the man she identified as her husband was, instead, his victim. She has so far refused to view her husband's body. Her attorneys say they will take legal steps to claim any insurance due her.

PHILIPPINES AS RUBBER SOURCE

Archipelago Possibilities Emphasized

Commerce Department Makes Report

Survey Conducted in Drive on Higher Prices

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The Philippine Islands give promise of eventually bringing to the American rubber user a part of his crude supply. The Commerce Department in a report today on an exhaustive investigation of the potential value of the Archipelago for crude rubber expressed the opinion that profitable production is possible there.

The report, representing many months of study, held that under favorable conditions an annual maximum output of 70,000 tons could be produced in the islands, in the southern portion of which approximately 1,500,000 acres are suitable for rubber raising.

LABOR AVAILABLE

The lack of political disturbances and the utilization of the present available labor forces in the islands were stressed as factors in reaching this estimate.

The report marks the completion of another stage in the department's world-wide survey of the rubber situation, started eighteen months ago at the instance of Congress and the rubber trades when it became apparent that the legalized restriction of the plantation rubber output in British possessions might menace American consumers. In recent months high rubber prices, feared by the American industry at the outset of the British restriction program, have been realized.

Previous department reports have dealt with the British program as now established in that nation's colonies, while today's report was devoted to a study of the possibility of creating competitive plantation areas in the Philippines. The investigation is being continued to study the advisability of expanding the crude output of South America, Africa and the Caribbean area.

RUBBER PLANTED

In the Philippines the survey disclosed considerable commercial rubber planting now under way with sufficient plantations in cultivation to give a highly favorable hope of the islands becoming a new source for rubber. The Para rubber tree, mainstay of the Asiatic plantations, has shown satisfactory progress in the more southern islands. Soil and botanical experts of the department found that the plant there is less troubled by disease than in the plantations of Malaysia, and that on the islands of Mindanao, Jolo and Basilan, soil conditions are highly satisfactory in areas already charted. Importation of some labor and some modification of Philippine land legislation were recommended to facilitate commercial production.

The 70,000-ton potential Philippine output would compare with an annual import now of 340,000 tons by the United States.

Old Religion in New Dress for Ancient Nation

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—An old religion in modern form will be sent to an old land from a modern country when an Indian edition of the Goodspeed New Testament, which recently attracted widespread attention because of its modern translation, is published by the Christian Literature Society of Madras, through the co-operation of the University of Chicago press.

The project, made public today is the result of continual requests from the Orient for a translation of the New Testament in modern English that can be used by native students, who in trying to puzzle out the language, find the style of the older versions awkward and cumbersome. Plates have been furnished by the University of Chicago Press, and the actual printing will be done in India, perhaps in some little shop off in the mountains.

Seven Hundred Daily Seek New Driving Permit

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 10.—New applications for State automobile-driving permits for which an examination as to mental and physical ability is demanded by the recently enacted State law, are being received at the rate of approximately 700 a day from all parts of the State, according to Will H. Marsh, chief of the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Of this number the bureau has found it necessary to put about one-third to actual tests before granting permits. The new law applies only to new applicants for licenses. No applications have been refused, Marsh stated.

Oklahoma Bankers Indicted on Total of 150 Counts; Judge Punishes Juror in Case

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TULSA (Okla.) Aug. 10.—Two courts and two juries have wrestled unsuccessfully with indictments against the Lewis brothers, involved in the million-dollar case of the Liberty National Bank of Tulsa, but the likelihood of a third trial finds public interest and official activity in the case aroused to an unexampled degree.

Closing scenes in the second trial, conducted at Muskogee, were unparalleled in Oklahoma court annals and found a Federal judge punishing a juror for contempt and calling on the public to condemn the defense counsel, which included three men who were leaders in State political and fraternal circles.

The case is nearly the last to grow out of Oklahoma's deflation period when more than 100 banks closed their doors. It is in the nature of a climax among the criminal proceedings which have sent more than sixty State and national bankers to prison.

The Lewis brothers, A. E. and W. L., have been indicted on more than 150 counts in all, well distributed among the various acts which the law makes offenses against the national banking statutes. Tried on one group of counts at Hugo, before Judge Robert L. Williams, they were the beneficiaries of a hung jury. Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer brought the brothers to trial next at Muskogee, a grand jury in the meantime having returned fresh indictments of nearly fifty additional counts.

Special Assistant Attorney-General Nugent Dodds of Washington conducted the prosecution, assisted by bank examiners. A new array of counsel sat with the Lewises, including R. L. Davidson of Tulsa, Democratic State chairman; George Schwabe, who was speaker of the only Republican House of Representatives ever elected in the State, and Shelley Rogers, asserted cyclops of the Tulsa Ku Klux Klan.

Suspicion of influences at work was voiced by the court early in the Muskogee trial. First, it was found that thirteen members of the special jury panel of forty-five had been drawn from one community. Then on a special panel summoned later when it became difficult to find open-minded men to serve, appeared E. A. Edmondson of Muskogee, a banker himself and an acquaintance of the Lewises. The government attorneys questioned the propriety of permitting Edmondson to sit on the jury, but took his professions of impartiality at their face value.

All the evidence introduced against the Lewises at the Hugo trial was offered again and much that was new. The jury went out and reported at the end of two days that it was hopelessly disagreed.

As the jurors entered the courtroom for what was expected to be the last time, Judge Kennamer said he detected an exchange of smiles and fingered signals between Edmondson and W. L. Lewis. The court immediately cited both men for contempt and sent the jury back to its quarters for the night. When court opened in the morning, Judge Kennamer dismissed the jury from further consideration of the case and called the individual jurors as witnesses in an inquiry he immediately set on foot.

It developed that the jury had stood eleven to one for conviction throughout.

SECURITIES DELEGATES IN LONDON

Conversations on Note to Germany Will Begin Sometime Today

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The French mission which is to endeavor to formulate with Great Britain a reply to Germany's recent note on the question of security, arrived in London tonight from Paris.

Aristide Briand, the French Foreign Minister, heads the mission. The delegation was welcomed at the railway station by Austen Chamberlain, the British Foreign Secretary, and other Foreign Office officials and the French Ambassador, M. De Fleuriau.

Conversations on the note will begin tomorrow at the Foreign Office. Premier Baldwin and his ministers are remaining in town to be in readiness to hold a Cabinet council to discuss and give approval to the draft reply to the German communication. If the conversations are successful it is expected they will lead later to a more formal conference at which representatives of Germany will be presented.

Drive to Erect Monument for Bryan Planned

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Although little more than a week has elapsed since he was laid to rest, friends of William Jennings Bryan are considering the erection of a suitable monument to replace the wooden slab that now marks his grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

The will of the Commoner, probated Saturday, in Miami, made a brief provision for "the use of such sum as my wife and children may deem proper for the purchase of a monument to mark my grave."

That this request, however, will be supplemented by the contributions from his many friends and admirers seems most probable, especially in view of the announcement in Chicago yesterday of the launching of a nation-wide movement to obtain funds for the erection of a memorial.

RED PROPAGANDISTS AT WORK IN BRITISH ARMY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Communist propaganda aiming at the creation of discontent and disloyalty in the ranks of the British army and navy is asserted to have been in progress for some time in several naval centers and garrisons, especially in the Aldershot camp, the principal military center of Southern England. The newspapers which have given currency to the reports state that leaflets advocating subversive doctrines have been posted near camps and barracks and circulated among the soldiers and sailors, but, it is added, only had the effect of arousing indignation among the men.

YUMA MERCHANT DIES UNEXPECTEDLY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Aug. 10.—U. L. Logan, banker and pioneer merchant of the Yuma and Gila valleys, died unexpectedly in Gila Bend today. For years he has been a leading merchant of that community and was head of the First National Bank of Yuma branch there. Logan was about 60 years of age. Hemorrhage of the brain caused his death.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED AS SAN DIEGO MAN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SALEM (Or.) Aug. 10.—The body of a man who, the police say, committed suicide on the bank of the Willamette River here, last Friday, was today identified as a 59-year-old man who had given his name as Jim Sullivan and had roomed at a hotel here for the last three months. The body was found by accident Sunday night. Sullivan was registered at a hotel here as being from San Diego.

Renato Gardini, Italian wrestling [illegible], was removed from his pedestal by Joe Stecher, heavyweight champion of the world, in Lou [illegible]'s mat inaugural at the Olympic Auditorium last night, close to 8000 rabid fans witnessing the fall of the spaghetti swallower. The title-holder accomplished Renato's downfall by winning the first fall of the night, dropping the second, and coming back to take the third without drawing a deep breath. The powerful legs of Mr. Stecher spelled ruin for Gardini.

The show was a great success. [illegible] was tickled at the turnout and through Charlie Keppen announced another bone-crushing program for a week from next Monday. JOE STECHER

FIRST TO STECHER

Renato took the first fall in 27 minutes with his old reliable scissors. The champion had previously been greatly annoyed by a couple of headlocks which Renato applied successfully. While Joe was coming out of the last one Gardini forgot to guard his tummy and the title-holder wrapped his famous mitts about his opponent's midsection to gain the fall easily.

The second fall went to Gardini [illegible] was a sensational one. The champ worked his way up from the bottom, beginning by playing with Joe's pedal extremities, shifting later to his tummy, then grabbing a few arm bars and finally finishing up by clamping on a couple of headlocks that stretched the champion cold on the mat. Renato Gardini, Italian wrestling champion, was removed from his pedestal by Joe Stecher, heavyweight champion of the world, in Lou Thesz's auditorium last night, close to 5000 fans witnessing the fall to Gardini's shellover. The Italian accomplished Renato's downfall by wrenching the first fall of the match, scoring the second, and then failed to take the third without having a long breath. The match was a great success. The arena was filled at the turnout of fans. Charlie Keppen announced another bone-crushing program for a week from next Monday. Lou blossomed forth clad in a black and white checkered vest. KRAMER KAYOES GEORGE CHANEY

Philadelphia Battler Cools Baltimore in Less Than One Minute

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10. Danny Kramer of Philadelphia knocked out George Chaney of Baltimore tonight in forty-nine seconds. Kramer weighed 128 1-2 pounds and Chaney 133 1-2.

Kramer set a fast pace, dropping Chaney with a left to the jaw as the first round opened. The Baltimoran was up at the count of seven and Kramer drove him about the ring with rights and lefts as Chaney reeled along the ropes. Kramer caught him with a terrific hook to the pit of the stomach. He was out for ten minutes.

Huffman Won't Box "Fitz" in San Francisco

Eddie Huffman, former sailor and one of the best heavyweights in this neck of the woods, will not box Young Bob Fitzsimmons in San Francisco September 7. The bout was called off last night.

Fitzsimmons was originally signed for a purse of $7500, much more than he had been receiving in the East. Since the first agreement Bob has changed his mind and wants more dough. Bay City promoters didn't care to meet his excessive demands, so the bout is off.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, today announced the purchase of J. C. (Red) Oldham, left-hand pitcher now with Des Moines in the Western League. ANNUAL YACHT REGATTA OPENS

Light Westerly Airs, Smooth Seas Promised

Will Produce Contenders for Lipton Trophy

Races Today and Tomorrow for Southern Titles

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 10.—Light westerly airs and smooth seas promise tomorrow for the opening races of the fifth annual regatta of the Southern California Yachting Association, for which 100 craft are assembled tonight in Santa Barbara Bay.

The racing crews of the fifty-five sail and power boats entered in the four-day program spent today, designated as "rest day," by laboring from dawn to dark tuning up their fond hopes for the hard grind ahead. Tomorrow's event in the R-class and star-class races are of particular importance in that they will show the dangerous contenders for the Lipton Trophy race, to be held on Wednesday afternoon. Tomorrow's sailing races, as well as those of Thursday and Friday, are for the Southern California championships.

The R-boats as well as the schooners, yawls and ketches, will race over a twelve-mile triangular course off the anchored fleet, comprising a beat to windward, a run and a broad reach home. The stars will make the same start, but will race a six-mile triangular course inside the kelp.

In the power events the 151-inch hydroplanes and Dodge water cars will fight it out over a one-way-and-back course along the beach, offering the fleet a splendid view of some spectacular speed work. The cabin cruisers, express cruisers and fellow-craft cruisers will race over the twelve-mile triangular course.

Ace Wild—Breaks Out Again

No, this is not a four-leaf clover and a soft-shoe Charleston dancer. It is the Ace of Clubs and Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska Wildcat, breaking out again. He battles Lew Paluso Tuesday night at Vernon. The Wildcat appears to be well manicured for the occasion.

Mary Browne Will Captain Yankee Team

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Members of the Davis Cup selection committee, burdened with the task of naming the women's international team for the Wightman Cup matches against the English team at Forest Hills, Friday and Saturday, decided today that two further trial matches will be necessary before the final selection of the team is definitely announced.

Miss Helen Wills of Berkeley, national champion, was officially named No. 1 player with Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory of New York, former national champion, as No. 2. The third member of the singles trio will be withheld until after a test match is held tomorrow at Forest Hills between Miss Mary K. Browne of Los Angeles, Cal., former national champion, and Miss Eleanor Goss of New York, No. 4 player on the national ranking list. The winner will be named the No. 3 member of the team, members of the committee intimated following today's meeting.

The No. 1 team in the doubles will consist of Miss Wills and Miss Browne. The No. 2 team depends upon the outcome of the second trial match with Mrs. May Sutton Bundy of Los Angeles, Cal., a former national champion, and Miss Eleanor Goss playing as a combination against Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup of Wilmington, Del. This contest will be held Wednesday, after which the entire official team will be announced. Miss Browne was named captain of the American team.

The committee also considered the further task of naming the Davis Cup team. The indecisive victory which William M. Johnston scored against Vincent Richards at Forest Hills Saturday, has left the committee in a quandary as to the naming of the second singles player and it was decided to hold another test match between the pair Wednesday afternoon, the outcome to have a decided bearing on the selection of the No. 2 man.

HARVEY TRIMS PARTNER IN FINALS OF SINGLES

Local Pair Win Over L. Williams and Walter Hayes in Straight Sets on Detroit Court

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DETROIT, Aug. 10.—Harvey Snodgrass, Los Angeles, Cal., and Walter Wesbrook, also of Los Angeles, Cal., national clay court doubles champions, further established their supremacy at the Detroit Tennis Club this afternoon by winning the western clay court doubles championship from the Chicago pair, Lucien Williams and Walter T. Hayes, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

It was a day of triumph for Snodgrass, who, prior to the doubles matches, won the western clay-court singles title from his partner, Wesbrook, in a four-set match, 3-6, 8-6, 7-5, 8-6.

The outcome of both finals was never in doubt, the ultimate victor's superiority early becoming apparent. The national doubles champions outdrove and outvolleyed their opponents and their invincibility in clashes at the net gave them the edge over the Chicagoans, who were forced into many errors.

Williams's second service in the first two sets proved the vulnerable point, the Californians both times taking his service to lead, 4-2.

The Chicagoans extended their greatest efforts in the third set and fought an uphill battle from 1-3 to knot the cout at 4-all, but were unable to stave off defeat. Throughout the contest, the play of the Californians that vanquished the Kinsey brothers and the team of William T. Tilden and his protege, Sandy Wiener, in the national clay-court championships, was not to be denied.

For four sets Wesbrook extended his greatest efforts to overcome the wizardry of his doubles partner, Snodgrass, and in only one was he successful, taking the first set. With monotonous regularity Snodgrass, prevented from using his powerful forehand by his opponent's strategy, chopped the ball in a zig-zag course across the courts to win after innumerable exchanges.

Wesbrook was the aggressor through most of the match and played Snodgrass backhand fighting to gain the advantage of the net, but with only mediocre success. Snodgrass passed him down the side lines or met him at the net to engage in a sharp series of volleys, which generally brought Snodgrass points.

Snodgrass's imperturbability reigned throughout the match, and only in three games in the final set did he execute his strokes with characteristic severity. It was apparent that Snodgrass was confident of the outcome.

The Californians take home with them the singles trophy held last year by William T. Tilden, who did not defend his title this year, and the doubles cup won in 1924 by R. E. Schlesinger and Gerald Patterson of Australia.

BRINGS BIG PRICE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SARATOGA SPRINGS, (N. Y.) Aug. 10.—A record sum of $50,500 for a thoroughbred yearling was paid today by James Cox Brady in the purchase at auction of a daughter of Man-O'-War, bred in Virginia by Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, former physician to Woodrow Wilson.

MRS. HENRY VICTOR

Mrs. W. M. Henry of Santa Monica, made a clean sweep of the women's events in the Southern California tennis championships by winning with Mrs. F. H. Whatley, the women's doubles titles. Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Whatley defeated Miss Gladys Patz and Mrs. Percy Wilbourne 6-3, 6-0. Mrs. Henry's well-placed shots drawing her opponents out of position and Mrs. Whatley acing the ball at the net with aggressive volleys. Mrs. Henry won the mixed doubles with Harold Godshall and also captured the women's singles. This is the third successive tournament in which she has won all three women's events, having also swept the decks at La Jolla and Alhambra.

PALUSO IS ACE'S OPPONENT

Leo Flynn's Lightweight Finally Secured for Bout With Nebraskan at Vernon Tonight

BY KAY OWE

Lou Paluso, who grew to be a fighter in Jack Dempsey's back yard in Salt Lake City, will test the claw of the Nebraska wildcat, Ace Hudkins, tonight in the Vernon main event. Taking the place of Phil Salvadore—laid low with an ulcerated jaw bone—Paluso may turn out be to a sugar-coated pill.

While he has never appeared in Los Angeles, Salty Lou has headlined shows in all the big boxing centers of the East.

Paluso boxed Frankie Farren before the Shade-Schoell fracas last week in San Francisco.

While the referee called it a draw, the boys who write the paragraphs for the newspapers, thought Paluso beat Farren by several proverbial miles.

And Leo P. Flynn, who believes Paluso is just around the corner from the lightweight championship, rises to make this caustic remark:

"Naturally, I was pleased with Shade's win over Schoell, but I'm disgusted with only getting a draw for Paluso.

"That kid is the unluckiest fighter I ever stabled in my stables. "Paluso beat Sid Terris in New York just as bad, yet he lost the decision.

"He's a good fighter and his luck

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Johnny Weismuller of the Illinois Athletic Club, Chicago, made a world record in the 100-yard swim here tonight when he covered the distance in 52s., his former record was 52 1-5s., which he made at the Fleishhacker Pool here last June in the National A.A.U. swimming meet. He made his record tonight in the twenty-five-yard pool of the Elks' Club in the dedicatory swimming meet.

Kinseys Cop Tennis Tilts by Default

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SOUTHAMPTON (N. Y.) Aug. 10.—Defaults eliminated several seeded players from the forty-second annual Southampton invitation tennis tournament, which opened today.

George Lott, Jr., the young Chicago star, was a double winner, drawing a default in the first round and then defeating E. M. Jonklaas of the Oxford-Cambridge team, 6-2, 6-6. A. H. Chapin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., and H. L. Bowman of New York also advanced to the third round.

MRS. CARTER STORES CLUBS

Mrs. "Tennessee William" Carter, one of Brentwood's most popular members, after recording wonderful golf progress during the summer, has been seriously ill and will be forced to remain away from the links for at least thirty days. Before her recent illness, Mrs. Carter, who used to be proud of breaking 110, shot an 88—a more than creditable performance over Brentwood.

MISS HARRISON FAILS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CAPE GRIS NEZ (France) Aug. 12.—Miss Lillian Harrison, the English swimmer from the Argentine, who started across the English Channel shortly after noon today, was taken out of the water this evening in an exhausted condition. It was the girl's fourth failure to swim from France to England.

Miss Harrison took off at 12:12 p.m., and was lifted out of the rough waves at 7:17 p.m., after negotiating ten miles. She fainted while being brought aboard the accompanying tugs. After being revived, Miss Harrison said she never again would try to swim the channel.

MRS. HAMMOND ADDS ONE YEAR

Mrs. Harry D. "Percy" Hammond, popular Los Angeles golfer, a member of the runner-up Beverly team, admitted a birthday yesterday, with the result that a score of friends insisted upon gathering at the home of Mrs. A. T. Munn, to autograph Mrs. Hammond's mashie and assist in shining up all of her golfing utensils which will be unlimbered at Del Monte next month.

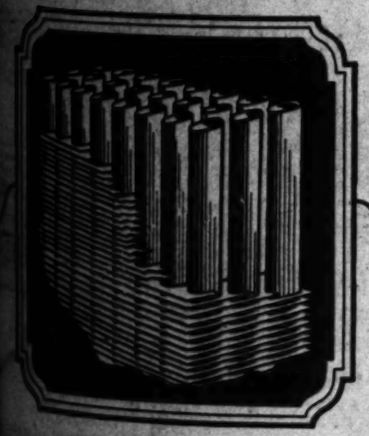
CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 10.—Jim Edwards, southpaw pitcher, has been released by the Cleveland Indians to the Chicago White Sox, who claimed him by waiver.



ANOTHER specimen of Reo "inherent goodness"—the oval-tube radiator.

In this type of construction Reo achieves a radiator that is more efficient in cooling, more easily repaired in case of accident, and far less subject to leakage in the racking usage to which the average truck is subjected.

It is the most rugged type of radiator construction—costs more to manufacture, but less to maintain. This is just one more detail in which the Speed Wagon excels.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—The Giants reduced Pittsburgh's lead in the National League to three and one-half games by winning the first brush of a four-game series today before 25,000 fans, 2 to 1. Jack Scott had the better of a pitching duel with Lee Meadows. He allowed eight hits, but kept them well scattered, doubles by Cuyler and Barnhardt in the sixth giving the home team their only run. The Giants bunched three of their five hits for a run in the first, while Young scored the winning tally in the fourth on an error, an infield out and a wild pitch. RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

LOS ANGELES may be the battleground of the fight for thegrand-daddy championship of the world. George E. Barroughs, known to the fistic game in the nineties as Teddy Glenn, has accepted the challenge of Harry Gilmore.

Gilmore is 71 years of age. Barroughs is 68. Both have the fire of young ideas burning in their bosoms. Both retain enough of the skill of their earlier days to believe they are unbeatable by any one of their age and weight.

His sons are still boxing. Harry, Jr., an old-time friend of the writer's, instructor at Camp Bowie during the war, is now with the Kinnrock Club in Chicago. Tom was boxing instructor at the University of Chicago and is now with the Hamilton Club. Fred was instructor at Camp Logan during the war.

Harry Gilmore's ardor for the boxing game has not diminished with the advance of years. He is a quick, agile man who only recently put on the gloves to box an exhibition in a charity show at Vernon.

His greatest fight was with Jack McAuliffe for the lightweight championship of the world back in 1878. That was when Gilmore got the dent in his nose he carries to the present day, falling forward on his beak after having his head knocked against a brick wall. The scrap was stopped in the twenty-eighth round. McAuliffe winning, although both fighters were in equally bad condition.

Burroughs, or Glenn as he was known, is in Pittsburgh, but has a Los Angeles manager, Irwin Salm, who is itching to get his charge and Gilmore together in a ring.

Glenn did most of his fighting in England. He had over 100 fights, we are informed by Salm.

"In June, 1893," says Salm, "he fought Jerry Marshall, the great Australian negro, for a side bet of $2000 and gate receipts, winner take all, on a barge in Pittsburgh. He lost in six rounds. He fought him again in 1894 and the police stopped the bout in the seventh round.

"This was Teddy's last fight, as he retired from the ring and went into business. He is now a great-grand-daddy and he would like to see the great-grand-daddy who can beat him with gloves or bare knuckles, any number of rounds, or in wrestling, running, jumping or golf. He was born in Lancashire, Eng., in 1858." His oldest child is 43, his youngest 18. He has in all thirty-five children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

"To add to the challenge," Salm concludes, "Glenn's son will box any 138-pounder, his grandson any 118-pounder and his great-grandson any 42-pounder. How is that for a challenge? Teddy Glenn is in great shape for a go and takes on all the young ones who drop into his gym. He is ready to make the trip to Los Angeles from Pittsburgh, Pa., to take the conceit out of that old-timer, Harry Gilmore. Teddy weighs at present 160 pounds in street clothes."

Pat Lester, the young freight truck Spider Kelly has labeled a heavyweight contender, is slowly moving in on Los Angeles. He boxes Capt. Bob Roper at Tucson Labor Day and we have it on good authority that Pat will be with us after that.

By another year Kelly claims Pat will be real championship timber. Other managers claim the same thing for their white hopes, so why not Kelly?

Ralph Smith is still here. Hollywood might match 'em again and see whose candles gleam the brightest.

We are sorry to inform Felix the Fan of Pomona that his ditty on what Phil Salvadore was going to do to Ace Hudkins in the Vernon ring tonight is out of order. Lew Paluso is subbing for Phil—for the better, we hope.

Felix the Fan apparently is a much stronger supporter of Salvadore's than we are. Since Phil's cheesy showing against Pal Moran and his horrible efforts against young Julius Jessick we are glad that something happened to force a change in Doyle's main event.

Paluso has a creditable record, including two very close bouts with Sid Terris, who defeated Hudkins in East Chicago, and figures to give the wildcat a he-man's battle.

MACKS' RALLY BEATS BROWNS

Five Runs in Eighth Bring Philadelphia 6-to-4 Win

Washington Stops Indians in Time to Cop, 3 to 2

Tigers Take 8-to-7 Victory from Red Sox in Tenth

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—The Philadelphia Athletics came from behind in the eighth inning of today's opening clash of the series with the St. Louis Browns to win by a score of 6 to 4. Until the eighth, Joe Bush had allowed but four hits and one run, but in the rallying round six hits and a sacrifice fly netted five runs. Mickey Cochrane's single scored Dykes and Lamar with the tying runs and Al Simmons followed with his nineteenth home run of the season, scoring Cochrane ahead of him.

Singles by Hale and Poole and Miller's sacrifice fly scored the fifth run of the inning. The score:

For a long time critics who have watched the Olympic champion in action have been advising La Barba and his manager, George Blake, that unless he started with his right hand he might as well give up all hopes of being a world's professional title-holder. Yesterday when he began banging his right across with regularity and accuracy there was a general impression among the regulars that Fidel and Blake had been fooling Los Angeles fight fans and there arose a general suspicion that Frankie Genaro would catch quite a few right-hand punches when he tangles with the Blake protege a week from Saturday night.

La Barba took his first gymnasium workout since his return from Wheeler Hot Springs and cuffed Chet Gleason and August Gotto around in good style for six rounds. Shadow boxing and bag-punching made up the balance of his work and he pulled up after a fast ten-round session, wringing wet, but without breathing hard. Both the fighter and Blake are certain that when the bell starts the little fellows after the world's 112-pound championship at Ascot, he will be in the very best possible condition.

Court Action Looms Over Dempsey-Wills Ring Battle

SHOW-DOWN ON ISSUE LIKELY

Jack Kearns in Press Claim as Manager

Fitzsimmons Reaches Gotham With Signature

Legality of Kearns-Dempsey Contract Tested

[SPECIAL DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Is the Dempsey-Wills imbroglio going to be settled into courts? It is to be settled into courts, sooner or later.

Fred Fitzsimmons arrives here tomorrow with a signed statement in which Dempsey, provided Fitzsimmons can also sign Wills, agrees to box Wills for Fitzsimmons for $1,000,000 guarantee.

Jack Kearns is due Wednesday and he informed friends that he will be informed of what Dempsey does regarding the articles, before the latter flees Kearns, before the articles are signed, not Tuesday at the earliest, will sign for Dempsey to box Wills, whether or not Kearns will be the chief remaining to sign.

Dempsey declares he is his own manager and Kearns is not employed to contract for fights for him, however, that as the champion holds Kearns to his contract for 33 1-3 percent it calls for, Kearns declares he, not Dempsey, is the champion's authorized manager and has control on file in the state athletic commission to support Kearns' claim.

Only a few promoters are said to have the huge capital necessary to take the huge risk attendant on a business of the magnitude of the Dempsey-Wills match as there was any doubt or fear of collecting, the natural question is that the legality of the contract between Kearns and Dempsey will have to be threshed out in court.

TUNNEY AFTER WILLS BATTLE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Gene Tunney, New York heavyweight challenger, returned here today from Saratoga Springs, N. Y., to discuss with Promoter Tex Rickard terms for a fight with Harry Wills. Announcement was made that Tunney and his manager, Billy Gibson, would meet Rickard tomorrow.

sey's name to a contract?" piped the silver-haired matchmaker. "Sure he has. I was out there on the Coast when it all happened and I know all about it. Dempsey signed the contract, all right, but in that contract there is a paragraph which provides that unless Mr. Floyd Fitzsimmons lays the sum of $1,000,000 on the line in the shape of cash or a certified check, said contract is null, void and entirely out of order. That will represent Dempsey's end and he'll want it in the bank before he steps into the ring.

"Where is Floyd Fitzsimmons going to get $1,000,000?"

"Looks to me as though Fitzsimmons and Michigan City were trying to do a Shelby, Mont."

De Forest, incidentally, admitted frankly that after meeting Dempsey once and sizing up the situation he did not attempt to do any business with him in connection with a Wills bout.

"Dempsey looked to me like a man who was half out of his head," said Jimmy today. "He kept running around in circles and talking in bunches. He shook hands with me five times without knowing it. You can take it from me, that his real estate investments in California have got him daffy. He's a worried boy. I guess Kearns and Dempsey have parted company so far as their real estate relations are concerned, but I think that the manager will go right on looking after Jack's ring affairs. When I saw them together out there, as I did on numerous occasions, they seemed to be just as good pals as ever.

Rated Himself High

An Irish judge, on detecting a witness kissing his thumb instead of the Bible, exclaimed sternly: "You may think to deceive God, sir, but you can't deceive me."—[Boston Transcript.

O'Brien Backs Legs to Trim Ring Battlers

Not that O'Brien is elusive—or that he's anybody's goat. The fact of the matter is that Tommy, who fights Tommy Cello in the ten-round main bout at Jack Root's Olympic Auditorium tomorrow night, is somewhat of a long-distance stairs climber.

When O'Brien first went to New York seven years ago he shunned onto a job as messenger boy on Wall street.

Soon he became known as the "kid with the long legs." Climbing stairs was second nature to him—he could make the steepest grade in high.

One day a colored lad challenged O'Brien to a stair-climbing contest and permitted Tommy to name the building in which the contest was to be held.

O'Brien, seeing that his dusky challenger was corpulent about the waist, promptly named the Woolworth building.

A crowd witnessed the start. O'Brien's strategy saved the day for him. The colored boy galloped off to a good lead—and then his abundant waistline got in its dirty work.

At the thirty-sixth floor, O'Brien passed his opponent who was lying on his back gasping for breath.

"Those legs of mine have always been my meal ticket," O'Brien says. That's why I'm always as fresh at the end of a bout as I am at the start."

"And I expect to keep on climbing—but this time it's the lightweight throne I'm after and not the top of the Woolworth Building."

O'Brien expects to make short work of Cello Wednesday night. "My legs are so long that few spectators realize that I depend upon them for much of my effectiveness," he says.

"They tell me Cello is some stepper himself. He'll need all the speed he has when I start stepping around him—because if I do say so myself I can do a lot of punching while I'm in motion and that's more than a lot of them can say."

PALUSO FACES ACE HUDKINS

Paluso is an Italian youth of twenty summers. He's the same age as Hudkins.

He has boxed Sid Terris three times. All were said to be fast and furious encounters with neither boy being far ahead of the other.

Paluso stopped Bud Ridley in six rounds. He has won and lost to Eddie (Kid) Wagner. He holds the same relationship with Red Chapman.

He has a left-hand sock—the thing that Los Angeles critics are sure will bother the crowding Hudkins.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams for the Vernon club was unable to bring the much-talked-of encounter between Jack Silver and Hudkins to a head at this time on short notice.

Silver—not pointing toward the match—was, however, willing to take his crack at the Wildcat. But neither Silver's weight of 135 pounds or the financial difference was able to be straightened out.

Hudkins accused Silver of taking run-out powders some weeks ago when a match was brewing. Now the Silver forces claim the shoe is on the other foot.

"I think Silver is one of the best lightweights on the Coast," says Clyde Hudkins.

"We want a little more time to put the Wildcat's claws in scratching order before taking Jack on."

Farren was offered the substitute shot with Hudkins, but was not in condition to take it after his slashing encounter with Paluso last Saturday.

The fact that Paluso is in fine condition adds fire to the boiler that he must have bested Farren badly.

Shade may be in Paluso's corner. The party arrived this morning from San Francisco on the Lark.

Recently Schlocker has shown startling tendencies of being a knockout fighter. He bowled over Tommy O'Brien and Silver in gymnasium workouts several days ago.

The two fours bring together Joe Pimenthal with Phil Mata, and Sailor Carter with Louis Garcia.

Young Stribling's big limousine bus is due to port any time now and he will go into intensive training for his battle a week from tonight with Jimmy Delaney at Vernon.

Delaney is working at Dempsey's gym. The St. Paul fighter has filled out since he last appeared here and borders on the heavyweight division.

Red Herring and Mushy Callahan—the other half of the Stribling-Delaney card—are sizing each other up from rival training camps. Which bout will take the top spot will be determined by a toss of the coin.

Stribling's stock will begin to pick up as soon as his famous Ma and Pa hit town.

end came in 11 minutes and 30 seconds.

Joe wasted no time in finishing up the evening's festivities. In just 6 minutes and 5 seconds he had again twined his million dollar legs about the Italian, to win the third fall, match and what have you.

SHIFTED THINGS

Daro shifted things around a bit and put Stanislaus Zbyszko and Don Andres Castanos on in the opening engagement of the evening. The ancient Pole entered the ring wearing the same checkered bathrobe which adorned his torso thirty years ago when he first came to this country.

The crowd got a big kick out of the Spaniard's efforts to secure a headlock on the Pole's bald dome. Time and again Stanny appeared caught, but the complete absence of any hirsute growth on the top of his head aided him time and again in slipping away. After being greatly weakened by a series of headlocks which Castanos applied with much gusto, Zbyszko worked his way into a flying mare which brought the Spaniard to the mat with a thud that shook the new building. The Don sailed through the air and when he came to earth "Zibby" was perched on top. Castanos gave a few feeble wiggles and then passed away quietly, the match ending in 41 minutes 55 seconds. The old Pole left the ring chuckling to himself, having thoroughly avenged the defeat of his brother Wladek at the hands of Castanos some time ago.

LONDOS WINS

Jim Londos, Greek champion, tossed Jim Browning in 55 minutes 20 seconds with a flock of terrific headlocks and flying mares. Londos, outweighed, bided his time and wore his rival down gradually to win in a sensational finish. Browning was flatter than a dish of restaurant soup when the bout ended and had to be revived by Dr. Mace.

A. B. Dodge, W. L. Wheeler and R. G. Day, three well-known Bohemians of the city, occupied ringside seats. Tom Travers, immaculately clad in pure white, did the refereeing.

GILA KNOCKS OUT CALLAHAN AT NEWSIES'

Montecito Golfers Make Good Scores Over Week-End

Lasky's Paramount Stars Lose in Goldwyn-Mayer Event

BY W. C. WISE

Mrs. Harry Borde and her golfing Brentwoodites are scheduled for a blind bogey sweepstakes tourney Thursday, according to arrangements completed by club officials yesterday.

The Brentwood course is in wonderful condition and members have learned the worth of a clover lie. Several new holes will be opened for play within the next few weeks, and actual work of erecting the new $150,000 clubhouse will start soon. Plans for the beautiful edifice have been accepted and approved, and when completed the new home will be one of the finest in the country.

MONTECITO GOLF CALENDAR

Match play in the junior tournament at Montecito is well under way, and finals are scheduled for the 21st inst. Paul Scott, club professional, has everything moving along in fine shape, and a heavy week-end play is reported regularly.

PARAMOUNT STARS LOSE AT BRENTWOOD

Plans for extensive practice during the next several weeks were made today by the members of the Paramount golf team, who dropped the first interstudio match to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer squad at the Brentwood Country Club last Sunday, 13 to 10. In October the teams will clash again in an effort to determine which will gain the first leg on the handsome perpetual trophy. A win by Paramount would even matters.

Jesse L. Lasky, captain of the Paramount team, started the day by defeating John Gilbert, 3 and 1, but when the total score was compiled the Culver City contingent was found to be ahead. Other results:

Howard Hawks (M.G.M.) defeated Hector Turnbull (P.), 2 up.
Ernest Torrence (P.) and Jack Coogan, Sr. (M.G.M.) were even up.
Rapp, substituting for Conway Tearle (M.G.M.) defeated Kenneth Hawks (P.), 2 and 1.
Edward Mannix (M.G.M.) defeated Hazel Walsh (P.), 3 and 1.
Filbert and Mannix defeated Lasky and Walsh, 1 up.
Torrence and Kenneth Hawks defeated Coogan and Rapp, 2 and 1.

PROFESSIONALS AT HOLLYWOOD

Members of the Southern California Professional Golfers' Association will play in the regular big-gun sweepstakes at Bill Amor's Hollywood Club next Monday. "A bunch of the brothers will be whooping it up," and several local favorites who have been threatening during the past several tourneys are about due—and some good golf should result.

AMATEUR-PRO PLAY OFF AT WILSHIRE

Wilshire officials have called off the amateur-professional tournament scheduled for the close-in club next Sunday. Conflicting dates caused the postponement and the event will be played at a later date.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

Junior singles, second round:

Joseph Smith, St. Louis, defeated Fred Russell, Denver, 8-1, 6-2.
Harris Cuppernell, Des Moines, defeated Scott Steward, San Francisco, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

SOUTHLAND TO HAVE EXHIBITS

Southern California Plans State Fair Display

Los Angeles County to Have Citrus Show

Many Entries in Live-Stock Contests

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 10.—Southern California will have splendid representation at the California State Fair at Sacramento September 8 to 13, next, with Orange, Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino counties making extensive displays of their varied products in the great agricultural pavilion.

Los Angeles county will feature citriculture in an artistic display, augmented by elaborate picturization of its recreational charms, its splendid highways and many other attractions. The exhibit will be framed in a new setting.

Orange county makes its premiere this year, never having exhibited at the State Fair before. Reports from the Southland state the display will be in the nature of a statistical crop production exhibit.

San Bernardino, after an absence of three years from the State Fair, will come back with an independent exhibit, it is believed.

The management of the Riverside county exhibit has not indicated the nature of the display to be made.

Early entries in the live-stock department indicate keen interest on the part of well-known breeders. Among them appear the names of Ferdinand R. Bain of Los Angeles, who will exhibit thirty-five head of Jersey cattle, the herd ranking as among the very finest in the United States.

Mrs. Martha W. Howland of Redlands has entered a large number of goats, mainly Toggenbergs, and Mrs. W. T. Sparks of Riverside will have more than thirty entries in the several sections devoted to goats.

The horse show is attracting the attention of the Southern Californians. Already entries from several have been received. Irving H. Hellman of Beverly Hills has sent in a list of thirty-five entries in the various events and the State Fair management has been advised that other members of the Hellman family will enter their favorites.

R. C. Durant of Los Angeles will show Moon Magic, celebrated winner in the five-gaited saddle horse contingent at many horse shows in the Middle West, and for which he is reputed to have paid $13,000 last year.

Among others forwarding entries to the horse show are Adelaide Wilson, Universal City; Anita M. Ludwig, Van Nuys; R. A. Baker, Saugus; Cecelia Hoyt De Mille, Hollywood; Miss J. Callaghan, Van Nuys; Josephine M. Thomas and Thomas C. Jefferson, both of Beverly Hills.

NEW ARREST IN BANKER'S DEATH MADE

Second Murder Suspect Captured in Sonora Town After Gun Fight

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA, Aug. 10. — Mexican officers of San Luis, Son., near the Colorado River due south of here, captured a second suspect in the Gadsden State Bank robbery and killing of the cashier, S. T. Hobbs, last Thursday afternoon, according to information received here today. One man, Juan Adams, has been held in jail at Mexicali since Friday and was identified yesterday by four Gadsden people as one of the three strangers seen in that village shortly before the hold-up.

The capture at San Luis was accomplished only after a pitched battle. The man, Martines, said to be American-born and a former resident of Yuma, was armed and sleeping on a roof. His capture was effected after several shots had been fired. Nobody was wounded.

It is understood that Adams, first captured, has confessed, and that his confession enabled the authorities to locate his two companions in Thursday's crime. The third man's capture is expected.

Sheriff Chappell of Yuma county yesterday took several witnesses to Mexicali to identify Adams. Postmaster Jack Haynes, Frank Arvizo, Junior Cyperts and others have substantiated the identification of a Mexican officer who saw Adams entering Gadsden Thursday with two companions.

Little Entente Distrust Told by Hungarian

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) Aug. 10.—The Little Entente, made up of Rumania, Czecho-Slovakia and Jugo-Slavia, is maintaining a spirit of distrust in Central Europe, Felix Valyi of Paris, editor of the Revue Politique Internationale, and a Hungarian by birth, said at a round-table conference of the Institute of Politics today.

"There is no such thing as a Hungarian peril," he said. "There is a question of progress or reaction in the Valley of the Danube and the Hungarian people need some time to adapt themselves to new conditions since the war. But the very existence of the Little Entente is a hindrance to a better understanding among the nations of Central Europe. The Little Entente represents new forces of oppression combined to obstruct the way to a solution of international problems by friendly hand. It intends to maintain by military force a state of disequilibrium between races and hinder the free play of economic forces."

Efforts to Delay Electrocution in Nebraska Prove Vain

LINCOLN, (Neb.) Aug. 10.—Unless his attorneys devise some unnounced legal maneuver, or Gov. McMullen intercedes, Walter Ray Simmons will got to the electric chair at the Nebraska State Penitentiary here at 7 o'clock tomorrow.

Three times today attorneys for Simmons sought to show that their client should be given a thirty-day reprieve to allow testimony to prove his innocence to be placed before the State Supreme Court. Twice Gov. McMullen refused to act and once the Supreme Court itself decided not to intercede.

PLAN FIGHT ON RATE INCREASE

Farmers in Middle West Work Through Federation

Say Tariffs Build Up Towns Along River

Over Burden on Agriculture Too Heavy

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LINCOLN (Neb.) Aug. 10.—The farmers of Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri are being mobilized for a fight to prevent the railroads from obtaining the 11 per cent increase in interstate and intrastate rates that they have asked of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the commissions of the three States. The work is being done by the American Farm Bureau Federation through its local organizations, and not since the granger movement of 1887 have the crop producers of this section been so stirred. The requested increase represents at least $30,000,000.

When Congress, in the interest of agriculture, ordered the Interstate Commerce Commission to make a thorough readjustment of the entire system of railroad tariffs, it was the hope of the agricultural leaders that it meant lower rates. The government figures show that agriculture is not on a fair economic basis compared with other lines of industry. When rates were first made they "broke" at the river; that is, the lines from the west made their own rates independent of those to the river, and the sum represented what the farmers west of that line had to pay. As time went on every industry, save that of farming, was organized and obtained concessions, the result of which was to throw an added burden on agriculture.

The working out of these conglomerations of tariffs has been, the federation spokesmen say, to build up the cities and river terminals at the expense of the producers between and beyond and who produce the commodities that support these cities. When deflation came in 1920 the prices of farm crops fell much faster and farther than did the prices of commodities generally. While there have been reductions since then the effect has been to make agriculture contribute more than its fair share to the revenues of the carriers.

The farmers expect and demand that, when the new rates are made, there will be a reduction in those charged for the transportation of what they produce, and if it is necessary that the carriers have additional revenue that it be made up by increasing the rates on those commodities that have been favored by the general price level as compared with the level for crops. They will also demand that the rate structure be so reconstructed that agricultural commodities shall flow with the greatest economy to the nearest consuming market, avoiding congestion and with the least cost of transportation.

BRITISH AROUSED BY WAR GRAVE SHIFTING

FRENCH TOWNS ORDER MOVING OF SIX ENGLISH CEMETERIES

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Grave indignation has been caused throughout England by the action of the French communes, Lavantie and Armentieres, in ordering the removal of six war cemeteries containing the bodies of 3000 British soldiers who fell fighting for France at the beginning of the war, ten years ago. The British government has protested to the French government which replied that it is powerless over the local authority, which bases its order on sanitary reasons.

The British Graves Commission has also been trying to secure a change of the order, but without success, and has only been able to obtain a promise that every effort will be made to preserve the identity of the bodies moved.

The war cemeteries in France are supposed to be maintained in perpetuity, and the announcement is a severe shock to relatives of the fallen soldiers, who have been in the habit of making regular pilgrimages to the graves of their dead.

Bullet, Fired Accidentally, Causes Death

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA, (Aris.) Aug. 10.—Carmen Rivera, 8 years of age, died here this morning from a bullet wound in the chest resulting from the accidental firing of a rifle in the hands of her sister, Guadalupe, 17, Saturday noon. The bullet passed through Guadalupe's hand before entering the younger sister's body.

The girls went to shoot a chicken for the Sunday meal, at their home on a ranch near here. The rifle was prematurely discharged, the bullet leaving it through the shell expulsion port, not through the barrel.

MERCHANT HURT IN DEATH RACE IMPROVES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA, (Aris.) Aug. 10.— Ross Sharpensteen, local business man who was seriously injured when his automobile turned over several times on the highway near Somerton last Thursday afternoon while he was racing to the scene of the Gadsen bank hold-up and murder, is reported showing marked improvement in the Yuma General Hospital. At first little hope was held out for Sharpensteen's recovery.

STOP WORK ON NEW LIBRARY

Pasadena Directors Make Inspection

Officials Says Construction is Faulty

Building Has Been Target of Political Warfare

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Aug. 10. — Charging that the contractor, William C. Crowell, was using defective material in the construction of Pasadena's municipal library building, members of the Board of City Directors today ordered all work on the building stopped. A check for $44,000 payable to the contractor and due today, was withheld.

Today's action of the City Directors, which was received with great surprise in all sections of Pasadena, resulted from a personal investigation by the board members, it is said. The Board of Directors visited the library building in a body and found great pockets from which rocks could be pulled and the steel beams out of alignment, according to F. B. Cole, chairman of the board.

"I have been watching the progress on the library ever since work was first started and when the walls were stripped I discovered these rock pockets. I believe that this is an indication of poor construction," said Mr. Cole today. "Steel beams were found out of alignment and we have determined that work shall cease until further investigation is made."

Although Mr. Crowell, the contractor, and Myron Hunt, the architect, were both out of the city, the order to stop work was served on George Taylor, the contractor's manager. The order, however, was not observed by the workmen who continued to pour cement.

"In doing this they are resting on their own responsibility because if the walls are condemned, today's work must be removed along with the rest of it," said Mr. Cole when informed of the workmen's actions.

Mr. Taylor, who is in active charge of the construction, declared that thorough tests were given all steel and cement work in the building. The tests, he said, were made by Raymond G. Osborne, a chemist of high standing.

Today's order to stop work on the library comes as a climax to a chaotic situation in Pasadena politics. Months ago the action to award the contract for the building of the library was fought. Then an injunction suit was filed in court to restrain the contractor from building. This failed. Since then the library and Civic Center have been the target of many writers and prominent citizens.

Mr. Crowell is perhaps the best-known contractor in Pasadena. He has built some of the largest buildings in the city and at present is completing the First Baptist Church and the new Y.M.C.A.

The disputed question will be discussed at a meeting of the City Directors and representatives from both the contractor and the architect.

Tulare County Cotton Growers on Junket Trip

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, Aug. 10.—More than one hundred cotton men from all sections of Tulare county formed a caravan which, this morning, went to Shafter, Kern county, to inspect the United States Experiment Station there conducted by W. B. Camp and to receive first-hand information concerning culture of cotton in the San Joaquin Valley. This expedition was arranged by Farm Adviser C. M. Conner and the Tulare county farm bureau. A number of Chamber of Commerce officials from the various localities were also in the party.

Cotton in Tulare county is declared most promising and leads new planting in this section this year. The Herbert Hoover ranch is also to be visited in the expedition.

CROSSING ACCIDENT MIXES CITY'S WASH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Aug. 10.—A number of Hanford's citizens were minus their clean linen this morning, and all because Charley Chong, local laundryman, attempted to beat an incoming passenger train of the Southern Pacific to the crossing at Sixth and Harris streets, about 8:35 p.m. The wagon was wrecked, the wash hopelessly mixed, and Chong pitched some distance and somewhat cut and battered. He had no bones broken and declined to be taken to the hospital.

The train had been slowed down at the approach to the depot, or the Chinaman would probably have suffered more serious injuries.

STUDY WATER SUPPLY

Private Citizens Conduct Survey of Conditions Affecting Three Counties

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 10.—An independent survey of the Santa Ana River, by prominent private citizens interested in water conservation, for the purpose of educating the public to needs and possibilities of the situation and with the incidental object of placing Francis E. Cuttle, at the head of whatever work is undertaken, is well under way, it was learned today.

A party of seventeen conservationists, including Horace C. Head of Santa Ana; H. B. Hale, William Birkenstock, John Tuffree and J. W. Newell of Placentia, and others, have traversed the territory from Santa Ana Canyon to Riverside as the initial step toward gathering data for their campaign.

The party followed the water course and adjacent grounds, studying water sources, and was met at Riverside by Mr. Cuttle, who conducted them over the territory in and about Riverside, explaining salient features of the water shed that controls the water supply of three counties, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino. This watershed, it is said, is larger in area than the watershed of Los Angeles county.

J. W. Newell, a leader in the movement, today commented upon plans of the group interested. The survey is in no way connected with the co-operative survey just financed by the three counties and the State, he said.

"Most of us are members of the tricounties reforestation committee, who have been interested in this work for some time and have noted the serious lowering of water levels," said Newell.

"We realise that something must be done to protect the future of this territory and our chief purpose is to educate the general public to the necessity it is facing. Those of all professions and in every walk of life must be made to realise that their own personal future here is linked up inevitably to the future water supply for irrigation, for industry and for domestic use.

"We know that our officials understand the need and are ready to act. It is our purpose to make the entire citizenship understand." Newell declared that it was likewise the aim of his group to have Cuttle placed in charge of whatever development program the three counties eventually undertake.

Cuttle, who is chairman of the tricounties reforestation committee, and has led that organization's activities for many years, is the logical selection for the place, Newell believes. "He is a practical conservationist and knows this territory, its problems and its water sheds better than any other man. He has been devoting himself unselfishly to it for thirty years," said Newell.

GOVERNOR LAUDS NEW PORT HEAD

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 10.—Gov. Richardson expressed himself today as complimented by the action of the Los Angeles Harbor Board in offering the position of harbor manager to Charles H. Spear, managing commissioner of the State Harbor at San Francisco. Spear arrived in Long Beach yesterday from San Francisco and had an extended conference with the Governor.

After the conference, Gov. Richardson said:

"The Los Angeles Harbor Board has paid me a great compliment and has also complimented State Harbor Commissioner Charles H. Spear by offering him the management of the Los Angeles Harbor at $12,000 a year.

"The State pays $5,000 for his present position. I appointed him early in 1923 to manage the State harbor at San Francisco. I had known him intimately for many years and drafted him for the place because I knew his worth.

"He has made a record which has attracted the attention of the whole country. He has put the State harbor on an efficient and economical basis and while saving thousands of dollars has made the greatest improvement ever made in the history of the harbor. Commissioner Spear's splendid success at San Francisco will be repeated at Los Angeles. While I regret to lose such an able and efficient man I rejoice in his promotion and congratulate the people of Los Angeles in obtaining his services."

Commissioner Spear will resign on September 1st.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, Aug. 10.—With the death of Juan Sernes Saucedo, 62 years of age, prominent Mexican business man of this city, after a spectacular crash between his auto and a Pacific Electric train, which occurred at the Mills-avenue crossing late yesterday, is revealed the fact that the man has maintained two wives, one in Claremont and one in La Verne, for some time.

Details of this marital complication were revealed today when both widows of the dead man sought to secure a place in the funeral arrangements.

In the crash Saucedo was hurled more than sixty feet from the wreckage, his head and left arm were nearly severed from his body and his right leg was cut off below the knee. Witnesses state that he drove his automobile into the second car of the train apparently unaware of the presence of the train, which was in charge of Motorman J. L. Campbell and Conductor P. W. Hayes.

The nature of the accident and, it is expected, information concerning the two households, will be aired Tuesday morning at 9:30 at a Coroner's inquest to be conducted in the morgue of Todd & Reeves here, where the body was taken.

Tentative funeral arrangements have been made, setting the time for Wednesday morning. Services are to be read in Todd & Reeves's chapel in La Verne, with burial in the Holy Cross Cemetery, Pomona.

TWELVE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 10. — Twelve Mexican fruit pickers, including men, women and children, were injured this morning about 8 o'clock when a light five-passenger car in which they were traveling to Visalia skidded and turned over several times, as the group were speeding on the Los Angeles highway near Union avenue.

Of the entire twelve passengers in the overloaded car, Felix Ramos, aged 50, was the only one seriously hurt. Attendants at the County Hospital report that Ramos has a badly injured back, which may confine him to the hospital for some time.

Lankershim to Ask Again for Mail Delivery

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Aug. 10.—Petitions are being circulated for the paving, with concrete, of Morrison Drive and Bakman avenue. This completes the paving program for streets in the Lankershim townsite, as all thoroughfares are under petition for paving and the laying of sidewalks, where needed.

The entire program completed will place Lankershim in position to make another demand on the National Postoffice Department for free mail delivery here, such as has been granted, and which will go into effect at Van Nuys on October 1.

The Postoffice Department at Washington, D. C., has requested Postmaster Osborne to make a new statement of conditions in the local postoffice, including new equipment needed and additional forces desired to keep abreast of the growing service here.

Postmaster Osborne's report will set forth the extent of the congestion in the service in this district, and will urge that the only means of remedying the situation will be through free deliveries by local carrier routes.

ALHAMBRA POLICEMAN GOES ON 'POSSUM HUNT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 10.—The perils of being a policeman were emphasized late last night when Officer Chism, patrolling his beat on Main street, was confronted by a huge opossum. The animal seemed inclined to dispute the policeman's progress on the sidewalk, but finally capitulated and the officer brought his captive to the station. This morning the officer took his prize home, after ordering some sweet potatoes.

FAVOR BOND ISSUE

Campaign at Santa Monica Being Made to Pass Half-Million Proposition

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 10.—The need of voting the $515,000 bond issue, $395,000 for an adequate sewage system and $120,000 as this city's share of the university bonds, is being impressed upon Santa Monicans by Commander Eb B. Conliss and his co-workers. The election is to be held Friday. The sewage bonds include the laying of mains through this city into Venice, and connect with the Los Angeles outfall at Hyperion.

In Venice an issue amounting to $1,185,000 will be voted upon the same day. All with the exception of $50,000 which is that city's share of the university bonds is asked for public improvements including a more ample fire and police protection, subways under the Pacific Electric tracks near the Venice High School and the establishment of a civic center.

Workers, who have favored the bonds in this city and Venice, state that much enthusiasm is being shown and report that the bonds have an exceptional chance of being carried by a big majority.

AMBITIOUS CITY EXTENDS LIMITS

Fresno Plans to Annex New Territory

Would Add 25,000 Persons to Population

Commission Seeks to Double Its Area

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Aug. 10.—Plans have been inaugurated by three members of the Fresno City Commission, it was announced today, for an annexation election by which it is proposed to virtually double the area of the city, add approximately 25,000 population, add 4500 homes and increase the assessed valuation several million dollars.

The proposed plan contemplates annexation of territory on all sides of the city, including the town of Calwa, three miles south of Fresno and including virtually all the thickly populated area for about a mile from the present city boundaries in every direction.

The commissioners propose, if possible, to hold the election on October 6, in connection with a special bond election, but delay in filing of the petitions or difficulty over reconciliation with the special bond election precincts with those necessitate a delay of a few weeks, it was announced by the city attorney.

The Public Works Department and the Department of Public Safety and Welfare are preparing data to show the increased cost of government that will be entailed by the proposed annexation, and pending completion of these estimates, Mayor Al Sunderland, Commissioner of Public Works, A. M. Jensen, and Legislative Commissioner George F. Sharp are working on other details necessary to the election, they announced.

Children From Masonic Home Enjoy Outing

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BALBOA, Aug. 10. — Thirteen new buildings comprised of eight dormitories, dining hall, recreation center, hospital, two laundries and matron's quarters and covering the greater part of a city block, forms the summer camp of the State Masonic Orphan's Home on the northwestern end of Balboa Island. The buildings were completed within the last four months. The property is owned by the Grand Masonic Lodge of California and is under the direction of Most Worshipful Grand Master Reese. The building fund was subscribed by the local lodges in conjunction with the Eastern Star throughout the State.

One hundred and sixty-five children came down from the State home at Covina, July 6, and will remain until September. Of the one hundred and sixty-five youngsters ranging from four to eighteen years of age, ninety are girls and sixty-five, boys. There are five matrons this year who, together with E. W. Anderson, house father, care for the children and take them on hikes and fishing trips. The Masonic order occasionally sends professional entertainers down from Los Angeles and Hollywood.

All of the children are taught to swim and of the present number all but four enjoy the bay which is within a stone's throw of the camp.

"The children are sent to the grade schools at Covina and to the high school at Santa Ana," says Mrs. G. E. Keck, matron in charge in the absence of Mrs. Maude E. Miller, superintendent. "Seventy-five percent of the orphans who desire a college education, receive it and are cared for by the Grand lodge." Two girls from the home are now attending the University of California."

STOLE A PEAR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Aug. 10.—Marcus C. Brown, 29 years of age, of 328 East State street, charged with the theft of one pear from a cannery at State street and Campus avenue, is to be tried for petty larceny before a jury of six men Friday, it was announced this evening following his plea of not guilty when arraigned today in Judge Holbrook's court.

Brown was arrested on complaint of A. H. Woodruff, a watchman in the employee of the cannery, who asserted that Brown helped himself to a pear from a pile of boxes stacked on the platform of the canning plant, and that when he remonstrated Brown used abusive language and refused to return the fruit to the box. He is at liberty under $10 bail.

Several speakers and an orchestra from one of the valley churches took part in the ceremony. Many members of the new church aided in the construction by giving their labor as carpenters, masons and plumbers. The Rev. Bob Shuler of Los Angeles made the dedicatory address.

LIGHTNING DAMAGE

Freak Electrical Storm Does Damage to Property in Kern County

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 10.—Telephonic connections were cut off, the water plant of the Stockdale Country Club was destroyed by fire caused by lightning, innumerable transformers were burned out in the Bakersfield electric-lighting plants of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation, and other damage was done by a freak electrical storm which struck this section. Eighteen hundreds of an inch of rain fell.

Today's storm was the second to be recorded during the month of August in the history of Kern county, according to records of the Kern County Land Company, and is the first rainfall recorded for the rain season of 1925-26. The first recording of an August precipitation was made by land company officials on August 19, 1916, the amount being .25 of an inch.

Lightning struck Noah W. Miers at his home in the Virginia colony, south of Bakersfield, during the storm. Miers had suffered from paralysis on his left side for several months, but after the lightning struck, the paralysis had entirely left, according to Dr S. C. Long, who treated the man for a burn under the left arm and left thigh.

Mr. Miers is 65 years of age, but tonight says he feels as vigorous as he ever did aside from the slight discomfort of his burns.

YACHT IN NEAR SEA DISASTER

Craft on Way to Regatta Forced to Put Back to Port After Accident

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BALBOA, Aug. 10.—A near sea disaster of the cruiser Malabar, forced a party of excursionists to abandon cruising to Santa Barbara, where the Pacific Coast regatta is being held this week.

The ship, owned by Clarence White, returned to the harbor last night with the rudder shaft seriously sprung. Water was seeping through the break as fast as the pumps were able to force it out. Twice the Malabar had attempted the trip but had been forced back by the faulty rudder shaft. On the first return repairs were made and the party again left only to be threatened at sea by a more serious leak.

Joe A. Beek, vice-commodore of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club, was at the wheel as skipper of the Malabar for the trip. The ship is owned by Clarence White. White was aboard with his family and some friends. At the first attempt to make the cruise the party went only a few miles to sea. When they put out the second time they were able to navigate as far as Huntington Beach before being forced to return.

Poison Kills Before Doctors Could Give Aid

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Aug. 10.—James Leoni, naturalized Italian, employed in a creamery here, died this morning from poisoning, after he had rushed into a drug store for medical aid. Whether he was the victim of bootleg liquor, or whether he took poison with suicidal intent is a matter which Coroner B. E. Lemons is investigating. An autopsy will be performed in an effort to determine the nature of the poison.

Leoni, said by those who knew him, to have been a frequenter of Mexicali and a heavy drinker, was seen late last night by the night watchman at the creamery where he was employed. He appeared to be intoxicated, it is said. This morning, when he came to the Valley Drug Company store, he was unable to talk, his neck and face being swollen. He was rushed to the offices of Dr. Phillip Hodgkins where he died almost immediately. He is survived by an uncle, John Massarini, living west of this city, and two brothers, said to be living in the northern part of California.

MOUNTAIN FIRES

Elements Start and Stop Blazes in Forest

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 10.—The elements started and extinguished two fires in the Santa Barbara Forest this morning. The first fire was started by lightning at 10:30 o'clock this morning, two and one-half miles northwest of Figueroa Mountain, and at noon another bolt of lightning ignited dry grass on Laguna Rancho, a few miles distant.

After burning furiously over several hundred acres, Ranger J. K. Libeu of Los Olivos reported that a heavy rain had started and was bringing the fires under control. This afternoon the Santa Barbara office reported that the blazes had been completely extinguished.

Santa Barbara was visited by a light rainfall, accompanied by lightning and thunder, at noon today, but aside from the two fires no damage was reported.

FISHING NEVER BETTER

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 10.—Fishing was never better off Santa Monica shores, according to reports of old-timers and amateur fishermen, who are making daily catches. Bonita, halibut, bass, herring and mackerel are exceptionally plentiful, they state. One man reports a catch of 125 mackerel in two days from one of the boats which puts out from the Santa Monica municipal pier.

CITY FOLK BUY FRUIT IN VALLEY

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ZELZAH, Aug. 10. — That San Fernando Valley is the back yard fruit and vegetable garden of Los Angeles, again was demonstrated yesterday in the thousands of Sunday city autoists out in the valley making purchases from the hundreds of fruit and vegetable stands in front of ranches along the various highways.

Scores of these curb stands are in the Zelzah district, along Reseda avenue, between here and Reseda, and along West Sherman Way toward Owensmouth and Chatsworth.

The home curb markets are now full of canteloupes, local watermelons, sweet corn, peaches, plums, squash, cucumbers and tomatoes, and almost in every instance where city dwellers made purchases, autos were filled up with sufficient supplies to last for a week.

The Zelzah fields are especially stocked with extra-quality canteloupes and tons of this fine fruit, it is estimated, were carried back to Los Angeles. In the central part of San Fernando Valley this year, the freestone peach crop is also extra good, some of the larger varieties being as big as teacups.

It is estimated that as many as 1000 lugs of these peaches were carted off by various motorists, including tourists passing through the valley on their way to the metropolis for the first time.

Scores of autos were noted laden with sweet corn, watermelons and other fruits and vegetables.

Accused Man Prefers Death to Court Trial

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Aug. 10.—Death defeated the law here today when Phillip Tremper, 27 years of age, of Sanger, rather than face charges of assault with a deadly weapon and failure to stop and render aid after an accident, killed himself near Sanger with a borrowed shotgun.

He was to have appeared before City Justice Earle J. Church today for preliminary hearing on the charges. A few hours before he was scheduled to appear motorists found his body huddled beside his automobile in a roadside ditch. In the dust on the side of the car Tremper had written his farewell message: "Good by, all," other than which there was no message nor was any definite motive other than that of fear of facing the courts assigned for the act.

Tremper was arrested by Fresno police last Monday night following an automobile accident in which his car, in which Mrs. Gertrude Early of Fowler was riding with him, was overturned after crashing into that of C. G. Madsen of Fresno, badly injuring four persons.

When Mrs. William A. Bigby volunteered to take Tremper and Mrs. Early to the Emergency Hospital, Tremper is accused of having drawn a pistol and ordered her to take them to Fowler. She refused, forced them to leave her car and then notified the police and they were arrested as they were about to leave Fresno in a taxicab. He was at liberty on bail when he killed himself today with a shotgun borrowed from the ranch of L. F. Ward near Sanger.

IMMODEST MEN

Wearers of Abbreviated Bathing Suits Pay Fines

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BALBOA, Aug. 10.—Four arrests on charges of wearing incorrect bathing suits were listed over the week-end in the court of City Recorder Andrew Wilson. The arrests are the first in the campaign recently inaugurated by the police here. All the cases brought into court so far have involved men. Denzil Claypool of Santa Ana was taken heavily to task for wearing a torn bathing suit. He was required to give up his suit and pay a fine of $5 in addition.

Another case was that of A. W. McCull of Los Angeles. He was forced to hand over his abbreviated bathing suit. Two other violators were cited into court and were able to satisfy the law by giving assurance that their suits would be made correct.

TO REGULATE DANCES

District Attorney Calls Attention to Delinquencies

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HANFORD, Aug. 10.—In view of increasing complaints coming to his office of intoxication of youths at various dances held in Kings county and of other delinquencies, Dist.-Atty. W. R. McKay has addressed a communication to Sheriff J. W. Hime, recommending more drastic regulation of all resorts and public dance places in the county.

Attention is called to the provision of the ordinance regulating the licensing of dances and requiring that there be at least two persons provided to police the premises, one to pay strict attention to the conduct of persons in the dance hall and the other to act as a guard of all vehicles adjacent to the place of the dance.

The District Attorney calls special attention to the duty of such officers to see to the elimination of all evidence of drunkenness and rowdyism.

INSPECTIONS WORRY SERVICE STATION MAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 10.—H. A. Adrian, owner of a service station at the corner of Milpas and Monecito streets on the State highway, today brought suit for injunction against the city government and H. L. Miller, electrical inspector, to prevent further inspection of his premises.

This is the first suit filed here as a result of the earthquake. At the last meeting of the Council, Adrian accused the city inspectors of exceeding their authority and asserted that twenty-four inspections of his property had been made. The plaintiff in the suit is a wealthy property owner and former Chautauqua lecturer.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

In the cars at the time of the boys' apprehension police found canned goods, fishing tackle and camping equipment, also stolen property, the boys admitted. They also confessed to having taken more than twenty automobiles since May. Those arrested gave their names as Lawrence Thomas, Robert Nestor, Byron Cooper, Gene Martindale and Gerald McCoy. They were bound for a three-day camping trip to Elizabeth Lake they told police. The two cars in their possession were stolen from a Santa Monica beach parking station.

Camarillo Ranchers Ready to Harvest Bean Crop

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, Aug. 10. — Daily Brothers, well-known Camarillo ranchers, will be the first to start cutting lima beans in Southern California this year. These two young ranchers were the first to plant limas in Ventura county this year and will be first in cutting. They expect to be first to thresh and hope to be the first to place beans in the new warehouse which is being completed at Camarillo.

Beans planted on dry land will be the first to be cut, about 200 acres. Limas on irrigated ground are still green, but are setting and are loaded with pods. A good crop is expected, although not normal. Daily Brothers farm is about 1500 acres, including considerable acreage in the San Fernando Valley. With the exception of 200 acres, all of this land is under cultivation. Some 300 acres are planted to walnuts, beans having been planted between the rows.

FIND TRACE OF MISSING MAN

Pomona Resident Victim of Lost Memory

Telegraphs Wife from Florida

Information Ends Wide Search

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, Aug. 10.—The mysterious disappearance of [illegible] Ahern, for thirteen years foreman of the Southern Pacific Railroad in this district, who has been missing from his home in this city since June 6, was cleared today, when Mrs. Ahern received a telegram from her husband in Miami, Fla., stating that he had just regained his senses after a lapse of memory and was ready to account for his presence in the Florida city and that he was returning immediately to his home in Pomona.

This announcement ends a nation-wide search in which police officers and members of the Knights of Columbus in the United States have been engaged for the past six weeks.

Ahern, with $300 in his pocket, left Pomona on the morning of June 6 for his ranch at Ontario, leaving his car in a garage there and telling the proprietor that he would return for it in a short time. It was later found that he had bought a ticket for Galveston, had left the train at Houston, Tex., and it was here that the trail ended until today, when it was apparently regained his memory and telegraphed his wife. That he never planned such a trip is proved by the fact that he left his annual railroad passes in his car at his home here which would have carried him any place in the United States free of charge.

Mrs. Ahern was overjoyed when she received the information today and is making plans to meet her husband in Miami to surroundings upon his return home until he has completely recovered.

Long Beach to Place Ban on Girl Parade

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 10.—Long Beach has had its day in the sun. It's bathing-beauty parade will not fade fair for a time to run for mayor against brother and husband, against wife, is over, and it will be the last.

This much was apparent today when Councilman John Lee, leader of the defeated anti-parade faction, served notice in the Council that he will have prepared an ordinance prohibiting such displays of feminine beauty in Long Beach hereafter. The city Council, although one of its members sanctioned the grand array of fancy bathing suits and bare legs, will vote for such an ordinance, was believed when it voted today to instruct the City Attorney to prepare the anti-bathing-parade ordinance and have it as soon as possible.

This city's liberal stance, which organized six weeks ago by the so-called "domination of the Beach by the churches" in preparing to oppose the parade when it is presented to the Council, it was announced today.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 10.—Two annexation elections are scheduled to be held in territory adjoining this city tomorrow, one in the Fruitland district, north of here, and the other in the Vista tract, east of here. While the elections will be of interest to the people of this city, the vote in the Fruitland district, so far, will receive the most attention.

In this territory is included a strip which was voted into the city of Vernon the early part of this strip lying along Fruitland street. A writ of review was recently filed in Superior Court, Department Twenty-five, asking that the judge of this court review the proceedings of the annexation election in which this strip became a part of the city of Vernon. The city of Vernon's election held in June, is declared legal by the judge, then the election held today will be invalid, even if the people of that territory vote favorably on annexation to Huntington Park. If, however, the territory is annexed into the city of Huntington Park it will show that the majority was unfavorable to the annexation on the part of their territory. The writ of review is set for hearing the 20th inst.

As to the Wilson territory, it is thought this will vote in favor of annexation to the city of Huntington Park, with many votes to spare.

HOPI CEREMONY DATE TENTATIVE

Dance Set for 19th Inst. but May be Changed

Early Rains Are Responsible for Uncertainty

Ban on White Women Clad in Bloomers Denied

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Aug. 10.—Thus far the best information available is that the Hopi Snake Dance will be held the 19th inst., at Walpi, on the first mesa. This date may be changed, as it is set arbitrarily by Harry Supla, chief of the Snake clan, who is said this year to have been moved by the arrival of early rains, for the dance is an invocation for the rain that usually so sorely is needed to mature the Indian corn, beans and squash.

The ceremonials of the dance period extend over a period of nine days, though not in the same village. There will be a second snake dance a few days later at a point other than Walpi, where less embarrassment will be known through the presence of the whites.

QUESTION SETTLED

A weighty question that concerned the visitors appears now settled. A rumor had come from the villages that the Hopi women considered scandalous the breeches many usually worn by visiting white women and had protested to the tribal heads. From the chief of the Snake priesthood has come denial that any tribal or clan action has been taken in the matter.

Writing through a nephew, Harry Youkti, the chief, sends a message that the white women will be welcome, "regardless of the clothes, for our Hopi women have respect for the white ladies, whether they come out in their silks or not. This is a free country, so we Hopi people do not think it is our business to tell our white friends what kind of clothes to wear. The women who may have held this council have nothing to do with the Indians' ceremony and have no right, in any way, to interfere with their dances."

CHIEF'S APPEAL

Something of an admonition to the visitors is added by Chief Supla, who asks consideration of the snake dance as his "most sacred ceremonial dance" and the only way in which he prays for rain, good crops and for the betterment of his redskin brothers. "We have many dances in our custom, though it may be funny to some of you white folks, but we have been taught from childhood to observe and respect our religious dances, therefore we do not bar anyone from coming out to see this snake dance, no matter what style of clothing he or she wears."

YANKEES ABROAD SEEK VOTE

United States Citizens Forced to Pay Income Tax, Yet Denied Right of Suffrage

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10.—The American Chamber of Commerce here has initiated a movement, which, if carried out successfully, will be far-reaching as affecting American citizens living abroad. It aims to obtain for these Americans the right to vote at elections in the United States even though they may not at the time be actual residents at their domicile in the United States.

It is estimated by the board of directors of the chamber that there are 150,000 Americans eligible to vote residing in foreign countries, enough to decide a State and possibly a national election. Most of them pay income tax to the United States and have legal residence in some State of the Union, but at present none of them may vote. The chamber dealing with the matter takes as a precedent the fact that during the World War soldiers in France were allowed to vote and it was shown that it was entirely practical for the States to organize a system by which their citizens abroad could vote. The figure of 150,000 was compiled by the local chamber after inquiries had been made of all American Chambers of Commerce abroad and other sources familiar with the number of Americans resident in the various countries outside the United States.

The plan is now in the hands of a special committee which is considering the feasibility of the idea with a view of presenting it to the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington, they in turn to sound out all member chambers located in foreign countries in order that a united front be presented to all the State legislative bodies when the actual move is made. It would then be necessary for each of the States to take, separate legislative action on the proposal.

It is believed that if the State or States agree to the plan, their citizens resident outside the United States would cast their votes at the diplomatic or consular office in the respective entity which in turn would forward the certified vote to the proper State authority.

As regards the seven-year fight which the local chamber has conducted to secure cancellation of the income tax on American citizens abroad, with the death of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, the chamber is planning to reopen the case which was suspended when in May, 1924, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that Congress "had the power to impose an income tax upon Americans living and doing business in foreign countries."

In so far as the local situation of the American business man is concerned, the chamber admits that since the Mexican government now collects an income tax, which may be deducted from the tax paid by Americans to the United States, the practical interest in the matter is less than it was when the chamber resolved several years ago to test the law; but the local opinion of Americans is that the tax in principle is wrong, and that it imposes a handicap on American business to the exact amount that the American pays and his competitor does not pay.

SERUMS OF YOUTH SEEN AS HARMFUL

Iowa Scientists Assert Speeding Up of Body Will Shorten Life

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

IOWA CITY (Ia.) Aug. 10.—Doubt has been expressed by University of Iowa scientists of the value of youth-giving serums that have been reported in the process of development in Germany.

Iowa professors have pointed out that devices for making people act as though they had regained youth are already known here, but that all such tricks have proved almost suicidal in their effect when tried upon animals. Little confidence is expressed that Dr. Steinach's serums are not merely a means of so speeding up a declining life that death comes sooner than would otherwise be the case.

Doctors and biologists here point out that chemical injections similar in action to the juices from ductless glands will cause a man's body to live faster—increase the heart action, stimulate the glands, speed up the building and destruction of muscle tissue.

This, they declare, makes the body more active, makes the mind more alert, inclines toward a happy outlook on life and in general mocks all those things that have been associated with youth. The "youth" is short-lived, however, for the increased action wears out the mechanism that had been protected in old age by slow action and when the devices have been tried on guinea pigs or other experimental subjects, death has followed surely upon the sipping of the fountain of Ponce de Leon as surely as though the potion had been hemlock.

Business Men to Hire More Prospectors

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BOULDER (Colo.) Aug. 10.—Firm in the conviction there is gold in the Caribou, Magnolia, Sunshine and other mining districts west of Boulder, the Boulder Grubstake Association has authorized the employment of two additional prospectors.

The association was formed this summer by Boulder business men to finance the prospecting for ore in the region west of Boulder and to revive the mining industry in the county. A strike of gold ore was made on the north slope of the Magnolia hill by W. Giggey, one of the prospectors. It assays high.

Seven prospectors now are working in the mountains under the direction of the association, and several strikes have been reported.

Three of the miners are reported to have taken enough ore from the claims to pay their own expenses. Between ten and fifteen prospectors will be kept in the mountains next summer by the association.

TUCSON HAS TORRENTIAL DOWNPOUR

Lightning Bolts Kick Up Sand in Arizona Desert; Railroad Bridges Out

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Aug. 10.—Tucson has been favored with torrential downpours that have filled the city arroyo and the Santa Cruz River channel on several occasions during the past fortnight. The last storm was decidedly electrical. The way in which lightning struck in the desert beyond the city outskirts was unusual, one observer tells how bolt after bolt threw sand high in the air as it struck the plain. Much benefit has been known from the downpours on the cattle ranges around the city.

At Bisbee a recent storm was heaviest to the eastward, the concrete road to Douglas being covered in places by debris brought down by the desert washes.

South of Douglas the Nacozari railroad again is reported out of service with the sweeping away of fifteen short bridges, including a number that had just been repaired after an earlier storm. The railroad's main freight is ore and concentrates for the Copper Queen smelter at Douglas.

The apron of the Gillespie dam, a temporary part of the highway from Phoenix to Yuma, again is under water, though automobiles are crossing. At Ray Junction the Gila River raised about four feet, but the flow largely is absorbed in the broad and dry river bed below.

The supply is of large value to the cotton farmers in the irrigated Gila Bend district, supplied from the Gillespie Dam. At Globe and Miami two heavy storms have been known within ten days, but with apparently little run-off into Roosevelt Lake.

SHOT BELOW HEART; RECOVERY EXPECTED

MEXICAN ARMY OFFICER IN HOSPITAL; ASSERTED ASSAILANT HELD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NOGALES (Ariz.) Aug. 10.—With a bullet in his body below the heart, in addition to a flesh wound in an arm, Dr. Jose Castro, a Mexican army officer, now in the hospital here, is expected to recover. His wounds, it is asserted, were inflicted by Faustino H. Gonzalez of this city, now confined on the Mexican side of the line. The shooting is laid to jealousy.

Asserting that Castro reached for a pistol, Gonzalez is said to admit the shooting, stating: "I told Castro to keep away from my home. I'm not sorry for what I did."

Despite his wounds, Castro closed with his assailant, whom he was striking vigorously when the couple were separated. Then Castro walked to the office of a surgeon on the American side of the line.

NEW PUBLISHES POSTAL FIGURES

Deficit for Past Fiscal Year Totals $37,149,000

Department Aiming to Become Self-Supporting

Rate Rise Effective Too Late to Meet Pay Increase

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — A cash deficit of $37,149,000 for the fiscal year of 1925, which closed last June, 30, was announced today by the Postoffice Department after a preliminary compilation of receipts and expenditures made at the request of Postmaster-General New.

The department ordinarily returns a deficit, but officials have been trying for several years to effect economies which would make the postal service self-supporting.

Preliminary figures for the year, which are subject to some readjustments, place estimated receipts at $600,600,000 and obligations and expenditures at $649,271,000, leaving an operating deficit of $48,771,000, from which is deducted $11,622,000 for outstanding liabilities and for civil service retirement transfer.

"The amount of the deficit for the fiscal year of 1925," the statement by the department said, "is attributed, not entirely, but to a great extent, to the postal pay bill, which, enacted this spring, was made retroactive to January 1 so that the department has been paying increased salaries to its army of some 360,000 employees for the last six months of the fiscal year. On the other hand, the increase in postage rates established to meet the raises in salaries did not become effective until April 15, and was in operation only two and a half months of the fiscal year."

MEXICO TO SCRUTINIZE PASSPORTS

Calles Government Will Curb Alien Influx With Immigration Bars

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Aug. 10. Mexico will no longer offer a haven of refuge for alien desiring to enter the United States by the way of the Rio Grande River, according to information received by Consul Servado Barrera Guerra who was instructed by his government to exert extreme care in issuing passports to foreigners.

Because of undue and undesirable activities of aliens in Mexico, the Calles government has decided to put up some immigration bars of its own and lessen the tide of foreigners sweeping into the country.

Accordingly, all foreigners who desire to enter the southern republic must first obtain passports from their own consuls, and then take them to the Mexican consuls to have them vised. Extreme care in ascertaining the status of the applicant will be exerted by the Mexican consul before the passports are vised.

Charges for vissinf the passports will be the same as those made to Mexicans in foreign countries The new provision does not apply to citizens of the United States, as they can continue to enter Mexico without passports.

All foreigners who obtain passport and are permitted to enter the country must carry satisfactory documents proving they are married if accompanied by a woman.

'OPEN DOOR' PARDONS OF SMALL HIT

Illinois Manufacturers Map Plans for Campaign Against Policy

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Plans for an investigation and a State-wide campaign to arouse public opinion against Gov. Small's "open-door" policy of pardoning criminals" were outlined today by officials of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association.

The program is tentative, pending action of the association's board of directors at a meeting called by President Charles Piez for next Friday noon to consider the Governor's "pardon policy."

It is probable, however, that mass meetings will be conducted in many cities of the State, at which facts and statistics on pardons at Springfield will be made public. The plans also include statements to the press and correspondence with business men.

The immediate occasion for the association's proposed action was the recent pardoning by Gov. Small of Theodore J. Vind, former president of the South Chicago Trades and Labor Council, and five associates, who were convicted of taking $1000 to settle a strike during labor troubles of 1921 and 1922.

"The investigation and campaign which we propose is aimed primarily at the pardon scandals and most particularly at pardons of union-labor criminals," Mr. Piez said. "But we hope that our action will point, at least indirectly, to the cause for many other miscarriages of justice."

SUN PLAYS HAVOC WITH EUROPEANS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Unusual sun spots are playing havoc with the climate of Europe this summer, puzzling astronomers and making weather predictions almost impossible. There have been in France three short hot spells, the great heat being followed by cold, rainy weather. Similar uneven weather has been experienced over the whole continent.

Each warm spell has been coincident with a blazing sun spot, the remarkable feature of which has been the shortness of its duration. In Southeastern Europe the heat developed has been so great that in some parts of Southern Poland, Rumania and Bulgaria crops have been burned up within a day, while immediately after the passage of the sun spot cold, rainy weather set in.

—One French astronomer, when asked for an explanation, cautiously replied:

"There is something very unusual happening in the sun. We never before have seen sun spots of such power last such a short time."

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Aug. 10.—An old situation has been placed before the State Tax Commission by the Arizona Commercial Mining Company, which asks relief from the payment of taxes assessed against it on a strip of ground that is inlitigation with the adjoining Iron Cap Copper Company. While neither corporation will surrender claim to the ground, neither wishes to pay taxes upon it.

SHIPPING FLEET TO BE ENLARGED

American-German Line Will Augment Service

Five New Vessels Building or Being Drafted

Other Companies Reported as Planning Increase

Construction of five new motorships are reported either in process of building or in the drafting room to augment the Pacific Coast-European service shared jointly by the United American Lines and the three German lines, Kosmos, Hamburg-American and the Roland.

Some of the vessels are said to be nearing completion in foreign yards. They are believed to be on lines similar to the motorships Iris and Osiris of the Kosmos Line, which have been callers here for several years.

The joint services now operates eight vessels between Northern Europe and the Pacific Coast. Whether they all will be retained as the run or replaced, when the new internal combustion vessels are put in commission it is not known, although the services have enjoyed a rapid increase in cargo offerings which may justify use of all the craft.

The new motorships will be equipped with large refrigeration spaces and facilities to accommodate the rapidly increasing fresh fruit and perishable trade between this Coast and Europe, and also will have liberal accommodations for passenger travel.

In addition to the above, there has been added recently the new steamer Raimond, recently completed abroad, and now en route on her first trip to these shores.

NUMEROUS OTHERS PLANNING ADDITION

Reports are numerous of other lines also planning to augment their services with more ships, including the California and Eastern Steamship Company, the Mexican States Steamship Company and the Oceanic Steamship Company.

The one steamer, West Katan, now in intercoastal operation for the California and Eastern Line, will be increased to ten within a year, according to A. P. Hammond, general manager, and Frank B. Robinson, financial agent at Los Angeles. They expect to get their second ship in Portland this month and put her in operation by October.

Additions to the Mexican States Line will be in the form of shallow-draft vessels, according to word from San Francisco, following the departure of Capt. James Irvine, vice-president and general manager, for Seattle and New Orleans to hunt the new tonnage. The vessels will be of the 2000-ton type and of shallow draft to serve the small ports on the West Coast of Mexico.

Expansion of the Oceanic Line is admitted in an official notice by that company, following the employment of Hugh Gallagher of the Admiral Line as operating manager of the Oceanic. M. F. Cropley of the same line as freight-traffic manager and Herbert N. Thomas of the Dollar Line as passenger-traffic manager. The line operates three vessels on the Pacific out of San Francisco. One rumor has it the Oceanic Line will put a bidder in for the Shipping Board line of freighters operating between California and the Far East for Struthers & Barry.

ADDITION TO HARBOR BERTH SPACE PLANNED

By altering plans for a triangular area in the inner harbor and substituting therefor slips which would provide for nine additional berths, the outer harbor lines can be extended 1,000 feet, an estimate by Pleasant S. Nicholson, harbor engineer, announced yesterday.

The new plan, Nicholson believes, will be readily approved by the War Department and Maj.-Gen. Harry Taylor, chief of the Army Board of Engineers, favors the plan which would provide room for nearly 50 per cent increase in berthage.

The area in the east basin, for which plans are being prepared, is now dredged to depths two or three feet above the water line. The proposed change in the pier head lines will not affect the channel. Movement of vessels in that section, it is pointed out, can be made quickly if the War Department will sanction the alterations.

Instead of providing for twenty-five slips, as originally planned, the new project would care for thirty-four vessels of ordinary length, 600 to 660 feet. The slip now occupied by the Consolidated Lumber Company, under the new plans, would be widened 400 feet, and the pier widened 50 feet in order to allow trackage to be built to the extreme end. The channel would be 750 feet wide.

The improvement, which will be made as opened orders, Nicholson pointed out, will improve 14,000 feet of frontage for the harbor department, at an approximately 4000 feet for the Union Pacific Railroad.

En route to Los Angeles Harbor to load for first cargo of crude oil for the newly organized American Tanker Corporation, the tanker Phoenix was forced to put into Balboa, Canal Zone, yesterday on account of engine trouble, according to reports reaching here last night.

The Phoenix was the first tanker purchased by the new company and was making her first trip to the Pacific Coast for her new owners. The nature of trouble in the engine was not known by local shipping men.

The Phoenix was purchased several weeks ago from the Shipping Board and will be used in the intercoastal oil trade. The Pan American Petroleum Company is local agent.

Possibility that all rail package in the Los Angeles Harbor district will be milled, but yesterday's meeting of the board of harbor commissioners last night following discussion of the two contradictory plans advocated by the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railroads.

The joint switching system, which would consolidate the Union Pacific, Pacific Electric, Southern Pacific and harbor department properties and switching was favored yesterday by shippers as it offered a logical solution to the problem with the least amount of expense, it is pointed out.

The switching system, according to those who have studied the three plans, would meet with government approval, it is said, and would make the possibility of securing Federal aid for construction of harbor projects, and would consolidate the terminal facilities of the harbor.

The belt line project favored by the Harbor Board would necessitate the purchase of much property now controlled by three companies in order to have an entirely municipal railway which would equitably distribute and handle all freight destined to or over Los Angeles Harbor Department wharves.

The joint switching system would give the various roads to the harbor an opportunity to gather freight from any portion of the port without being penalized by too heavy or discriminating rates.

With machinery and the huge pumps expected here next week, A. T. Mitchell, general superintendent of the Los Angeles Shipyard and Drydock Corporation, announced yesterday that the new $214,000 fire boat being constructed for the harbor district fire units, will be launched on September 19 and put in commission about October 1.

The hull and superstructure of the vessel is three-fourths completed now, it is pointed out. Construction of the vessel has proceeded at an unusually rapid pace, Battalion Chief J. C. Daly, senior officer in charge of the harbor district, stated yesterday.

No name for the craft, as yet, has been selected. Officers today said that they feared the new fire craft, which will be the fastest fire boat in the world and one of the most fully equipped ships of its kind afloat, will end up with bearing a female moniker. The fire boat now in commission first bore the name of Archie J. Rice, in honor of the former Fire Chief, but now is known as City of Los Angeles Fire Boat No. 1.

The steamer M. J. Scanlon, recently bought on the Atlantic Coast by the Hammond Lumber Company and reported in the intercoastal lumber trade, has been renamed the Missoula. She is repairing at Newport News, where she will return to the Pacific to join in the coastwise lumber trade, as perhaps the largest lumber carrier in each service with a capacity of 4,000,000 board feet. The Hammond company also operates half a dozen other vessels operating with capacities ranging from 1,500,000 to 2,500,000 feet.

Capt. W. Frye is a changed man since last he visited here, his doctors said in the early days of the week, when he fell ill with his wife on his way boarding his ship, the British tanker San Fernando of the Eagle Oil Transport fleet. The skipper, all right, is vacationing and literally, Floridians pointed this up, but when he got back home in London, his weight made him 215 pounds again, with silver-plated hair and other mostly appurtenances. Yesterday he was in port again, in command of the tanker San Fernando just a year after his crash, and "ready for another," he added.

Glowing accounts of business prosperity throughout the East, and predictions of progressively greater passenger travel during 1925 which would create needs for High Speed McKenzie, general passenger manager for the Dollar Steamship Company, of which he had just returned from a swing around the business centers of the East. He was here to meet the liner President Hayes, on her first New York to Los Angeles trip around the world with passengers and freight. He reported good cargo generally over the East, where people were talking California everywhere. McKenzie said the Santa Barbara earthquake hasn't frightened tourists, to newspapers in the East have exaggerated the truth, and that their stories ranked with other stories for worse. He left by motor yesterday to visit the scene of the quake.

The full-rigged ship Indiana recently bought by Capt. R. Ja Mills left San Francisco Sunday for Seattle, and will be delivered to Frank Waterhouse here in a day or so. She was converted at the southern port into a stripped ship for the voyage, and will be delivered to Frank Lloyd for use here in the filming of "The Splendid Road," featuring San Francisco in the early days of the gold rush. Mills sold the freight the old ship Dakosia, which still is at San Francisco.

COURT UPHOLDS PEDDLER'S RIGHT

Federal Body Finds Oregon Statute Void

Itinerant Vender Seems to Lead Charmed Life

Dutch Composer Once Set Christ to Music

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The peddler continues to lead a charmed life. Despite the numerous and diverse means by which municipal legislatures have sought to prevent him from plying his trade he manages to worry on somehow or other and may call at your door any morning with interesting bits of bric-a-brac. He usually upholds the law, although apartment-house janitors and hotel managers have finally hotels forbid him to get into your premises. The latest argument against peddlers is that they solicit subscriptions for good books, open claims against manufacturers, or anything else you may conceive of.

The latest case in which the law touching the house-to-house vender figured was brought in Portland, Or., by Jacob Pinkus, who paid at ordinance requiring the aforementioned vender to pay a license fee, such fee to be $12.50 per quarter for a one-horse vehicle, $25 for a two-horse vehicle, and $26 for a vehicle with more than two horses. It was contended by Paul Revere and Thomas Likeville under the ordinance they had to file a bond, which they refused to do, and were in consequence fined $100 and condemned to serve six months in the penal farm for delivery of goods.

ORDINANCE TESTED

Shortly after the passage of this ordinance a Middle-Western firm employing a house-to-house salesman by means of reaching the peddler filed a bill in the United States District Court for Oregon seeking the ordinance and asking for an injunction to restrain the enforcement of the ordinance was refused. It relied restraint on the ground that the ordinance was repugnant to Article 1, Section 8 of the Federal Constitution. The trial court upheld the constitutionality of the ordinance and refused to grant a motion to dismiss the bill. The case in question finally found its way to the United States Supreme Court, where the decision of the inferior tribunal was reversed and the appeal upheld.

Immediately from various people arose the clamor that communities were not receiving fair treatment because the Supreme Court decision prevented levying what they called a legitimate sales tax on itinerant venders. Hence, according to the complainants, the citizens of the community were being defrauded of revenue which was rightfully theirs. It was declared that the Supreme Court's decision precluded the passage of any effective legislation to cope with the so-called peddler nuisance.

But Supreme Court Decision No. 417 might have been expected. It is but another instance illustrating that the itinerant vender—the peddler—leads a charmed life. It has been so in all time, for, no matter what he sought to sell, nor what measures were taken to prevent his selling it, he usually succeeded in gaining his objective.

PEDDLING IN MUSIC

Who is there who has not heard the cry of the junk man, the song of the man with tinware clanging on his wagon, the chant of the fruit vender? Who is there who has not heard the strident music of the handorgan and watched the antics of the monkey or listened to the bark of the side-show man? And who is there who has not smiled and been interested? Peddlers, all of them, shrewd and sagacious. One French composer, struck with the thematic qualities of their chants, successfully worked the songs of peddlers into an operatic opus which took Paris by storm!

They have led charmed lives. They have been despised and ridiculed, but at the same time admired for their ability to succeed under adversity. They are a world class. They are the chimney sweeps of European romance, the river venders on the Ganges, the sage street peddlers of Bagdad and Cairo, the water carriers of Granada, the street guides of Paris, the venders of New York's lower East Side, the house-to-house salesman of the many American cities.

Supreme Court Decision No. 417 might have been expected. It seems that the peddler was born to triumph as well as peddle.

PROFESSOR YEAR AHEAD OF TIME

Travels 12,000 Miles to Meeting Scheduled for 1926

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Aug. 10.—A university professor from Australia traveled 12,000 miles to attend the Empire Universities Congress at London only to find that he is a year ahead of time, the congress not opening until the summer of 1926. He will have to return to Australia—another 12,000 miles—and make the trip next year. A typist's error in the year of the congress caused the misunderstanding.

INCAN WALL FITTING ENGINEERING WONDER

The construction of the ancient walls of the Incas are one of the wonders of the world. Some of the stones weigh several tons and are of intense hardness yet they are so finely fitted together that a knife blade cannot be slipped between them. Great massive walls were built and have stood for centuries, and yet no cement of any character was made, the stones being held together by reason of the manner of their joining and the accuracy with which their surfaces fit together. The stones are of odd shapes, many of them locking together.—[Exchange.

ESSAYISTS TOLD OF DREAM CITY

Los Angeles So Described by Mexican Paper

Special Edition Devoted to Constitutional Contest

Sights Students Will See on Visit Here Pictured

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10.—A special edition dedicated to the student constitutional government essay contest has been published by the newspaper El Universal, which is collaborating with the Los Angeles Times in carrying out the contest in Mexico.

The special edition carries a full page of pictures of Los Angeles under the caption of "Los Angeles—the City of Dreams." The winners of the essay contest, in which students in every section of the republic have enrolled, will be given a trip to Los Angeles.

The contest is described at length in the special edition. It will reach its greatest triumph, the paper says, when the victorious Mexican students arrive in Los Angeles in September to participate in the Mexican Week celebration there.

The article continues to say that no more appropriate city than Los Angeles could have been chosen for entertaining the victorious Mexican students, and that the visit of the students will help materially to strengthen the tie of good will between the nations and to enhance further the spirit of commercial and intellectual friendliness existing between them.

"Los Angeles still retains some of the influence of the Latin culture and its beauties are often a reflection of the old Latin civilization," the article states.

The article also speaks of the Saxon pioneers who blazed a trail of civilization on California's virgin soil through a land once under the domain of the Spanish grandees and replaced ancient cities by modern, up-to-date, flourishing communities where once there was but barren soil.

The winners of the contest, according to the article, will be received with open arms by Los Angeles, as the best elements in both the United States and Mexico have rallied to make the contest a success.

CAMERON'S CLAIM CASE POSTPONED

Senator's Grand Canyon Platinum Holdings to be Passed on in October

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Aug. 10.—Directed by a telegram from Secretary of the Interior Work, Register L. L. Ferrall of the Phoenix Land Office has postponed until October 12 a case of several years' standing against Senator Ralph H. Cameron of Arizona and a number of associates. The action, originally set for hearing today, refers to twenty-eight placer claims located by Cameron in the Black Granite Gorge of the Grand Canyon, said to be valuable in platinum. Location was made before the creation of the Grand Canyon National Park, and hence the governments contests the claims along Bright Angel Trail and many more in the Black and Boulder Canyon reservoir sites. The Federal government is attacking the upper placer locations on the ground that expert sampling has failed to find any platinum and that the ground is not valuable for mineral contents.

DRUG SQUAD HEAD JAILED WITH AIDES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Col. Will Gray Beach, for the last four years head of the National Narcotic Division in Northern Illinois, and three of his most trusted assistants were suspended and placed under arrest tonight on charges of bartering drugs for the loot of bandit gangs.

At the same time agents of the special intelligence unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, reinforced by more than 100 police from the detective bureau, raided more than a score of opium joints in Chinatown and other parts of the South Side.

Those arrested with Beach are Dennis J. O'Brien, Alonzo Baxter and Harry Dietrich.

Elmer J. Irey, chief of the special intelligence unit, who came here from Washington to superintend the investigation of charges that the narcotic division and the underworld were in a vast combine to exploit both addicts and thieves, declared that readily salable goods, identified as stolen and worth thousands of dollars, had been found in the apartments of Beach and O'Brien. Beach resides at the Atlantic Hotel.

Bears at Park Held Victims of Poisoning

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW BEDFORD (Mass.) Aug. 10.—Members of the inspectors' department of New Bedford are investigating the poisoning of two bears at the park menagerie. An autopsy performed by Dr. H. H. Dews upon a 2-year-old female bear showed evidence of poison.

The symptoms displayed by the bear before it died were the same as those exhibited by the year-old male that died last week. The park authorities are certain because of similarity of symptoms that the first bear also was poisoned.

Phoenix Transit Line Purchase Offer Reported

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Aug. 10.—City Manager L. B. Hitchcock states that he is holding a proposal made for purchase and operation of the city's transport lines, this for consideration by the City Commission when its members again are in town. Only one commissioner now is available for a meeting.

The bid is from the Buchanan & Layng Corporation of New York, which has had representatives in Phoenix for the past fortnight, investigating local conditions and the status of the Sherman street-car franchise and of the car lines which the city has contracted to purchase at salvage value of the material.

RISE IN COPPER PRICE HEALTHY

Slow Gain Lessens Liability for Usual Drop

Advance Laid to Increase in Foreign Demand

Coal Strike Likelihood Only Disturbing Factor

There has been nothing spectacular regarding the recent rise in the price of copper but it has been a slow and consistent advance, the market remaining strong and the demand good. The past week has seen another 1-4-cent advance and the price now stands at 14 1-4. This type of advance is healthy as it lessens the liability of the usual reaction following a rise in price.

The healthy advance in price has been due to the additional demand for the metal that is coming from the European countries and has not been due to any exceptional demands from the United States consumers. For a considerable time now, the United States has consumed about the same amount of metal each month. When it is considered that industrial conditions in general in the United States have been on the decline, copper has done well to hold its place for it constitutes a relative demand.

GERMANY BEST BUYER

However, the European countries, and particularly Germany, have been leaping forward in their demand for the metals. In the half-year just ended exports of copper from this country amounted to 324,154 tons. This is an increase of 43,896 tons, or almost 18 per cent, over the 276,378 tons exported in the first half of 1924. Measured against the first six months of 1923, when exports totaled 189,944 tons, the increase is 139,340 tons, or practically 75 per cent.

Thus in the six months ended June 30, last, the United States exported at the annual rate of pretty close to 650,000 tons. In 1924 total exports were 566,395 tons. We are today shipping overseas more copper than ever before in our history, not excluding the big war year of 1917 when nearly 500,000 tons went out of our ports.

ENGLAND FOLLOWS

Germany continues to take the biggest production of American copper. She took 177,090,000 pounds in the six months to June 30, last, or 27.31 per cent of our total movement. England came next with 127,804,000 pounds, or 19.71 per cent of the total. France's proportion was 91,734,000 pounds, or 14.15 per cent, followed by Italy and Holland.

	Tons	% of total
Germany	88,545	27.31
England	63,909	19.71
France	45,867	14.15
Italy	40,259	12.44
Holland	29,177	11.16
Others	49,567	15.33
Total	324,154	100.00

Germany is today taking more American copper than before the war. In 1913, the last normal year, she took 143,575 tons. She ran ahead of this rate in the first six months of this year.

FLY IN OINTMENT

Over three times the amount of copper has been shipped into Germany to date this year over the same period of last year and the United States producers have gotten the bulk of the increase.

The present coal situation and the likelihood of a strike is disturbing the copper situation somewhat. This coal situation is both in England and the United States and it is natural to expect a slowing up of buying until this crisis is passed. The effect, however, cannot be very great as the American producers are reported to be well sold ahead on copper by the recent transactions. Thus the prospective coal strike might slow up further advances, but it is not likely to cause any weakening of the price.

With such a huge foreign movement of metal and with our own consumption breaking all records, it is indeed a wonder that copper prices have not advanced further notwithstanding our refineries are pouring out the greatest stream of copper in the history of the industry.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

BY WIRELESS—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

Copyright 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Financial markets were quiet today the only feature being an advance in courtaulds to 125s.

Business in most departments of the stock market was checked by the approach of the fortnightly settlements. Investment securities were in fairly good demand, however, although some attention was given to international developments, the situation being clouded by events in Morocco with their unpleasant Moslem possibilities.

Rates on Paris started weak, while sterling held steady.

Philip Snowden, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, in an article in the Daily News on the British debt to the United States, discusses the impracticability of converting our external into an internal obligation, and then concludes: "There seems to be no way of lightening the burden of the American debt except by convincing the American people that this debt is unjust to Great Britain and of no real advantage to America."

This perpetual disposition on the part of statesmen to dodge backward cuts no ice here and is generally regretted. Nor, except among semisocialists, does the argument about debtors being justified in repudiating a part of their debts because of appreciation of currency weigh at all seriously.

UNION OIL BEHIND OTHERS

BY EARLE E. CROWE

With California Petroleum safely launched on its new career as an 8 per cent stock, the speculators will not rest until Union Oil takes the same important step. Of all the major California oil companies, Union Oil is the only one outside of the 8 per cent class, and naturally, the oil traders will worry and puzzle until the directors do something to relieve the tension. The stock market seems to assume that relief is forthcoming, but when it will come is the question that remains unanswered.

As to Union Oil's ability to pay $2 a year on the capital stock of $25 par value, there is little doubt in the minds of those familiar with the company's earnings, but it is also well known that the management is conservative in its financial policies. When the Dillon, Read & Co. interests stepped into the organization and placed four men on the directorate, the supposition in the market was that a more liberal dividend policy was in sight, but several months have passed and the stock is still paying $1.80 annually, just short of the $2 mark.

STANDS ALONE

Arrayed against Union Oil is a formidable list of companies paying 8 per cent on the capital stock. The list includes Standard Oil, General Petroleum, Associated Oil and California Petroleum. Pacific Oil is paying $3 on stock of no value, and United Oil is paying the same amount on stock of $25 par value.

To explain the hesitancy of the Union Oil directors in increasing the dividend rate to conform to that paid by the majority of the company's competitors, the answer advanced from one well-informed source is the size of expenditures for new drilling. It is pointed out that the company's intensive campaign for new production, while successful in most respects, is costing nearly twice as much as was paid out last year. The income account for the first half of 1925 shows expenditures for labor and incidental cost of new drilling of $2,550,000, against $1,800,000 for the same period in 1924.

More specifically, it is suggested that Union Oil's drilling campaign is concentrated particularly on the development of its Colorado holdings. While officers of the company are not offering rosy-colored predictions, it is understood that high hopes are entertained for the successful development of the Colorado lands. The company realizes that much of the drilling is in wildcat territory, but the results obtained thus far are encouraging enough to impel the expenditure of a large amount of money and to warrant the maintenance of twelve drilling crews in the State.

PROOF AWAITED

Until the structures are definitely outlined by producing wells, and the value of the properties actually determined, the opinion is that Union Oil will not consider higher dividends. If results do measure up to expectations, however, perhaps the directors will feel that their judgment has been corroborated to an extent sufficient to justify a greater reward to stockholders. At least, that is the view held in some quarters.

In the Colorado properties Union Oil undoubtedly has possibilities of considerable magnitude. Although Colorado was the second State in which oil was produced, the Union Oil Company was the first to drill on a large scale and the first to open up new structures. The Wellington dome was discovered by the company in 1923, when a large gasser was brought in, which immediately attracted wide attention to the Colorado oil fields and greatly enhanced the value of the 10,000 acres obtained by Union Oil on three structures.

NEW WELLS EXPECTED

The company now has four producing wells in Colorado, two each on the Wellington and Fort Collins structures, flowing about 1700 barrels daily. The Douglas Lake structure was recently abandoned and operations of the twelve drilling crews confined to the first two areas. Three of the wells now drilling are expected on production soon, and probably the results from these wells will determine largely the extent of future operations.

Production in Colorado has not yet reached the point where the company feels that a refinery is justified, and the production is now contracted to an independent refining company. An absorption plant, however, is under course of construction for the purpose of extracting gasoline from the huge gas supply flowing from some of the wells. If developments are satisfactory it is understood that a second absorption plant will be built.

Outside of the possibilities of a large crude-oil production from its Colorado lands, the Union Oil has another important asset that may materially affect earnings some time in the future. Approximately 20,000 acres of shale oil lands are owned by the company in Colorado, an acreage second only to that of the naval reserve. More than $1,000,000 was expended by the company in 1920 in studying the situation before the lands were purchased. What these lands may yield to the company some day is gathered from a recent statement made by Chester W. Brown, director of explorations and production. He quoted an eastern expert, who estimated that the shale lands of Northwestern Colorado have a future value of $1,000,000,000,000.

Issue of Spring Water Bonds is Offered Today

An issue of $400,000 Arrowhead Springs Corporation first mortgage 6½ percent bonds will be offered today by the First Securities Company, Dean Witter & Co., and the Angelo London Paris Company, at par to yield 6.50 percent. The bonds mature serially July 1, 1928 to 1940 and are exempt from personal property tax in California and are subject to certification as legal investment for California savings banks.

Arrowhead Springs Corporation is engaged in the distribution of Arrowhead spring water and the manufacture and sale of Arrowhead ginger ale and other well-known beverages. The corporation's bottling plant, the largest on the Pacific Coast, is located in Los Angeles. This plant has a daily bottling capacity of 75,000 gallons of spring water and 76,800 bottles of beverages. The corporation also owns and operates the Arrowhead Hot Springs property including the hotel, bungalows, hot springs and the 1806 acres of land at Arrowhead Springs, Cal.

The bonds will be secured by a direct first mortgage on the Los Angeles bottling plant, fixtures and equipment, and the entire Arrowhead Springs property. These properties have been appraised as of June 15, 1925 at a present value of $1,209,600, or more than three times the amount of the present bond issue.

Good Business Seen in Retail Jewelry Lines

Although the retail jewelry business in Southern California during the first six months of this year was reported at 5 per cent below the corresponding period of last year, indications are that fall and winter business will carry the average for the year to a level of last year, or possibly better. Retail jewelry business in 1924 was better than in 1923.

Although the general jewelry business in the first six months was slightly below normal, it is interesting to note that there was an unusual sale of large diamond stones. At the present, watches, silverware and clocks are leading in point of sales, according to an executive of one of the leading wholesale jewelry firms on the Coast.

In anticipation of a good fall and holiday trade, retailers are beginning to buy actively. The credit situation is much improved over last year, indicating that the retailers have been liquidating stocks previous to buying for fall and winter trade.

SOUTH DAKOTA POWER SECURITIES OFFERED

An issue of $1,900,000 one-year mortgage lien 6 per cent gold notes of the Consolidated Power and Light Company of South Dakota will be offered today by Pearsons-Taft Company and West and Company, investment bankers, at par. The notes are due August 1, 1926.

The Consolidated Power and Light Company of South Dakota, organized in 1908, owns and operates directly or through its subsidiaries twelve electric light and power plants, serving thirty or more prosperous communities in South Dakota, Nebraska, Arizona, Texas and New Mexico.

Net earnings of the company are more than three times the amount of the mortgage lien note interest requirements.

CALL RATE FIRMER AS EXPECTED

August Seen as Typical Month for Definite Turn to Higher Levels

Moody's Weekly Review of Financial Conditions in its current issue says in part:

"Money rates are slowly hardening about as expected. There is no dearth of loanable funds and no probability of any, but one may reasonably expect that call money should be definitely firmer the last week of the present month, and that time money should show a slow, but persistent, upward movement into October anyway.

"Relating the money market to the stock market, one must observe that August is typically the last month of distinctly easy money. If present monetary trends continue, borrowers on collateral may find a month or two from now that the interest rate plus the stock broker's interest profit, will bring their interest payments up to a relatively high figure.

"The remaining reasons for optimism concentrate themselves upon this present month. Especially is this true of railway stocks; for the August and September net earnings should make an exceptionally good showing—which ought to be reflected to some extent in the share quotations.

"Credits have expanded enough so that idle capital can presumably find employment without necessarily going into the bond market. Hence it is likely that for some time the latter should show stability rather than either weakness or strength."

GAIN MADE IN EXPORTS OF COTTON

More Textiles Shipped Abroad in Past Fiscal Year, Report Shows

Exports of textile fibers and textiles during the fiscal year ended June 30 increased 17 per cent from the previous year, according to a report issued by the textile division of the United States Department of Commerce. Raw cotton exports showed a gain of 43 per cent, and cotton cloth also registered improvement.

Textile fibers and textiles represented 26.7 per cent of the entire value of the United States exports of domestic merchandise during the past year, when shipments of all classes of textile commodities to foreign countries aggregated $1,274,987,000, an increase of $185,228,000 over the previous twelve months. Raw cotton accounted for 33 per cent of the total value of exports in the textile group in both years.

Exports of raw cotton, including linters, rose from 5,731,936 bales, valued at $903,975,000 in the fiscal year of 1924, to 8,204,941 bales, with a value of $1,060,836,000 in 1925, an increase of 43 per cent in quantity, but of only 17 per cent in value. The latter figure reflects the decline in the price of middling spot cotton in New York, the monthly average having dropped from .3063 of a cent per pound in 1924 to .2636 of a cent in 1925.

Europe took 87 per cent of the American cotton shipped abroad in both years. Its purchases increased from 4,980,051 bales in 1924 to 7,119,258 in 1925. The United Kingdom and Germany, the two leading markets for American cotton, increased their takings by 928,294 bales and 520,499 bales, respectively.

BUSINESS TODAY

Upward Trend in Building Continues—Speculative Enterprises Swell Totals—Country is Growing But Supply of Buildings in Some Places Exceeds Demand.

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—When building operations early this year reached new heights in the boom that has been under way for the last two or three years, most people began to look for a downturn. Attention was called to the overbuilt conditions in certain parts of the country by experts in the trade. Few even of the building optimists expected much further expansion for the immediate present.

Surprising are the F. W. Dodge Corporation figures for July, therefore, which show that the month just ended was the biggest July on record from the standpoint of building volume and that indeed, only two previous months in history were more important. These months were April and June of the present year.

The question that is going the rounds in building circles nowadays is the same question that arose months ago; that is, has the peak in building been reached?

The answer to the question has not been made satisfactorily for several reasons. Chief among these is the fact that generalizations in the building situation at present mean little or nothing. What is true of one district may not be true of another. Conditions that prevail in one block of ten differ materially from those to be found in another block of the same city.

Unquestionably the natural growth of the country accounts for a large part of the building undertaken in the past few years and, if this growth continues at the present rate, many buildings now empty will be filled in time. That the supply of buildings in certain cities, or at least of particular blocks in different cities, exceeds the present demand is coming to be clear.

RECORDS BROKEN

That the situation has become a dangerous one throughout the country does not follow, since a tremendous growth has taken place in the Middle West and the South. During July the New England section recorded more building activity than ever before in its history.

The great ease of money has been a temptation to speculative builders and has lifted the volume somewhat above where it would have gone of its own accord, no doubt, but for the great expansion that has taken place in most sections explanation must be found in the upturn of business conditions.

"Number Six of a Series"

The Security of Good Faith

The long record of safety established by government, state and municipal obligations has made these securities the most preferred type of investment. As early as 1750, British government notes were sold on a 3% basis and were in ready demand among conservative investors.

The commercial nations of older established civilizations have long recognized the moral obligation of a state debt—backed by the good faith of the people of an entire country or city. Interest and principal on these obligations have generally been met promptly—no matter how heavy the tax burden has seemed.

Particularly true is this of external obligations. Whatever course a government may have been forced to adopt toward its own people as lenders, a peculiar sanctity has usually characterized its dealings with investors of other nations. This fact, recognized as an element of safety for many years, comes from the realization that sound credit and international progress depend upon the maintenance of good faith among nations.

The external obligations of European nations, states and cities, payable in gold in New York, are now available on a basis to yield 7% to 7.75%. Our current list of selected offerings will be gladly mailed you on request.

EXEMPT FROM PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXES IN CALIFORNIA

Secured by a first mortgage trust indenture on a theater and office building which will cost not less than $290,000, to be erected on property at 634-638 South Alvarado street in Los Angeles, having a frontage of 115½ feet, of which 65½ feet, appraised for the Bond Corporation Department at $163,750, is owned in fee and 50 feet is under ground lease.

The theater portion—approximately 90%—of the building has been leased for 25 years from the date it is completed to West Coast Theaters, Inc., of Northern California, and C. L. Langley, which lease is guaranteed by West Coast Theaters, Inc., and specifies a rental of $36,000 a year during the first half of the term and $38,000 a year during the last half. The lease has been pledged as additional security for the bonds.

The estimated surplus after paying the necessary expenses of operation amounts to two and seven-tenths (2 7-10) times the greatest annual interest charge. The Company is required to carry insurance against loss from fire and earthquake and against loss of rentals in consequence of fire or earthquake, and is also required to make monthly deposit for payment of both principal and interest.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Irregularly Lower

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Bond prices moved irregularly lower in today's small volume of trading, fluctuations generally being confined to narrow limits. Railroad liens 6s a group alone displayed an upward tendency, Chesapeake and Ohio convertible 5's again forging ahead for a gain of three points to a new high at 112 3-4. Strength also was shown by Chicago and Alton 3 1-2's, St. Louis, San Francisco income 6's, Illinois Central 5 1-2's and Chicago and Great Western 4's all of which advanced moderately. Union Pacific convertible 4's, Southern Railway General 4's and Southern Pacific refunding 4's receded fractionally.

Public utilities were heavy, Kansas City Power 5's, Public Service Corporation of New Jersey 6's and Public Service Electric Power and Light 6's showing small losses on the day.

Activity continued in Virginia Carolina Chemical first mortgage 7's which have advanced nearly 30 points from the year's low in anticipation of favorable treatment in the forthcoming reorganization plan. International Mercantile Marine 6's moved up 1-2 and Bethlehem Steel 6's "A" also gained slightly. Further selling of Dodge Brothers 6's reflected the reported dissolution today of the offering syndicate.

Foreign bonds were mixed, City of Oslo 6's gaining 5-8 and Anton Jurgen 6's losing 1 1-2. Better demand for United States government loans resulted in fractional advances.

Public offering will be made tomorrow of $3,000,000 Laclede Gas Light Company 5 1-2 per cent gold notes at prices to yield about 5.70 per cent.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices, as made on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond. These quotations are furnished over private wires, by facsimile transmission the closing price is printed after name in the last, and both bid and close are omitted when they are same as the high.

STOCKS TURN UP AFTER REACTION

High-Grade Industrials Lead in Sharp Rally

General Railway Signal Hits New Price Level

U. S. Steel Weaker on Drop in Tonnage Data

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. — Stock prices staged a remarkable comeback after an early period of weakness in today's market, which was featured by the buoyancy of high-priced industrial shares. Trading turned dull on the early declines, but picked up perceptibly in the late rally, the day's sales aggregating about 1,250,000 shares. Heavy selling of the motors and oils based on additional automobile and gasoline price cuts, took place soon after the market opened. Early declines of 1 to 3¼ points were recorded by Chandler Motors, Pierce-Arrow common and preferred, Mack Trucks, Mariand, Standard Oil of California, Independent Oil and Gas, Texas Company and several others, but in some cases the earlier losses were materially reduced.

General Motors showed independent strength by touching a new record high at 94⅝, in anticipational an announcement of a special cash distribution on Thursday.

SIGNAL SOARS

Sensational advances again took place in the so-called "rich men's stock." General Railway Signal soared 12¼ points to a record top at 156½; Jersey Central and International Shoe each jumped 7 points to 286 and 180, respectively, and American Can moved up over 6 points to a new high for all time at 224⅛. Midland Steel Products preferred attained a new maximum at 147, but closed unchanged at 145.

Many of the standard industrials closed lower on the day. U. S. Steel common showed a small fractional recession at 122, the July tonnage statement, made public today showing a decrease of 170,991 tons in unfilled orders, or about 20,000 tons more than Wall street expected. Baldwin fell back 1⅛ points to 113, and net losses of a point or so were recorded by American Sugar Refining, Electric Storage Battery, Foundation Company, International Harvester, National Lead, Stewart Warner Speedometer, U. S. Rubber, Western Union, Westinghouse, Airbrake, and Worthington Pump.

WIDE LIST GAINS

Special strength was shown by a wide variety of industrial and public utility issues, including General Baking, Havana Electric, New York Airbrake, New York Shipbuilding, Pullman, Tobacco Products common, Utah Copper, Ward-Baking "B" and Woolworth.

Weakness of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical issues was based on the belief that the reorganization plan, which is expected this week, will leave little equity for the stocks.

Strength and activity of the Van Sweringen carriers was again the outstanding development of the rail group. Net gains of one to nearly three points were recorded by Erie first and second preferred, Nickel Plate common and Chesapeake and Ohio common, the last named closing 2½ points higher at 103 3-4 after having crossed 109 to a new high.

Call money ruled unchanged at 4½ per cent. The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates. Fluctuations in the foreign exchanges were extremely narrow and irregular, with the principal eastern rates disclosing a firm tone. Demand sterling ruled around 486 3-8 and French francs at 4.68⅝c.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The better kinds of the steer and yearling offerings met a fairly active demand and moved readily at generally steady prices, while the in-between grades, mostly common and low medium kinds, were slower to move on a steady to weak basis. No good steers were on sale, the best offered being at loads to 875-pound Imperial Valley offerings at 7.60. The bulk of steers were low medium kinds averaging 970 to 1178 pounds, mostly grassers, from 7.25@7.50. Others, mostly in small lots and part loads, turned largely from 6.50@6.75, with a few very thin kinds downward to 5.00 and below.

Odd head and small lots of good cows and heifers cleared from 6.00@7.00, with the yearling heifer top yesterday at 6.85, paid for a short load of 840-pound weights. Cows topped at 6.00, with several loads of both cows and heifers making that price, while the bulk of fat she stock cleared from 4.50@5.00, with common kinds downward to 4.00. Canners, cutters and bulls held about steady, most canners and cutters clearing from 1.75@2.50, while medium bulls sold mostly from 2.75@3.50, with a few choice kinds selling downward to 3.75, while beef bulls turned largely from 3.15@3.75, a few on the yearling order making 3.75.

CALVES—Active demand developed for yesterday's fairly liberal run and a good clearance was made at generally steady values. A few choice 150 to 180-pound vealers realized 13.00, while the bulk of 120 to 240-pound weights cleared from 12.00@13.00, several loads, including Arizona and Californias, realizing 11.00. Medium kinds sold downward to 9.00, this price holding in bad lots of 170 to 200-pound New Mexico and Texas vealers, while common kinds and heavies were most numerous from 6.00@8.00.

HOGS—Prices advanced generally 25@40 cents over Friday and yesterday's moderate supply was cleaned up on the sixty pounds. The top price was 13.50, paid for seven loads of 170 to 225-pound butchers, while two loads of 130 to 145-pound weights sold from 13.40@13.65. A few California butchers realized 13.00, while a sizable lot of 70-pound pigs for feeding purposes scored 12.75. Packing sows held around steady, the small supply going over from 12.00@12.50.

SHEEP—The supply in this division consisted of a deck of common 92-pound lambs that sold for 12.25, with 13 aerted out at 9.00. Good and choice lambs, in the general opinion of the trade, are quotable from 13.00@14.00, with common to choice down from 6.00@9.75.

BETHLEHEM TO EXPAND PLANTS

Los Angeles to Benefit by Coast Improvement

Several Hundred Thousand Dollars to be Spent

Increased Production Along Coast Planned

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—An expansion of the steel interests of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation on the Pacific Coast, which will involve the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars in warehouses and increased managerial forces, was announced today from the San Francisco offices of the company.

Coincident with the statement came the announcement of the appointment of Joseph J. Tynan, who for the past nineteen years has been in charge of the company shipbuilding properties on this Coast, as vice-president of the corporation and and manager of all of its interests on the Pacific Coast, including both shipbuilding and steel activities.

The appointment of Tynan to his new position came in a telegram received by him from E. G. Grace, president of the corporation. This message also announced the appointment of E. E. Goodwillie as Tynan's assistant in charge of steel sales on the Pacific Coast. Goodwillie was formerly manager of the Chicago district for the company.

The company's expansion program, according to Tynan, will include the construction of large steel-products warehouses in the four principal Pacific Coast cities—San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle and Portland—where the company aready has docks and shipbuilding plants. Managerial and office forces in each of these cities also will be enlarged to take care of the increased steel business.

Goodwillie arrived in San Francisco today and took charge of the sales force on the Pacific Coast. Arnold C. Foster, who has been assistant treasurer of the corporation in the East, was named assistant secretary and treasurer in the change, and will also be transferred to the San Francisco offices, according to the announcement.

Tynan was named to his new position after nineteen years of service with the company on this coast, during which time he has developed the interests here from a small plant to holdings in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Portland and Seattle, where large shipbuilding plants and dry docks are now maintained.

Tynan formerly was with an eastern shipbuilding corporation in Philadelphia, where his business relations with Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of directors of the Bethlehem corporation, brought him the appointment as Pacific Coast manager for the company.

EXPORTS OF RUBBER GROW

Total volume of rubber exports from the United States during the six months ended June 30, last, was $28,857,173, and exceeded the value of exports for the same period of any year since the peak year of 1920, according to the rubber division of the United States Department of Commerce. This value represents an increase of more than 20 per cent over the $19,648,637 worth of rubber products exported in the first six months of last year.

The increase is chiefly due to the greater volume of exports, but in a measure is the result of the higher unit value of the various commodities. The rise in the price of crude rubber and the resulting rise in the price of rubber products, it is suggested, may have influenced foreign dealers toward overstocking, which would be reflected in a falling off of imports in the latter part of the year. On the other hand, the improvement in world economic conditions and the general price increases in the leading consuming countries is expected to place American manufacturers in a more favorable competitive position.

Exports of pneumatic casings, which amounted to 803,790, valued at $9,427,601, reached their highest points during March, April and May, but showed a considerable decline in June, due to the confused price situation. However, the unit value of casings in June was higher than in any other month of this period.

Argentina was the leading market, taking 95,287 automobile casings; Great Britain took 77,055; Brazil, 65,162; Denmark, 54,632; Mexico, 41,371; Australia, 40,883; Cuba, 40,405. Other important markets were Japan, Philippine Islands, New Zealand, Sweden, British South Africa, Uruguay, Netherlands, Norway and Spain. These countries likewise furnished the principal markets for pneumatic tubes.

Solid-tire exports amounted to 55,040, valued at $1,414,918. The United Kingdom was the principal destination of this rubber product. Shipments of tire accessories and repair materials amounted to 1,101,159 pounds, valued at $464,514, and went chiefly to Canada, United Kingdom, Argentina, Australia, Cuba, Mexico and France.

Latin America furnished the principal market for the 2,346,461 pairs of canvas rubber-soled shoes exported, valued at $1,672,977. There were 347,784 pairs of rubber boots exported during this period, valued at $545,452, and 350,456 pairs of rubber shoes, valued at $314,328. The United Kingdom, New Foundland, Labrador, China, Norway, Cuba, New Zealand and Canada were the leading importers of these products. Mexico, Cuba, Chile, Argentina, Philippine Islands, United Kingdom, Sweden and Denmark were the leading markets for the 2,572,243 pounds of rubber soles and heels, valued at $486,530, exported.

ELECTRICAL TRADE TONE OPTIMISTIC

Business on Coast and Over Country Generally Held Unusually Good

The electrical industry on the Pacific Coast, in common with other portions of the country, is fully in tune this week with the general optimism of the business world, according to Electrical World, New York. Large power business is on the move and some railroad buying was reported. In California the demand for electrical supplies appears unusually strong for midsummer. The sales campaign plans recently announced by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and Great Western Power Company have stimulated appliance sales and radio is unusually active.

The seasonal lull in inquiries and sales throughout the industry is far less than had been naturally anticipated. Particularly good reports on the volume and activity of electrical sales come from New England and the Southeastern States. Lighting fixtures have been active in the New England territory, also wiring devices and lighting equipment in response to very heavy building contracts.

Large orders were placed by utilities in Florida and Alabama for meters, distribution transformers, pole line hardware and for telephone equipment, and conditions in the Southeast are very promising.

The volume of sales is slightly off in the Middle West, with jobbers' sales irregular.

Electrical Development in Japan is Second Only to That of United States; Tokio Electric, Organized in 1886, Being Outstanding Utility of Kind in Empire.

[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—With the exception of the United States, which leads the world in the development of electric facilities, Japan has probably made more progress than most other countries in the utilization of electric energy for various purposes.

Electric lighting had its inception in the far eastern empire in 1887, when a dynamo, built in Japan, capable of serving seventy-five lamps, was set in motion in Tokio. The first high-voltage alternating generator was introduced several years later, and within four years of the original project the initial hydroelectric plant was completed.

Continuous expansion has marked the industry in that country since, the development of its resources having been particularly rapid in the past ten or twelve years. From 1914 to 1923 its generating capacity, both steam and hydroelectric, has been increased from 1,106,043 kilowatts to 3,112,-001 kilowatts. Interconnection by means of high-tension transmission lines, some capable of carrying 154,000 volts, has made possible the introduction of various economies.

The Tokio Electric Light Company has contributed more than any other one the island to the growth of the industry which it represents. Started in 1886 with a capital of approximately $100,000 to supply the business district of the capital city, it has come rapidly to the front and is now one of the world's largest enterprises of its kind.

In the course of its career the Tokio Electric has absorbed seven other properties, has merged with thirteen companies, and now represents an investment of more than $160,000,000, including $114,325,-000 paid-in capital stock.

Its output of electric energy last year aggregated 1,350,271,000 kilowatt hours, exceeded by only seven of the great power-producing companies in our own country. The company owns and operates generating stations with an installed capacity of 280,757 kilowatts, of which over 90 per cent is hydroelectric.

An additional 210,500 kilowatts output is purchased on contract, of which 100,000 kilowatts is taken from companies in which it has a large investment and 50,000 kilowatts from the Diado, Ltd. When completed the six new plants now under construction will add 102,-832 kilowatts to its capacity.

Early this week the company sold a large issue of notes in the local market, which, together with installments on capital stock subscribed, but not paid for, but to be called, will provide funds for the liquidation of its entire bank indebtedness and for the financing of its construction program.

FINANCIAL STRUCTURE

The company operates on a wholesale and retail basis in an area covering approximately 9275 square miles on the principal island of the empire, its territory embracing Tokio, Yokohama and other important industrial and commercial cities. The area served has a population of over 9,000,000, and at the end of April, last, the number of consumers served with electric energy was 1,128,984.

Gross revenues have increased from $5,581,185 in 1913 to $22,-940,766 in the twelve months ended May 31, last, and gross income available for interest has grown from $2,905,815 to $11,724,175 in the same period.

Capitalization adjusted to reflect the recent issue of notes consists of a total funded debt of $49,469,-400, followed by $114,325,000 in stock, exclusive of the $14,675,000 subscribed stock, which is to be called for payment directly. None of its debt is secured by mortgage, and its capital structure is ideal when it is realised that funded debt represents only 31 per cent of the total.

It is not conceivable that all of the land will yield oil from this depth, but the brown shale is found in most of the old well, and the success of the Obispo organization in this well is certain to cause many companies to test their holdings in the near future for deeper production.

Fine Brea Well

The Shell company yesterday completed it Orange No. 3-A in the Brea-Olinda field as a 2400-barrel producer at 4500 feet. The oil tests 29 deg. gravity. This is one of the best wells that has been completed in that old producing field for some little time. Company officials yesterday said that they thought it was producing from a new sand.

Pumping Into Sump

The Union Oil Company had its Callender No. 5, in the Domingues field, pumping into the sump hole yesterday. The fluid was mostly sweet water, with no oil or gas showings, it is said.

The Union's Jameson No. 1 at Rosecrans, which started pumping Saturday, sanded up after yielding sixty barrels of oil in ten hours. Last night the field department was swabbing the Howard Park No. 22, which is down 4457 feet. It appeared to be wet.

Notice Taken of Foreign Turn to Higher Tariffs

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — The Department of Agriculture took notice today of a European tendency toward imposing higher tariffs and more trade restrictions on imports.

"Italy and Czecho-Slovakia," the department said in a review of the European market situation, have published new tariff schedules on agricultural products. France again is enforcing the embargo against American fresh pork and Germany is considering a protection tariff on agricultural products.

"There is in every country a desire to become self-sufficient in foodstuffs, but for the most highly industrial countries agricultural self-sufficiency, if possible at all, could only be attained with heavy production cost which the industrial consumers would be unwilling to bear. Since agricultural unit costs already are high in these countries, no great increase in European crop production are expected and no great changes in European demand for agricultural products are anticipated.

"Wherever the economic situation improves there should be a better demand for American cotton.

"The market for wheat and flour will depend largely upon the amount available in each country. Wheat and flour purchases appear to have little relation to economic conditions.

PRODUCE MARKET

Trading yesterday was fairly active, with market showing many price changes. Apples are still steady, under very limited supplies. Grapes show a better feeling, but with little or no change in prices. Watermelons continue to glut with cooler weather, and local meloncrops have dropped sharply under increased receipts.

Moderate Rally Follows Sharp Break Early and Close is at Low Level

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Spot cotton closed at 22.85, 50 points net lower.

Today's cotton futures market was a contradictory affair. After advancing about 15 to 25 points at the start on scattered buying by those who placed a bullish construction on the government's crop report, issued after the close of the market on Saturday, prices underwent a sharp break, declining about $2 to $3 a bale before supporting orders caused a moderate rally. Subsequently there was a renewal of pressure and final quotations were the lowest of the day. Considerable hedge selling of March and general liquidation by the trade followed the early bulge. The list closed 50 to 55 points net lower.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Cotton prices advanced around 40 to 50 points over Saturday's close in the early trading, only to break 65 to 85 points from the top, and finish easy at the inside. There were losses for the day of 29 to 61 points in Chicago, and 43 to 54 points in other markets. Spots were off 50 points in both New York and New Orleans. Buying early was on the assumption that the government report issued late Saturday was bullish.

Wheat Values Off Shade as Trading Lags

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Bearing up for the government report on the grain crops resulted in decidedly unsettled markets, with wheat and oats easier, while corn showed independent strength. The trade was much less active in wheat than late last week, and the finish was at net losses of ⅛@⅜c, with September at 1.43⅝@1.44⅜. Corn advanced ⅛@1¼c, with the new crop futures leading. September closed at 1.06⅜@1.06⅝, December at 89¼@89⅝c and May at 91½c. Oats declined ⅛@⅜c, while rye was 3¾@3½c higher.

Local sentiment was somewhat more bearish on wheat, and there was selling by the pit element, as well as by commission houses, but the market broke overboard on the decline and a rally of over 1c from the bottle figure came toward the last. An easier tone in cash premiums at Minneapolis, where the basis was as much as 8c lower on old grade, attracted attention.

Foreign grain markets continue to act independently of America, and Liverpool closed ¼d lower, with fair Russian offers, a relatively slow cash demand and larger world's shipments than expected a factor. Foreign weather reports on the whole were more favorable. The rains of wheat were reported at the seaboard, although there were bids made in Central Illinois for cash wheat that figured out equal to 1.70 per bushel.

An increase of 3,787,000 bushels in the visible supply was somewhat less than expected, and the total is now 21,383,000 bushels, against 69,634,000 bushels last year. Movement of winter wheat is falling off, but is offset by the increased run in the Northwest. Primary points received 2,760,-000 bushels, against 2,580,000 bushels a week ago, and 5,400,000 bushels last year.

Burden of new crop deliveries of corn, largely December, by houses with country connections was responsible for independent strength in that grain. Dry weather reports from Illinois and Missouri were factors in bringing in buying orders, and deterioration in the outlook for the distant crop. Decrease of 83,000 bushels in the visible supply brought it down to 5,918,000 bushels, against 6,-610,000 bushels last year. The seaboard reported around 450,000 bushels of new crop grain sold for December-January export at the gulf in the past week or so. Oats were dull and easier, with hedging pressure a factor.

Houses with eastern connections and some of the leading local operators were on the buying side of rye and found offerings light, making a sharp advance. Export demand of 1c was reported. Houses with New York export connections were fair buyers of lard, while scattered longs sold the September. Some investment buying was noted in the October. Closing trades were unchanged to ⅛c higher on lard, unchanged to 25c higher on ribs and 7½c higher on bellies.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Overliquidation today was a factor in the stock market, as it was evident that long lines were being lightened in many issues as others were made strong. It appeared as though the warnings finally were being heeded that the market was entitled to a rest, and an over-Sunday consideration of the situation as revealed by a number of stock exchange houses, aided the selling movement, which had started in a week ago. Petroleum shares were an outstanding feature of weakness, and for basis plenty appeared in a canvass of trade conditions, openly shown in further price cuts for gasoline in eastern territory. There were bright spots, too, in the industrial horizon, one of which was furnished by copper, the price of which moved up another peg toward the expected 15-cent level. Equipment shares also were in demand as new evidences cropped up of renewed buying which as yet, however, was spotty. The continued expansion in the public utility field gave groundwork for optimism toward the makers of electrical equipment, such as General Electric and Westinghouse. Specialty stocks were not overlooked and a few of them entered record territory.

Loans Paramount

The loan question still was paramount and its probable effect on the stock market brought further mixed sentiment into the situation. Call money was again renewed at 4½ per cent, but commission houses were most desirous of securing time funds for their accommodations rather than have to depend on the variations of the call market.

Oil Puzzle

The oft-repeated question as to what was the matter with the oil stocks began to find answer today, and it largely sifted down to the single word of overproduction, with California once more furnishing the pivotal point. The immediate effect of this condition on the Pacific slope had been in heavy shipments of gasoline through the Panama Canal, estimated at about 2,000,000 gallons daily, some of which had figured in export traffic and the balance in serving as an unsettling factor in eastern territory. It was this product which had chiefly supplied independent stations with gasoline, and by them retailed at prices several cents under the listed quotation of leading refiners with their own distribution facilities in this territory. Furthermore, the recent price cuts along the Atlantic seaboard were attributed in no small part to this "foreign" production. Early estimates had been that the California crude output would be approaching the 600,000-barrel daily mark, but instead the trend proved upward with more than 700,000 barrels gushing from wells of that State. Of this total at least 30,000 barrels had been shut in, yet the supply was greater than had been anticipated. Quite contrary to their action of preceding years under similar conditions of shipping crude to the East, the California producers have been making gasoline at home and sending the finished product to the Atlantic territory for immediate sale. Wall street had considered as a sign of improvement the June figures showing that 21,000,000 gallons of gasoline had been withdrawn from stocks, but failed to seek comparisons which would have revealed that 51,095,520 gallons had been withdrawn in the same month of 1924, while hearking back still another twelve-month the encroachment on stocks was 64,930,103 gallons.

REFLECTED IN MARKET

It was apparent today that Wall street had been making its own discoveries relative to the petroleum group and a wave of liquidation swept through this body of securities. Pan American, was the object of much pressure and, in renewal of selling of this stock, there completely disappeared from mind the likelihood of a dividend increase, once so prominent in discussion of this stock. The street still was at sea with regard to the curtailed output from the company's Mexican properties, and was inclined to await further developments before taking a definite stand as to what the future might be for that phase of the operation. It was indicated that American crude oil was being shipped into Mexico for refining and such a need was regarded as significant. Varied were the interpretations as to what the Pan American developments were likely to be under the proposed ownership of properties divided between Pan American Petroleum and the newer Pan American Western. Although the Waite-Phillips property had been frequently mentioned a fortnight or more ago as a possible unit in a merger involving Independent Oil and Gas, the name had about passed from mind until revived today in another way which still bore on control. Its purchase by a banking group was expected soon to be made known with contractural alliances considered likely with middle-western members of the Standard Oil family.

NEW HIGH AGAIN

Whatever opposition to the rise may have developed was easily put away in the case of American Can, which crossed 120 in another leap toward the price goal which had been uppermost in the minds of the clique managers. The short interest in this stock, placed at between 20,000 and 30,000 shares when it was 50 points lower, was understood to have been reduced, but not entirely eliminated.

SHORTS A FACTOR

The situation in Castiron Pipe was somewhat mystifying and to many observers it appeared as though the price was being maintained to a great extent by the short interest. The position of Mr. Durant in these shares was largely conjectural, but the surmise was at hand that his holdings had been substantially lessened and the average price marked down of what still might be intact. Incidentally it was quietly related that the top-notch price of 250, reached months ago, brought a settlement in its wake in which some sizeable short accounts were "let down easy." Through the foreign affiliations of other manufacturers, a number of contracts lately had been let to competitors of United Castiron Pipe, yet the stock of this concern was but little affected marketwise.

AWAITING REWARD

Calendar pads indicated that the General Motors dividend meeting would be held Thursday, at which time an extra disbursement was expected to be forthcoming. The performance of the company in the first half of the year, already on the records, showed up how well fortified the company was for further rewarding its stockholders and, while there had been a fond hope that the rate might be raised beyond the current $6 basis, bankers expressed the belief that this level would be maintained, but that an extra would be pinned to the dividend checks.

DIVIDEND PROSPECTS

Favorable forecasts of July railroad earnings came to light and none was more highly regarded than that for Frisco, for which road a $500,000 surplus for the month was indicated. Naturally enough, this brought out a revival of dividend discussion and a rise in the rate, now $5, was considered probable, although this time there was an inclination to put it at between $6 and $7, whereas formerly it had been a straight advance to the higher rate that had interested the street. And in much the same manner Southern Railway was flaunted with as much uncertainty prevailing over the probable new rate.

FOREST FIRE FIGHTERS IN CLOSE CALL

Break Through Fiery Wall in Oregon Woods and Circle Blaze

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 10.—Forest fire fighters combatting a serious blaze near Scappoose, Or., had a narrow escape when they broke through a fiery wall. By circling the flames this crew today reached Vernonia, Or., in safety.

The fire near Scappoose has been burning for several days on the Nehalem divide. Heavy damage was done to property and timber of the Nehalem Timber and Logging Company. A fire four miles north of Beaverton, Or., was believed under control today.

A new fire was reported south of White River in the Mount Hood National Forest today. A blaze in the Cedar Flat country near Lebanon, Or., was also burning today.

The fire situation in the lower Columbia River region was reported somewhat improved owing to a heavy fog last night. Reports from the upper Nehalem and the upper Young's River districts indicated the fires were under control, at least temporarily.

At Kerry the great fire which burned south along the Kerry railroad was checked, having reached the Nehalem River on the south. The fire is now within a mile and a half of the town of Birkenfeld, having advanced materially since Saturday. The fire had covered seven miles with a width in many places of five miles. Little green timber was damaged by this fire.

COMMITTEES MEET TO BOOST NEW ROAD

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 10.—A meeting will be held here Friday night when three representatives from each of the communities interested from Alhambra to Claremont will gather to discuss the proposed extension of Main street from the town of Temple. The meeting was called today by the Chamber of Commerce. The communities asked to send representatives to take part in the preliminary outline of the plans are San Gabriel, town of Temple, Baldwin Park, La Verne, Covina and Claremont. If the project is realized it will afford a new direct route from many valley cities to Los Angeles through Alhambra.

The proposed highway would include Main street in Alhambra, Las Tunas Drive in San Gabriel and Main street in the town of Temple, where the thoroughfare now ends.

SAN DIEGO TO BUY WATER COMPANY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 10.—The San Diego City Council today accepted the offer of the San Dieguito Water Company to sell its properties to the city by adopting a resolution unanimously directing the City Attorney to prepare papers for executing the contract and submitting to the electorate the proposal to vote $500,000 as first payment and to secure the option offered.

Action by the Council followed a recommendation by Fred Rhodes, City Manager, that the San Dieguito offer be accepted. The price of the water system is $2,750,000 with an initial payment of $500,000 and the balance spread over a thirty-year period.

Noticias de Washington

El ministerio de Correos ha calculado que hubo el año próximo pasado un déficit de $57,149,000 en numerario.

Se ha anunciado que la probable cosecha de trigo para este año ascenderá a 678,000,000 de "bushels", y la de maíz a 2,950,000,000.

Los funcionarios del ministerio de Hacienda han anunciado que estaban trabajando de acuerdo con los senadores republicanos en la elección de los nuevos jefes prohibicionistas.

Afirma un Chino que los Chinos Descubrieron la América

PARIS, Agosto 10.—América fué descubierta por China. Tal es la aseveración de Sois Toufa, director del servicio chino de información en París, quien está dispuesto a romper lanzas en la controversia que decida para quién han de ser los honores de la primacía, si para Cristóbal Colón, para Américo Vespucio, para los Vikingos, o para los chinos.

Dice Sois Toufa que cinco sacerdotes budistas descubrieron el año 458 de la era cristiana, "una inmensa isla", situada a 9186 leguas al oriente de la costa china. La descripción que hacen de su viaje no deja duda posible de que dicha isla era el continente americano, que designaron con el nombre de "Fou Chang".

En 499, el sacerdote budista llamado Hui Shen visitó "Fou Chang", según asienta Toufa. No se sabe exactamente dónde desembarcó. En México hay una leyenda concerida por el nombre de "Itzlpocotlan", que no es otro que el del sacerdote chino Hui Shen Llakshu, que visitó "la isla", vestido de una larga túnica, y enseñó una nueva fe y una nueva filosofía.

Agrega Sois Toufa que los primeros exploradores españoles que desembarcaron en Budamérica y en Méjico se quedaron asombrados ante la semejanza entre la arquitectura de los países americanos y la del Lejano oriente. Una de las divinidades aztecas tenía cabeza de elefante, y debe de haber sido importada, según Toufa, del Asia. En el Estado de Colorado se ha observado la existencia de varias leyendas chinas.

Es Nula la Póliza de Schwartz

OAKLAND, Agosto 10. — Como capítulo final del notable crimen en que perdió la vida Gilbert Warren Barbe, misionero ambulante, se prevé una lucha por el seguro de $168,000, constituído por Charles Henry Schwartz, para su tentativa del "crimen demasiado perfecto", que se desenlazó con el suicidio del propio Schwartz, quien de ese modo se escapó de ser capturado.

La viuda de Schwartz es la beneficiaria de la póliza tomada por éste; pero manifestaron hoy los directores de la compañía de seguros que es casi cierto que esta señora no recibirá nunca un centavo de ese dinero. Agregan que $140,000 de dicha póliza quedan cancelados por la cláusula relativa a suicidio dentro del plazo de un año; en cuanto a los $35,000 restantes, corresponden a una póliza que dejó caducar Schwartz. La viuda no sale todavía de la postración en que quedó cuando le revelaron que el hombre a quien identificó como su marido, era la víctima de éste. Hasta este momento se ha negado a ver el cadáver de su esposo. Dicen sus abogados que van a hacer las gestiones legales del caso para reclamar el seguro que se deba a la viuda.

NOTAS NOCALES

Atropellado y Muerto por un Taximetro

George E. Reed, de 54 años de edad, fue atropellado ayer tarde por un taxímetro al ir cruzando la calle Siete Oeste, y de resultas del accidente sufrió la fractura del cráneo y falleció dos horas después. Era el señor Reed secretario y gerente de la General Security Corporation, y se le conocía ventajosamente en los círculos bancarios de Los Angeles.

Dice el Teniente Detective Stevens, que investigó lo del accidente, que el señor Reed iba atravesando por lugar indebido la calle Siete, entre Broadway y Spring; pasó por detrás de un automóvil, y dio contra el costado de un taxímetro, que conducía W. A. Sullivan. El choque proyectó al señor Reed contra el pavimento y lo dejó privado del sentido. Violentamente se le llevó a la Casa de Socorro, donde el doctor Dunsmoor diagnosticó una fractura deprimida del cráneo.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

Número 64

Lo raro del caso (The strange part of this affair) era que Gasparito no ofrecía en su rostro vivacho aquellos signos de terror y abatimiento (was that little Jasper did not show those signs of terror and depression in his sprightly face), que debían de ser los únicos en él impresos (which ought to be the only ones stamped thereon).

Al contrario, brillaba constantemente en su ojos una alegría cordial que nos dejaba estupefactos (On the contrary, there invariably shone a hearty joy in his eyes, which set us agape).

Cuando iba con su tío marchaba con la mayor soltura (When he went about with his uncle, he walked with perfect freedom), sonriente, feliz, brincando una veces, otras compasadamente (smiling, happy, skipping at times, and, at others, going with measured steps); llegando su audacia o su inocencia hasta a hacernos muecas a espaldas de él (carrying his boldness or his innocence to the point of pulling faces at us behind him). Nos causaba el mismo angustioso efecto que si le viésemos bailar sobre la flecha de la torre de la catedral (It caused us the same anguishing effect as if we had seen him dance upon the spire of the cathedral tower).

Remark: In the second paragraph of Chat 64, the famous novelist wrote: "la misma duda agitaba"; grammatical correctness asks for "una misma duda agitaba". Near the end of the first paragraph of Chat 64, he wrote "que debían de ser", and should have written "que debían ser". For the study of these errors, the reader is referred to the series of Monday lessons published in The Times by Professor R. Guerrero.

BEARS FELL TIMBER TO REACH ANTS

Hunger-Driven Bruins in Colorado Uproot Forest Tract

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) Aug. 10.—Driven by an apparent scarcity of other food to increase their efforts to find ants, bears have literally uprooted and overturned a whole tract of forest lying about fourteen miles north of Woodland Park. The news was brought here by E. S. Keithley, assistant supervisor of the Pike national forest, and C. D. Webster of the forest headquarters office staff here.

The foresters found that logs had been rolled along the ground and small trees pushed over. The ground had been dug up at the roots of other trees and the bark of trees ripped away with telltale claw marks to indicate how it had been done. It was almost as if one of Gulliver's Brobdingnagians had strode through the forest kicking the dead logs about and trampling under his gigantic feet the growing trees.

The only footprints seen, however, were unmistakably those of bears. And some of them were very large ones. They could be seen here and there in the sand.

Th foresters saw so much evidence of bears in this country—more than ever before—that they count it a wonder they did not see some of the bears themselves before they got out of it.

The place is an isolated one, far from human habitation and with only prospectors' cabins as the nearest abodes. The strip of forest extending from there up along the ridge toward Sedalia has always been known as bear country. Mountain lions also are known to lurk in the woods. The government foresters, who annually make up an estimated animal census of the Pike forest, have never known clearly how many bears to indicate as possibly living there. Many evidences have been seen of their burrowing into ant hills and they are believed to live largely on ants. But Keithley, who has been there often, says that never before has he seen signs of such a desperate search for food.

START STREET WORK

Contractors Begin Construction on Alhambra Thoroughfare

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 10.—Today became an important date in local civic improvement annals when work on the repaving of Main street was started. The Hall-Johnson company, Alhambra firm which received the contract for the paving of the city's main business thoroughfare from the east to the west city limits, a distance of two miles, had a force of men on the job this morning laying the culverts at the east end of the street.

According to the contractors, the entire construction job will be completed in approximately fifty days. The paving is to be asphaltic concrete, seven inches deep. The improvement is one which has been hanging fire for the past two years, and has been the subject of much controversy as to materials.

HAYS VIEWS SIGNING OF FILM PACT

Will H. Hays, film czar, sat in yesterday as a witness to the signing of a motion-picture exhibiting contract whereby the greatest sum of money ever paid by a single exhibitor for a single production will be given by Sid Grauman for "Ben Hur," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

In the presence of Hays, Grauman yesterday signed the contract with Louis B. Mayer, vice-president and general manager of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, at the Goldwyn studios.

When the picture will be produced is not known as it still is unfinished. To date two years have been spent as well as several million dollars in producing "Ben Hur." Principals went abroad and spent more than a year in and around Rome filming scenes in the original locales as called for in the famous Lew Wallace novel. A replica of the Circus Maximus is being built at Culver City. It is said to be the largest single set ever erected. Fred Niblo is directing the drama. In the cast are Francis X. Bushman, Mitchell Lewis, Kathleen Key, Dale Fuller, Claire McDonell, David Dunbar, Carmel Myers, Betty Bronson and others.

STAR DRAWS PAY WITH NO WORK TO DO

Plot Requires Blonde While She is Brunette Which Leaves Her in Idleness

Fair Sally Long's six-month vacation with pay is about to end.

It was announced yesterday that her six-month contract with Rudolph Valentino will end on the 22nd inst. and that she will then sign a new contract possibly with some other company.

Since signing the contract with Valentino, the beautiful young actress has done absolutely nothing to earn the salary which she has been receiving from the first screen sheik.

She had been signed to play the feminine lead opposite Valentino in the "Hooded Falcon," but changes in the plans kept her from work and the decision recently of Valentino to make a different picture in which a blond would be necessary instead of a brunette—the category in which Miss Long belongs—brought the announcement from her that she doesn't know whether she will renew the contract with Valentino or sign with another company. She was formerly in Ziegfeld's "Kid Boots" company.

ASK STOCK PERMIT

The Talking Toyland Company, a New York corporation, petitioned the local State Corporation Department offices yesterday for permission to sell $250,000 worth of stock here. The concern is manufacturing minute records and phonographs which are inserted inside "talking dolls" and sell for $25 to $50 apiece, the petition set forth.

NEWSY CRIES OWN ENIGMA

Missing Boy Sells Papers on Street Corner Telling All About His Strange Disappearance

Lustily yelling the headlines of papers describing his own disappearance, 10-year-old Albert J. Hiott, who was missed from his home at 807 North Avenue 65 a week ago, was found last evening on a Redondo Beach street corner. He had a coat of healthy tan on his face and $1.80 in his overalls pocket. When he left home he was rather pale and the same overalls pocket contained only 60 cents.

Serg. Kiracose of the identification bureau of the Redondo police department, and a newsboy, Jeff Christman, recognized Hiott at the same time and pounced upon him together—and jointly last night they received the thanks of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hiott, happy parents of the youngster.

Albert admitted he had had a "good time." He went to Redondo Beach to go fishin', he said. He couldn't live on fish alone, so he decided he'd sell papers. And he sold 'em, he added with considerable pride. Over night he became an honest-to-goodness newsie. He paid no rent because he slept in a packing box in an alley and covered himself with gunny sacks.

"An' I got along all right with one meal every day," he confided to his mother, "but you haven't got any doughnuts, have you?"

The finding of the boy ends a search conducted by police, relatives of the youngster, Boy Scouts and schoolmates throughout the past week. Albert left his home a week ago yesterday on an errand to a neighborhood grocery. The next time his mother saw him was last night—and one of the first things he did was to return to her the 60 cents she gave him for groceries and then add his own hard-earned $1.20 to the little heap of silver in her hand.

"And I want to go back again some time and sell some more papers," he admitted. "But it's pretty good to be home."

FINANCIER DIES IN CAB ACCIDENT

George E. Reed Struck by Taxi on Street

Was Manager of Securities Corporation

Passes Away as Operation Was Prepared

Struck by a taxicab yesterday afternoon as he was crossing West Seventh street, George E. Reed, 54 years of age, secretary and manager of the General Securities Corporation and widely known in Los Angeles banking circles, suffered a fracture of the skull from which he died two hours later.

Mr. Reed, according to Detective-Lieutenant Stevens who investigated the accident, was "jaywalking" across Seventh street, between Broadway and Spring, when he stepped from behind an automobile and walked into the side of a taxicab driven by W. A. Sullivan of 127 East One Hundred and Ninth street. The shock threw Mr. Reed to the street and he was knocked unconscious when his head struck the pavement. He was rushed to Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Dunsmoor found him suffering from a depressed fracture of the skull. Shortly afterward, Mr. Reed died in Osteopathic Hospital as preparations were being made to operate. The body was taken to Pierce Brothers' undertaking parlors.

Mr. Reed, who was treasurer of the Temple Baptist Church, began his banking career in this city in 1898 with the old Southern California Savings Bank. In 1904 he became head teller of the Central Bank, and three years later joined the Home Savings Bank, now the California Bank, as assistant cashier. He remained with the Home Savings until 1917 when he resigned to serve overseas with the Young Men's Christian Association, being one of the committee of fifty which handled the war finances of that organization.

After the war Mr. Reed returned to the Home Savings Bank for a few months, then joined the new business development department of the Citizen's National. In 1920 he resigned, and with John T. Rowntree, G. C. DeGarmo and others organized and General Securities Corporation, specializing in automobile finance.

Mr. Reed, who is survived by his widow, Mrs. Olive Reed, and a daughter, Frances, a student in the University of Southern California, lived at 4265 Halldale street. He was active in charitable work, and according to his many friends in Los Angeles banks devoted a great deal, of his time and personal income to the care of needy men and women. In addition to his financial position with the Temple Baptist Church, he was also head of the Men's Club of that institution.

Paul Miller, 67 years of age, a baker employed at 1420 West Seventh street, was knocked down, burned and injured yesterday when an explosion caused by leaking gas followed his lighting of a baking oven. The explosion blew out several windows and splintered the glass in two show cases.

Mary Avery of Venice, an employee, was knocked down but unhurt. The explosion brought firemen and a huge crowd. Miller was taken to the Receiving Hospital. He will recover. He lives at 901 South Flower street.

NOW, ANANIAS, YOU TELL ONE

—[Headline in The Times, August 7]

WHEN A BAAD COMEBACK'S GOOD

Headwriter Having His Joke Gets Swift Reply from Hotel Man Who Tells Another Fish Story and Rings in a Devoured Squirrel—Not to Mention a Horse

That anybody should doubt his yarn about catching trout with field mice floated out on a small raft and pulled into the water surprised Charles Baad, manager of the Biltmore, who commented yesterday on the headline of the story which appeared in The Times a few days ago. The headline read: "Now, Ananias, You Tell One."

"As a matter of fact, that story was the unvarnished truth," asserted the manager. "I actually did catch trout that' way. But when it comes to telling fish stories, I know one much better than that.

"A few years ago Rodney Webster, recently appointed police commissioner, and I were fishing in the Big Horn Mountains in Wyoming. The streams had never been fished and teemed with trout so big you would never believe it if I told you.

"Well, one day we were crossing one of these streams on a fallen tree trunk. I had got across and Rodney had just stepped on the log when a squirrel appeared on the other end. Rodney thought he would step back to let the squirrel get by and in so doing the log turned and the squirrel fell into the water.

"I was watching the whole thing from the bank and I'm telling you something got that squirrel. I don't know what it was, for all I saw was a swirl and a big eddy. But the squirrel disappeared.

"That evening we told the old ranchman at whose cabin we were staying. The old man pulled his whiskers thoughtfully and then spoke solemnly: 'Boys, I've seen worse'n that in these hills, a heap worse. And I'm a-warnin' you that if y' ever cross any of them streams a horseback, ye better be ridin' a good-sized hoss.'"

YOUTH DIES WHEN THREE TRUCKS HIT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 10.—Theodore L. Nelson, 19 years of age, was killed instantly here today when a loaded ice truck turned over in a motor crash at Tenth street and American avenue. Three trucks were involved in the smashup.

Nelson was riding on the seat of a truck owned by the Home Ice Company and driven by Peter L. Falletta, 513 West Eleventh street, when the truck was struck by an oil tank truck, which previously had been rammed by a milk truck. According to police reports, Nelson attempted to jump, it was said, and was caught beneath the load of ice. A sheet of broken glass penetrated his throat. The youth lived at 1055 Magnolia avenue and was a student. The body was taken to the J. J. Mottell undertaking establishment, where an inquest is to be held.

TEMPERANCE UNION ENCAMPMENT NEAR

The thirteenth annual convention and encampment of the Southern California branch of the Young People's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will open at Long Beach on the 23rd inst., for four days with representatives from all sections of the Southland. The convention will be marked by two great mass meetings to which the public has been invited. The first of these is scheduled for the evening of the day on which the convention opens, the principal speaker being Helen Louise Byrnes, State general secretary of the Union. A rather elaborate program of entertainment and sports also has been arranged for the convention.

BOXER AND ACTRESS IN ELOPEMENT

Joe Benjamin, Lightweight, Weds Marion Nixon of Films Secretly at Riverside

Joe Benjamin, prize fighter, and Marion Nixon, screen actress, were wed at Riverside last Tuesday. The marriage occurred at Mission Inn, the ceremony being performed by Justice of the Peace Leonard Defani.

MARIAN NIXON

Efforts of the couple to keep the wedding a secret — the groom denying it as late as last night—failed.

Benjamin, who is a lightweight, gave his occupation as that of a broker; his home as Portland, Or.

The bride gave the name of Elsie Nixon, her age as 20 years, and her home as San Diego.

JOE BENJAMIN

The couple have been seen together for some time, the romance being an accepted secret among their friends.

Their wedding was in the nature of an elopement. The groom did not let his close friend, Jack Dempsey, in on his secret. With the film beauty, he motored to Riverside from Hollywood, the knot was tied and back they came.

MISSING YOUTH SOUGHT

Stevens is 18 years of age and is usually employed in drug stores or soda fountains. A letter written home from this city last Mothers' Day stated he was interested in motion pictures.

SANTA BARBARA AIDS FUND

Stricken City Contributes Full Share for Relief; San Francisco Launches Fast Campaign

In the campaign to raise $1,100,000 for emergency relief for the sufferers of the recent earthquake disaster, Santa Barbara was not expected to contribute a dollar. The courageous Channel City's burden of debt and financial loss was considered great enough by the California Development Association, which is endeavoring to raise the fund, but regardless of this Santa Barbara announced yesterday that it had "gone over the top" with its quota in the relief drive.

Santa Barbara declined to stand back and permit other California communities to provide the entire amount sought in the campaign. Santa Barbara insisted on contributing its share and set its own quota at $12,100. The amount was raised in a few days among those who were earthquake sufferers and has been paid in to the treasury of the Santa Barbara Relief Fund.

BAY CITY CONTRIBUTES

Los Angeles is far behind in its contributions to the emergency fund. Not so with San Francisco. San Francisco has experienced the ravages of earthquake disaster. That city knows what havoc, what destruction and suffering can be thrust upon a city during the few moments of a severe earthquake shock. Now—San Francisco has plunged into the drive for the $1,100,000 with a determination to "show up" Los Angeles.

San Francisco's quota has been set at $250,000. On the day that the earthquake descended upon Santa Barbara, San Francisco contributed $50,000 for relief for earthquake sufferers. Since then, business organizations have pledged themselves to other portions of the $200,000. They are doing so with a determination to beat Los Angeles in raising its prescribed quota.

Los Angeles cannot, must not, permit the northern city to raise its share of the emergency fund first. The drive for the relief funds is the worthiest one ever conducted in Los Angeles. Money is needed in Santa Barbara, and needed immediately. Ruined hospitals must be built. Orphanages must be repaired so that homeless waifs once more will have a safe roof over their heads. Temporary quarters must be erected for the school children whose schools were destroyed. Homeless residents, who have depended entirely upon charity since the day of the disaster and who are now living in squalor, must be housed. Penniless charitable agencies must be partially re-financed so that the humanitarian work that is now required more than ever before may be resumed.

SAN FRANCISCO NAMES RELIEF FUND COMMITTEE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Coincident with the launching today of a campaign to raise San Francisco's $250,000 quota of the $1,100,000 earthquake emergency relief fund for Santa Barbara, acting Mayor J. Emmet Hayden issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens for generous support and appointing a citizens committee of thirty, headed by Milton H. Esberg, to have charge of the work here.

The fund raising campaign got under way in earnest today with the assistance and co-operation of the California Development Association and the Chamber of Commerce. Several hundred dollars was sent in to relief fund headquarters last week without solicitation and Chairman Esberg expressed confidence that the total

Three Californians Named on American Body

Dr. Millikan, Dr. Hale and Kellogg Honored

Intellectual Co-operation Will be Advanced

Three Californians, two of them from the Southland have been named on the American National Committee on Intellectual Co-operation, which is to collaborate with the League of Nations Permanent International Committee, at Geneva, according to cable dispatches from Switzerland and announcement made here yesterday by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, American member of the Geneva body.

The California men on the intellectual co-operation body are Dr. Millikan, Nobel Prize winner and chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena; Dr. George E. Hale, member of the board of the Pasadena institution and honorary chairman of the National Research Council, and Vernon Kellogg, secretary of the National Research Council, formerly of Stanford University.

SIMILAR GROUPS

The American national committee will represent the United States in the work of the international body. Although formed by the League of Nations, through Dr. Millikan, it was organized with the cognizance of the national government and will be in a position to act as this country's clearinghouse for the intellectual progress and conditions in the United States. Similar national committees have been created in other countries, members of the League, according to Inazo Nitobe, assistant secretary-general of the Geneva group, the cable dispatches declared.

Through the different national committees, the central office of the international body at Geneva will collect and collaborate in the latest advances in scientific and intellectual fields of the world and make them available to the member nations for the general advancement of all.

According to Dr. Millikan and the other members of the American committee, the work of the international committee will establish the much-needed foundation for the scientific and intellectual progress of the coming decades.

ELIHU ROOT HEADS LIST

Elihu Root, past president of the American Bar Association, heads the list of the American committee. The others on it, in addition to the California men, are Charles H. NAMED BY MILLIKAN

As the United States is not a member of the League, appointment of its committee was not left to the government, as was done in the other countries. Dr. Milli-

TO SPEND $20,000 in a worse way than Millionaire Browning did would require considerable ingenuity.

MARY LOUISE SPAS

From every standpoint this incident has done almost irreparable harm.

It has made an already too cynical world more cynical. It adds to the cheap suspicion that often is the reward of genuine charity. It adds fuel to the flame of distrust between America and the foreign-born.

Lastly, this girl, Mary Louise Spas, will have to be be a lot bigger and stronger character than she appears to be if she can pick up her life and go on again in a normal, wholesome way.

If she can go back to the Spas family, lugging $20,000 worth of new clothes, and then become the happy wife of some amiable laundry driver, Mary will go down into tradition as a wonderful woman.

HIS MOTIVES

Sob-sisters are excitedly analyzing the motives of the millionaire Browning.

The funny part is that Millionaire Browning probably hasn't a very definite idea himself what his motives were.

A TEMPERAMENTAL STAR

There have, ere this, been grand-opera prima donnas with temperamental tantrums; but they were all pikers compared with Mme. Jeritza.

This Austrian diva can kick up more excitement than Mary Garden ever heard of. Her latest outburst was in Budapest, where she discovered that her art could not possibly function unless she had a certain suite of rooms at the Ritz Hotel.

A tearful impresario explained to her that the suite was occupied by Jeremiah Smith, the financial expert from the United States who is straightening out the finances of Hungary for the Allied nations.

Jeritza foamed and fumed and said that she wouldn't sing if she didn't get the rooms.

Whereat, Mr. Smith showed that Solomon had nothing on Jeremiah for diplomacy. Obviously, the official representative of the Allied nations couldn't move out at the demand of a cranky opera star; but Jeremiah could and did discover that the suite was too noisy and ask the hotel proprietor to move him out.

NAMING BABIES

It is evident that we are not going to have so many Marys and Helens in the next generation.

Children are getting plastered with names that are quaint and charming.

Sonya Levien, the author, has named her two cherubs Sergo and Tamara.

The other day I found two fascinating names in an old New England will. There being no infants available, I am going to bestow them on the pups; they are Demaris and Keturah.

HUSBAND'S SECRETARY

Mrs. Irene Moore of Chicago was one of those happy wives you read about until she took a job as secretary of her husband's industrial concern. After that her life was interspersed by bats over the head and sundry punches, biffs and whacks.

She says that no lady should be associated in business with her husband.

But, of course, there is another side. Consider the soul satisfaction of any business man in being able to express his opinion of a business partner by a thump in the ribs without resultant financial complications.

PIN REMOVED FROM STOMACH OF GIRL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 10.—A pin that became lodged just above the stomach, was removed from the body of Miss Margaret Farmer, 17 years of age, 137 South Belmont avenue, by surgeons at Seaside Hospital here today. The pin was located by use of special instruments and was removed without ill effects to the patient. The pin became lodged in the girl's body yesterday when it slipped down her throat while she was engaged in dressing at one of the bath houses.

POLICE HELD UP BY HI-JACKERS

Captured Truck and Liquor Taken from Officers

Pair Kept at Bay by Four Gunmen at Daybreak

Desperadoes Flee With 400 Cases of Contraband

Four hi-jackers yesterday held up two police officers who were bringing a truckload of seized whisky to Central Police Station and after keeping the officers at bay for more than twenty minutes escaped with the truck and 400 cases of whisky. The hold-up came about at dawn on Truck Boulevard near Manchester street, about two hours after Detectives Swindle and Wykoff of University Police Station had seized the truck and whisky and arrested four asserted whisky runners.

Following the arrests which were made just outside of the main harbor district the two detectives escorted their prisoners to San Pedro Police Station and then started to Central Police Station with the evidence still loaded on the truck.

According to the story told by the two officers, Detective Wykoff with a driver was on the truck and Detective Swindle was following in his personal automobile. The four hi-jackers, working in pairs sprang at them from the shadows of the road.

HELD AT BAY

Two of the gunmen leaped on the running board of the automobile and two on the truck. Both officers were covered by revolvers and forced to throw up their hands. They were then loaded into their own automobile with the truck driver and held by two of the gunmen while the other two drove off the truck.

Long after the tail light of the truck had disappeared, the police officers were released when the gunmen sprang from the automobile and raced away. A search of all the roads leading into Los Angeles was undertaken at once but no trace of the truck could be found.

The four prisoners at San Pedro Police Station gave their names as Edward Armstrong, Jack Larkin, Henry Costa and E. Thomas. When first arrested they were charged with violations of the Wright Act and the Federal liquor laws but after the evidence had been stolen the charges were reduced to vagrancy.

Efforts to trace the four hi-jackers yesterday failed and nothing could be learned by the police from the four prisoners. The license number of the truck, however, is in the hands of the police and efforts to locate it are now under way.

While police officers were attempting to trace the liquor truck, other officers yesterday continued the police war on gunmen and other underworld characters which was put under way last Saturday by members of the District Attorney's office, the Sheriff's office and the police department.

MORE FACE ARREST

In the first drive last week, "Black Tony" Parmagini and Tony Cornero, both asserted leaders in the underworld, were taken into custody on vagrancy charges and warned to leave the city. Scores of lesser lights also were arrested and will have to stand trial as vagrants or get out of the city.

Yesterday a list of twelve names asserted to be those of leaders of the gunmen was compiled by the police and orders issued to bring the men in. Officers from the Sheriff's office and the District Attorney's office also compiled lists of persons suspected by them as underworld characters.

Announcement was made late yesterday afternoon by the Sheriff that Walter South, said to have

Shine Boys Have Machine Rival

Tries Out New Idea

POLISH FOR NICKEL BY SLOT PLAN

New Machine Furnishes Shine in Minute for All Who Feel Rushed

No longer is the chewing gum industry to hold exclusive sway in the slot machine field. Hereafter, shoe shining is to provide the element of competition in the nickel-in-the-slot game.

The elevation of the slot machine from the depths of chewing gum to the heights of shoe polishing is due to a Long Beach concern which is establishing small electric shoe-shining machines in corner drug stores, barber shops and other habitats of the elusive nickel. The machine is a compact affair equipped with two large circular brushes. The intending customer drops his coin in a slot and the brushes revolve for one minute. The brush at the left carries paste to the shoes; the one at the right provides the finishing polish.

According to all reports, the machines give promise of considerable popularity, especially with those who are in a hurry and haven't time to wait for the colored boy to finish a long line of preceding customer's shoes.

some connection, according to both the police and the Sheriff's men, with bootlegging in this district, will report to the Sheriff some time today, according to his attorneys, MacDonald and Thompson. Just what the nature of the conference will be has not been announced.

Inspector of Detectives Davis, commander of the police vice division and Captain of Detectives Finlinson announced also that every one of their men has been instructed to arrest suspicious characters wherever found and in particular to bring in all gunmen.

No new arrests came yesterday during the day, but raids will be conducted early this morning according to the authorities, which are expected to net some of the gang leaders.

FIVE BURGLARY SUSPECTS ROUNDED UP

A quintet of burglar suspects, three of whom are declared to have operated with success in the Wilshire district, were rounded up by police yesterday in conjunction with the general drive against gunmen and others of the same ilk.

Two of the suspects, Andrew Shafer and Jack Ash, were turned over to the Pasadena police, where they are said to be wanted on burglary and other charges. Shafer was declared by local officers to have a long police record with a term at San Quentin also on his record.

Three other suspects were arrested at Venice. They are Jake Greenberg, 19 years of age, and Alfred Loomis and Tom Smith, 20. They are declared to have operated extensively in the Wilshire district and to have many "jobs" to their credit. Detectives are seeking to link them up definitely with a large number of these burglaries. Loomis also is said to have a police record, having escaped once and having served a term in the County Road Camp, according to officials.

MORE ARRESTED IN HOLLYWOOD DRIVE

Continuing their "clean-up" campaign against Hollywood bootleggers, members of the vice squad of the Hollywood police division arrested four men on Wright Act violation charges Saturday and Sunday, according to reports filed yesterday. The four taken into custody gave their names as Walter Isaacman, 39 years of age, arrested at 2183 North Argyle avenue; Paul Lowney, 27, arrested at Ridgewood and DeLongpre avenues; Charles Nicholson, 31, arrested at 6855 Bonita Terrace; Terry F. O'Hara, 26, arrested at 1354 1-2 Ridgewood Place.

Sergt. Gruey, Officers Campbell and Dolan, members of the vice squad, made the arrests and confiscated a large quantity of asserted liquor which is being held as evidence. More than a dozen Wright Act arrests have been made in the Hollywood division since the 1st inst., the sergeant declared.

SON-IN-LAW HELD GUILTY OF FRAUD

Ray Swaar, who was convicted in Judge Hahn's court of embezzling $2500 worth of bonds from his father-in-law, J. A. Menae, was held guilty of the charge yesterday by Justice Curtis of the Second District Court of Appeals, Division 1. Swaar appealed his case on grounds that the jury in Judge Hahn's court was misinstructed. Justice Curtis affirmed Judge Hahn's instruction and decision with the concurrence of Presiding Justice Conray.

BROKER CHARGED WITH DRIVING WHILE DRUNK

Arrested late Sunday night by Officers Shields and Russell at Hollywood Boulevard and Vermont avenue, a man giving his name as John S. Barkley, 37 years of age, a broker touring California, was lodged in jail on a charge of intoxication and "tagged" for reckless driving. The officers reported that Barkley seemed unable to handle his automobile and that a young woman in the car was forced to pull up the emergency brake in order to bring the machine to a halt at a boulevard stop.

BLACK CAT LEADS WAY TO LIQUOR

Officers on Stroll Follow Feline in Door and Bring Out Man and Still

Says Sergt. Rudolph to Officers Hudson and Clarke last night as they sauntered on Moulton street, "Sh-h-h-h me lads, there's a black cat. And, by all the Kilkenny cats I ever heerd of black cats are hard luck."

Says Officers Hudson and Clarke to their superior on the liquor squad, Sergt. Rudolph, as they made contortionistic leaps to avoid having the despised cat pass in front of them: "S-sh-h-h-h-h! We smell hooch."

'Twas directly before No. 631 Moulton street they had halted and it was directly into 631 Moulton street the dark-skinned feline was moving with all the devilishness a hoodoo-bearing critter can assume. The officers followed. Ten minutes later the Black Maria (patrol wagon, not the tabby) was moving off with Oppale Conie, a fifty-gallon still, 200 gallons of moonshine hot off the still, and Sergt. Rudolph and Officers Hudson and Clarke.

While up alleys and over back fences moved the rest of the Conie family, muttering strangely and hurling as they moved bricks and dingbats at an astounded black cat.

STOCK SALE PETITIONED BY AIRWAYS

Company Proposes to Bid for Mail Contracts and Carry Plane Passengers

A petition to sell stock here in the National Airways Company was presented yesterday to Harry Strachan, local Deputy State Corporation Commissioner, by Arthur D. Smith of Glendale, president of the Furniture Dealers' Association of California.

The air line wishes to dispose of stock valued at $250,000 here and then bid for an air mail route between Los Angeles, Bakersfield, Fresno and Modesto and another between Los Angeles and Salt Lake, according to Smith.

In addition to carrying mail, the petition states, the National Airway Company proposes to carry passengers, motion picture films and other high-class freight.

If the concern gets the bid for the two routes, it will maintain two planes on each route and two for emergency use, the petition sets forth.

kan was asked to form the committee. The organization was preceded by considerable correspondence between Dr. Millikan and some of the nation's foremost men and women in intellectual and scientific fields. Washington, also, was made aware of the desire of the scientists and educators of the world to have American co-operation, and was found to be entirely sympathetic on the nonpolitical phases of the undertaking.

The international committee of Geneva includes some of the men whose achievements in their respective fields have contributed the outstanding milestones of humanity's progress of the age. Among these are Henri Bergson, French philosopher, who is president of the Geneva body, Gilbert Murray, England's scholar; H. A. Six bullet wounds were found on his body. He died without a statement. Two or three men and a woman, whom one of the men called "Babe," were said by neighbors of Karston to have done the killing. A number of persons heard the shots and H. Nordlund, proprietor of a garage, saw an automobile speed away afterward.

Acting Mayor Hayden's proclamation follows:

"The people of Santa Barbara suffered the visitation of an earthquake on June 29, 1925.

"The human and civic needs of the stricken community have been surveyed by competent engineers and philanthropists, who have determined on the immediate exigencies of the situation and have called upon the people of the State of California to aid in meeting the emergency through the raising of a relief fund of $1,100,000, of which San Francisco's quota is $250,000.

"We of San Francisco, ever mindful of the generosity of our State and country in our hour of need, stand ready to meet this call upon our sympathy and to open our hearts and purses to our fellow Californians in distress.

"Therefore, as acting Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco, I am appointing a citizen's committee representative of all the best interests of our community to lead in this movement and call upon our entire citizenry to respond to this appeal and to extend their financial assistance promptly and generously."

SAN FRANCISCO DRIVE RAISES $100,000 FIRST DAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The first day's figures including sums previously pledged in the campaign to raise an earthquake emergency relief fund of $1,100,000 for Santa Barbara showed that a mark of $100,000 was being neared

The California Development Association issued a statement tonight showing that the financial standing of the campaign to date, based on money actually in the hands of the relief committee was as follows:

San Francisco, $50,000; Los Angeles, $20,607.50; California Edison Company, $5000; Santa Barbara county (full quota) $12,100; Mount Ida Packing Company, Oroville, $50. A number of other sums, including miscellaneous and anonymous brought the total to $88,912.50. These figures did not include the quota of Santa Paula, the first city to oversubscribe its share, nor thousands of dollars known to have been raised in other communities of the State.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce issued a statement saying that citizens of the Bay City were rallying loyally in support of the campaign to raise the local quota of $250,000.

The Building Trades Council of San Francisco adopted a resolution to "call upon all affiliated unions to contribute to the fund that is being raised for the emergency relief work of the Santa Barbara sufferers."

Acting Mayor J. Emmett Hayden of San Francisco today issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens for generous support. He appointed a citizens' committee of thirty, to handle the work here.

ENGINEERING BOARD CONCLUDES LABORS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 10.—Their work finished, the three engineers engaged by the city immediately following the earthquake to appraise and inspect all damaged property, were released today and returned to their homes. They are W. A. Dunton, Jr., and L. D. Carter of Los Angeles, and Alfred L. Vezina of San Francisco.

Following an inspection by a board of twenty California engineers headed by C. E. Marx, head of the engineering department of Stanford University, the three men were engaged by the city to meet with property owners protesting findings of the original board. These engineers have filed a written report on each building in Santa Barbara in any wise damaged and upon their findings condemnations are being made. More than twenty-five buildings have thus far been ordered razed and others have been ordered destroyed and the findings held in abeyance pending adjustments with insurance companies or perfection of pending sales.

A. C. Potoese was badly injured today when caught under his residence, which slipped from jacks while being raised. Two heavy nails entered his back and he was pinned down until jacks could be secured and the building lifted from him. The house fell the the morning of the earthquake and was being put back on its foundation.

The Red Cross announced today that it has given help in more than 500 cases since the earthquake, many of them awards to people whose homes were damaged and who were unable financially to make repairs.

Many awards are pending, to be made as soon as money comes in from various California cities now making a drive for funds to aid the city.

YOUNG OFFENDERS TO SERVE SENTENCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, Aug. 10.—Roy Sandedge, 17 years of age, one of three Ivanhoe lads who broke into the same Ivanhoe store three successive nights, stealing three bottles of soda pop on each occasion, is expected to leave tonight in company with an officer for the State school at Preston. When taken before Juvenile Judge W. B. Wallace, Sandedge was found to have had considerable previous trouble, and it was decided to send him to Preston.

Ross Young, 17, of Farmersville, who on July 31 attempted to hold up City Marshall Roy Sill of Exeter and R. C. Franklin of the First National Bank of Exeter, with guns, will be taken to the Whittier school.

The lad is said to have admitted passing checks to the amount of $100 on the bank, using his father's name. He was originally charged with forgery.

WAR AGAINST PESTS

FRESNO, Aug. 10.—With railroads, co-operative organizations and public organizations participating, Fresno today launched a campaign against the puncture vine, which the associated agencies hope in time to make valley-wide if not State-wide in scope.

Headed by Fire Marshal W. R. Williams as chairman, the campaign organization will start a clean-up within a few days, which contemplates removal and immediate burning of the weed from streets and alleys, and education of the property owners to the need for eradicating it from their premises.

Those who framed our constitution provided for the division between the powers of the three departments. Thus the three branches of the government are as checks upon each other and supreme.

LIU KEEPING THOUSANDS FIT

Many Show Much Interest in Daily Dozens

Next Subjects Will be on Air Tomorrow Night

If you happen to be up that early for pass down one of the principal streets in Hollywood, Chicago, Toronto or Philadelphia some morning about 7 o'clock, you'll likely hear through the window a voice saying, "Put your head from the waist, touch-your-toes!"

The morning features given over the tower studio of The Times at 7 o'clock every morning of the week by Prof. Barclay L. Severns have proved successful since their beginning last March. As a result that a multitude of persons find their calls and exercises, and many real cronies gather in the early studio for those physical culture classes than any other regular broadcast.

HEARD IN CANADA

Following the broad reception of two of the radio classes in the use of the body through setting-up exercises, letters have been received from all parts of the United States and Canada from persons who regularly participate in the health programs of starting the day right.

Promptly at 7 o'clock every morning the crisp voice of Prof. Severns comes on the air. You almost hear the buzz of alarm clocks in thousands of homes as they bring a window for the first setting exercises continue for fifteen minutes, frequently followed by a five-minute talk on effective methods of using for health.

The usual exercise period of Prof. Severns and the noon concert marked yesterday, the usual noise that envisages the studio on Sunday in pursuit radio-set owners in this vicinity to get distance tests at least one day a week. Following the broadcast by Prof. Severns from the Arcade Cafeteria orchestra, under remote control from 12 to 12:30 o'clock, the Piggly Wiggly girls, through the courtesy of the Piggly Wiggly stores, entertained with a well selected group of numbers, featured by an unusually fine group of Chauncey Haughwout of Erin. Odell Lee, home soprano, made her debut before the microphone on this occasion, and was spontaneously praised for the sweet and appealing qualities of her well trained voice. Les Roscoe, the "Rag Man of KHJ," also played, broadcasting under the auspices of the Hollywood Oldsmobile Company.

TUNES TO SING

Tomorrow hour at 6:30 this program will be marked by the visit of petite Queen Titania, monarch of the radio realm, with the Sandman and Jack. H. M. Robertson, authority on dogs and their cares and training, will speak at 7:30, to be followed two-hour musical program, given through the courtesy of the Arden Laundry Company, with the usual guests and star features of the Royal Indians will broadcast tomorrow night over the microphone. A picked group of real original Americans, here in Hollywood to play a part in the filming of Paramount's forthcoming picture, "The Vanishing American," will be in the studio at 9:30 in the evening.

Chief Yowlachie Smith, known as a favorite figure to every one of the Indians on the great Navajo reservation in Arizona, will sharpen up his group in the studio and then listen to radioland. They will sing some of the centuries old songs of the ancient cliff dwellers, accompanying themselves on the strange tom tom and other aboriginal instruments.

ILL-HEALTH HELD CAUSE FOR SUICIDE

Mother of Two Children Kills Self While Husband Does Shopping

Despondency due to ill health was considered to have brought on the suicide yesterday of Mrs. Eleanor Kern, 32 years of age, the wife of R. J. Kern, film editor in a motion-picture studio, who fired a bullet into her right temple at the family home, 311 South Manhattan Place.

Beside her husband, she leaves two children, a boy, 8, and a girl, 6.

Mrs. Kern had suffered from mental depression for the past six months, her physician, Dr. H. B. Tebbetts, told Detective Lieutenant Teel of Wilshire station. She had but recently returned from a sanatorium.

While Mr. Kern was at the market yesterday morning the housekeeper, Mrs. Lee Reed, heard a shot and the thud of a falling body. Running upstairs she found the woman expiring with a .25-caliber automatic pistol on the floor beside her.

The body was taken to the funeral establishment of Reed Bros., 721 West Washington street.

Philharmonic Leader to Make Hollywood Bowl Bow Tonight

Walter Henry Rothwell, conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, will inaugurate the sixth week of the Hollywood Bowl concerts tonight.

Though making his initial appearance at the Bowl, Rothwell has directed the Philharmonic for six years, gaining national recognition for the ensemble during that time.

He opens with Cesar Franck's D Minor Symphony. "La Valse," by Ravel, will be given its initial presentation at the Bowl.

Rothwell's programs Thursday and Friday will be enhanced by two musical figures. Samuel Gardner, arriving here Wednesday from conducting a master class in San Francisco, will appear Thursday. As the only violinist of the season at the Bowl, he will play the Bruch Concerto in G Minor and conduct his own tone poem, "New Russia," never before given here.

Howard Hanson, of the Eastman School of Music, Friday will conduct his second original opus of the season. His mammoth "Nordic Symphony" will be given its Pacific Coast premiere.

Tonight's program follows:

Symphony in D Minor.....Cesar Franck
Intermission.
La Valse.....Ravel
Introduction Act III, "Tristan and Isolde".....Wagner
O. W. Hoffman playing English horn solo.
Prize Song from "Meistersinger of Nuremberg".....Wagner
Rhapsody.....Georges Enesco

PRAISE FOR CURE CAUSE OF ACTION

Wife of Physican Seeks Damages for Asserted Embellishing of Letter

Charging that a letter she wrote in praise of a rheumatism cure was embroidered and then published without her consent, Mrs. Katherine Keene, wife of Walter Pierce Keene, a Los Angeles physician, yesterday brought suit for $25,000 damages against Ernest G. Brookman, San Pedro medicine manufacturer.

Mrs. Keene said in her complaint that she gave Brookman a letter, declaring her belief that Brookman's remedy had been of benefit when her left knee pained her, upon his pledge to show it only privately. Greatly to her distress, she asserts, the letter, considerably embellished and revised, appeared in advertisements in several Southern California newspapers.

"In my despair, after practically giving up all hope, a kind friend recommended ——, and I want you to know that I am expressing my gratitude to you by recommending this marvelous product to others. I wish the public could witness the instant relief it is bringing them," was among things added to her mild praise, she declares.

For thus making her ridiculous, in view of her position as a physician's wife, Mrs. Keene demands $10,000, with $15,000 additional for punitive damages.

The Henry Phipps estate proposes building a sixteen-story hotel for working girls in New York City. It is proposed to provide room and seven dinners for $10 to $14 a week.

GIRL SOUGHT HERE FOR POSITION IN MISSIOURI

A good position and important mail in Kansas City awaits Miss Myrtle Dean, 24 years of age. The Times was informed yesterday by L. N. Gladwell of 3928 Walnut street, of the Western Missouri metropolis. Mr. Gladwill wrote here in the hope of locating Miss Dean's father, a carpenter, and brother, a trap drummer, who may know of her whereabouts. Miss Dean left Kansas City July 24, last, after living there for some time and her present address is not known, the letter said. The father and brother are believed to be in or near Los Angeles.

DRUGGIST FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

A fine of $10 was imposed upon N. L. Jeane, Santa Ana druggist, by Federal Judge McCormick yesterday. He was found guilty of possessing and selling liquor. Federal Judge Sheppard sentenced Jim Mumalo to six months and Jim Taveglio to five months and fined them each $100 for selling and possessing liquor. H. L. Brown, in jail since July 1 on similar charges, was given four months' probation.

CITY TO HIRE DOCTORS

On account of the large and increasing number of maternity cases handled by the City Health Department, Mayor Cryer and the City Council's finance committee yesterday authorized the employment of eight additional physicians as requested by Health Officer Parrish.

GIRLS DENY NUDE DANCE ORGY GUILT

Women Arrested in Raid on Asserted Revel Enter Pleas of Not Guilty

Verda Gay and Catherine Belmont, arrested with two other women and a number of men during an asserted nude dancing revel in a house at 1601 North Hobart Boulevard, pleaded not guilty to a charge of social vagrancy before Police Judge Bullock yesterday. Their case was set for September 2, next, and their bail fixed at $150, which was provided.

Hazel Cunningham, arrested on a similar charge at the same time, forfeited her bail by failure to appear and enter a plea. Mrs. Marie Harris, the fourth feminine member of the party, pleaded not guilty to the charge last Saturday and her case is scheduled to come up on Friday.

Four negro musicians and two white men were arrested by the police raiders at the same time. They are held on Wright Act charges.

Trio Pay High Venison Price, but Don't Eat It

To purchase some deer meat at about $10 a pound and then not get it was the fate of three men arraigned in Justice Perkins's court at Newhall, according to a report by Assistant Chief Game Warden Perkins filed yesterday. They were fined a total of $1150 for killing one buck.

R. A. Marshall, Pine Canyon resident, was sentenced to thirty days, suspended, and $400 fine; Jess Gilbert, Pine Canyon resident, thirty days, suspended, and $250 fine, and Leslie Barneson of Los Angeles, said to be an official of the General Petroleum Corporation, ninety days, suspended, and $500 fine.

CLEANING UP

There are so many black shirts in Italy that it is a wonder somebody wouldn't start a laundry.

ON THE DEAD

A New Jersey couple, married in the county morgue, to make the thing complete should have had their nuptials reported in the obituary column.

STRANGE SOUNDS

The scientists who are here have devices so delicate that they may listen to the roar of the waves of ether as they dash upon the shoals of eternity. Likewise they can identify the atoms as they bark at one another.

GOOD ADVICE

Just before his death, "The Grand Old Man of British Medicine," Sir Clifford Allbutt, gave this advice: "If Christendom will abandon its 2000-year-old habit of internal controversy, and concentrate upon developing an inborn sense of the indwelling God, it will attain to its ancient and fundamental aim of Christian unity."

SAVE THE STUBS

Smokers who toss their smoldering cigar stubs from a car window to the city pavements are really violating a new fire-prevention act, but it is not likely that the law will be extensively enforced in Main street. That is the trouble with our laws. A lot of them are built so as to make their enforcement either impossible or ridiculous.

INSECT SENSES

How do bees and foraging ants find their way back home? According to a French wireless expert, who is also a bug expert, insects have a homing sense which works like the radio. By waving their antennae they create ether waves too subtle to vibrate human ear drums and thus carry on conversations at long distances. The surest way to lose a troublesome insect is to snip off its antennae.

ON THE WRONG TRACK

For centuries men and women have been working along lines of spiritualism to establish communications between the living and the dead. Deeply into this subject Houdini has explored, without discovering an atom of proof that the dead talk with the living. No one can say such conversations are impossible, but it looks as if the lines of communication will be found, if ever, through some at present unheralded discovery.

LIFE-SAVING VESTS

For policemen and duellists, metal vests are recommended as bullet-proof by New York City headquarters. The vests are made of three thicknesses of steel scales held together by fabrikoid, the whole being not much heavier or thicker than an ordinary cloth vest. The inventor explains the marvelous resistance of the vest by reference to a bell. "If you put your hand between the clapper and the side of a big bell, it would be mashed; yet after the bell is struck you can stop its ringing by putting your hand on it, and you will feel nothing but a tingling sensation. This shows that the human body has a wonderful capacity for absorbing energy without injury to itself when that energy is transformed into a proper vibratory motion."

JUST THE OLD FAITH

Whoever coined the name fundamentalists to stand for those persons who oppose the evolutionists, did much to cloud the issue for thousands of people. Dr. Machen of Princeton voices objection to the high-sounding word because he says it suggests some strange new sect, whereas it simply means all persons who believe and maintain the historic Christian faith. For many years some bodies of Christians have rung the changes on "fundamentalism" until folks formed the notion that it was some sort of a new religion. A conscientious old-fashioned Christian, an adherent of the orthodox faith, was heard voicing his indignation toward "them fundamentalists," because he understood they were trying to start a new denomination.

THE TAX TANGLES

It costs the government a lot of money to collect the income taxes. The machinery is complicated and the services of a large number of extra officials are required. Yet it is conceded by a member of the Cabinet that the people who pay the tax are every year giving four or five times this collection cost to various attorneys, advisers and tax experts merely for information as to the amount they should pay and for the preparation of their schedules. A tax system as complicated and costly as this is a reflection upon modern business. The people are placed in the position of not only paying huge sums for the men and machinery to collect their taxes, but the same citizens pay heavily from their private purses for knowledge relating to the tax-gatherer and his methods. Here is an endless chain of tax-eaters.

THE HARBOR'S DOORWAY

Los Angeles Harbor has reached the point in its development where the exits for its commerce on the land side have become as vital as its ship accommodation on the water front. The time has arrived when the best manner of approach for steam and electric railways and other public carriers must be decided upon—in other words, for fitting a neck to the bottle, of the right size and in the best place for discharging its contents.

A whole-hearted co-operation between the carriers, the city and State authorities and the public is essential that there be no mistake made in the right settlement of this vital question. The State Railroad Commission, the Board of Harbor Commissioners, the Board of Supervisors, the Harbor Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce, the city of Long Beach and the Union Pacific Railroad are in general accord in constructing the Dominguez viaduct to provide entrance facilities for the competing roads into the harbor district.

That should be sufficient warranty that this is the logical solution of the problem. But so far the Santa Fe has failed to agree to the plan, although it has been approved by competent engineers and is earnestly desired by the people of Los Angeles county.

The Santa Fe officials have not denied the feasibility of the plan or refused entirely to follow the suggestions of the Board of Harbor Commissioners as approved by the State Railroad Commission. But they have advanced alternative plans, the consideration of which will hold up the much-desired work and may retard this badly needed improvement.

Everyone wishes to see the Santa Fe Railway have entry to the harbor on equal terms with its competitors. Indeed, the harbor authorities, in their desire to aid this great transcontinental carrier, have permitted the Santa Fe a temporary crossing at grade over Anaheim Boulevard on condition that when the Domingues viaduct is complete the company will tear up these temporary tracks and join the other roads in the use of the viaduct entrance.

The Santa Fe has obscured the direct issue by coupling its assent with other alternatives, the acceptance of which would not prove satisfactory to the harbor, the city or the general public.

The Santa Fe, in a form of agreement to which it hopes to have the Harbor Board agree, reserves for itself the right of choice of four permanent entries, one of which is at the Domingues viaduct, the other three being obviously obnoxious to the public, as they would not remove the objectionable grade crossings. Unless the Santa Fe agrees definitely to accept the viaduct entrance and to tear up its temporary tracks across Anaheim Boulevard, the Harbor Board cannot allow the Santa Fe the privileges of this accommodation entry to the harbor without destroying the whole scheme.

Unless the Santa Fe is willing to co-operate, unavoidable delays will follow, for the Railroad Commission has no legal authority to order the railroad to join with the city and other authorities in the Domingues route. Yet, surely, this far-seeing railroad company will not need compulsion to come in on a plan the benefits of which must be as plain to its own engineers as to those employed by the city.

The Domingues viaduct will eliminate all railroad crossings of Anaheim Boulevard. According to the Southern California Automobile Club, this is one of our worst congested thoroughfares. The viaduct conforms exactly with the harbor railroad plan for providing the most efficient rail connection between Los Angeles and her harbor. It also assures an open gateway for other new railroads desiring to reach tidewater. There is no feature in the program that the Santa Fe can logically refuse to accept.

The Times has always urged granting the Santa Fe every reasonable facility to reach its goal near the wharves and docks of Los Angeles Harbor. Its entry is essential for the good of the road itself and to meet the expansion of the Pacific port and its ever-increasing volume of shipping. But those facilities must be along the lines of orderly harbor development; otherwise the interests of the city and the Santa Fe alike will suffer.

OUR GOVERNOR LAUDED

Hearty and well-deserved praise is given by the Country Gentlemen, the leading farm journal of America, to Gov. Friend W. Richardson. It was to be expected that California's reform Governor would receive national recognition for his services as a model official economist in these days when the taxpayers of the whole country are being so unmercifully exploited. The meat of the Philadelphia journal's laudation of Friend Richardson's stalwart and uncompromising move upon the looters of the State treasury is found in a paragraph which states that his "brutal directness in detecting the milk in legislative cocoanuts has done irreparable harm to the interests of certain old-line politicians during the nigh three years of his incumbency."

It is pointed out in the article that habits of wastefulness at Sacramento were formed during the Johnson regime, which, with the "multiplicity of commissions" then built up, was "very, very expensive." Gov. Richardson is described as "a country editor, with a homespun exterior," against whom two Legislatures have bumped up and "the contacts have left them a little breathless." The extraordinary fact is related that of the 998 bills passed by the last Legislature Gov. Richardson signed only 480, the rest being vetoed or allowed to "die in his pocket." "California," the article states, "is getting economy in earnest from its country-editor Governor."

It is well that the rest of the country, in these times of legislative extravagance, is having set before it the example of a frugal State executive, though it may astonish many outsiders who are in the least acquainted with our history that it is a California Governor who sets the example. And it is cause for further amazement that a candidate who, during his campaign for office, promised the people a drastic reduction in the budget should have remembered his promise after election, as Friend Richardson did when the first budget he submitted to the Legislature was for $79,000,000, as compared with a previous biennial expenditure of $91,000,000. During the last legislative session he vetoed appropriation bills aggregating over $3,000,000 and put his foot on a good many other measures that would have added to the tax burden of the people of California. Pre-election promises of economy usually go for nothing, but in Gov. Richardson's case it seems that he really meant them and set to work valiantly to carry them out.

It would have been difficult for Gov. Richardson to have fulfilled his promises to the people if he had had a political machine behind him and a lot of hangers-on to propitiate or reward. But he had no such machine and no such hangers-on, so the rewards went to the people, who, in turn, are rewarding him with their gratitude.

What Friend Richardson has done other State Governors can do if they will divest themselves of political impediments and step out boldly in the service of the public. The best part of the good work he has done for California lies in the fact that, with his record before them, future candidates for his high office will be less likely to permit themselves to be tied up to machines, for they will realise that the people will brook none of the wastefulness in which such entanglements inevitably result.

WHAT IS LIFE?

"We cannot explain life in terms of physical science," Dr. Alexander Findlay of the University of Aberdeen, Scotland, told the American Chemical Society in this city the other night. He and Dr. Willis R. Whitney, a New York scientist, had been picturing life's processes and had given intimate details of the structure and decomposition of matter, but they frankly stated that these processes and elements were a mystery for future generations to solve.

What is life? It is said to be contained in matter, and matter as Dr. Whitney pointed out, is composed of positive and negative charges of protons and electrons. "Roughly speaking," he said, "the atom is a positive charge, with an equal number of positive charges spaced in and about it. . . . It is almost as empty as a perfect vacuum, though it usually contains a lot of energy." One well may ask if this energy is life. It may be, but as dead as well as living organisms are composed of atoms—that is to say, of protons and electrons—the mystery remains unsolved.

What is life? Dr. Millikan could give minute details as to the structure of the last divisibility of matter, he could weigh electrons and could lay the foundation for possible subsequent discoveries, but neither he nor any other of the foremost scientists of the age can tell us what life is.

Dr. Jacques Loeb has been credited with the artificial creation of life, but the most he did was to assist by chemical means the propagation of lower animal forms of existence. He created no life. There is but one Creator and He has so shrouded in mystery the essential processes of generation and reproduction that it may be ages before man shall be able to pierce the veil.

What is life? If, as Dr. Findlay says, we cannot look to the physicist to explain it, where shall we go? Our lexicons generally afford us explanatory terms that are fairly definitive, but their definitions of life are far from satisfactory, and they chase each other in a baffling circle. The word "life" they define as "the state of being alive." Then we look up "alive" and find that it means "in a living state." And "living," in turn, means "having life or vitality." This brings us back to where we started and leaves us no wiser than before. For the interjection of the word "vitality" adds nothing of clarity to the explanation of life itself, for life is seen to be distinct from vitality. Life is loosely defined as the actual state of living, while vitality is the power of living or of maintaining life.

What is this conscious, intelligent existence? It is known to us, as to the wisest biologist, only by its manifestations. It is seen as the condition in which animals and plants exist when exercising their natural functions. Viewed as the course of human existence, it is by no means satisfactory. We cannot accept the Ingersollian idea that "Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities." We cling to the concept of soul and immortality. It is by aspiration, individual and racial, that we progress and that we aspire to immortality is but a part of our natural evolution. Our future state of existence may not be a part of the earthly state, but it is that extension of it in which nearly every race upon the planet, civilized or otherwise, has some sort of belief.

It is to be admitted that we have not proceeded very far beyond the ideas of the ancients as to what constitutes mortal existence, but our notions are less fantastic, and as for life's purpose, we have much clearer concepts. Though we may lapse into barbarity, as in our wars, we recognize barbarity for what it is and are loath to practice it, whereas the ancients delighted in it, though many of their philosophers decried it. In their weird speculations upon life none exceeded those of Euripides, who asked quite seriously:

"Who knows but life be that which men call death,
And death what men call life?"

This idea was entertained, after a fashion, by Tolstoi, by whom the insubstantial and illusory nature of life was freely pictured along with what is commonly regarded as the most substantial of elements, including the earth itself, though he was a Christian—a follower of Him who said of life that "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing."

So it would seem that if our physicists are looking altogether to matter for the source and explanation of life, it is to be feared that their search will be a fruitless one.

A PROTEST

A California veterinarian has succeeded in removing the bark from a dog and suggests that his example be universally followed.

What! Take from Towser, Tige and Tray
Their most enjoyable possession;
The joyful yelp, the deep-mouthed bay,
With which they strive for self-expression.
Must science, heaven save the mark,
Engage upon a base endeavor
To still the watch-dog's honest bark Forever?

Lord Byron, listening to this sound,
Composed a flaming panegyric
On dogs and home, which may be found
In his most widely quoted lyric.
While Goldsmith never failed to find,
When to his lowly cot retiring,
The voice that "bayed the whispering wind"
Inspiring.

Unseemly would the moon appear
In any of its changing phases
If, when it shone forth bright and clear,
No bark arose to sing its praises.
In midnight silence we'd be drowned
If, by a scientific flat
Both mongrel, puppy, whelp and hound
Were quiet.

Aye! spare the barks, the yaps, the bays
That from nearby or at a distance,
A thousand happy canines raise
To speak their joy in this existence.
We've clipped their tails and ears; in parks
With leashes we abridge their freedom,
By all means let 'em keep their barks—
They need 'em!

THE MOCKING BIRD

Faint as the dawning of a hope,
Or breathing of a prayer,
There steals a muted, flute-like note
Upon the brooding air;
And as I list, with bated breath,
A gentle cadence swells,
As mellow as the dulcet tones
Of distant evening bells.

Then floods of joyous rapture break
In wild, exotic strains,
Exultant pipings bid the night
Unloose its slumber chains,
And let the earth awake to hear
This wondrous potpourri—
The very stars stand quivering—pierced
By shafts of ecstasy.

Had I your power, dear bird, to set
My fettered song-wings free,
I could not live—to bear such bliss
Would rend the heart o' me!

LETTERS TO The Times

Cruelty of Archery

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I so often we frequently read of the hunting of animals with a bow and arrow—still another fiendish form of "sport" invented by the mind of mankind to give additional thrills to their [illegible]

I have before me an article written by a medical man and party of San Francisco describing his exciting trip on a bear hunt with bow and arrow in the Yellowstone Park. How they hid behind logs and let fly their steel-pointed arrows into a mother bear and her cubs that were innocently playing together, etc. How the mother bear, with an arrow fastened in her shoulder and not knowing whence it came, started to tear her cub to pieces in her frantic agony.

How the hunting party trailed the mother bear for two days, finding where she had broken the arrow off and pulled it out of her body, where she had laid in pools of water colored with blood and at last the poor tortured body of the dead mother bear.

How long—oh, God—how long will the slumbering conscience of the people refuse to awaken to the diabolical crime of cruelty to animals? How long will mercy and justice be supplanted by the hydra-headed monster of cruelty that leaves its slimy trail of inconceivable suffering upon creatures whose capacity for life and liberty, love and happiness is just as sacred in the eyes of the Creator as our own.

The Book Agent a Boon

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I note that the report of the late meeting of Subscription Book Publishers in Chicago states that, during the vacation, 10,000 students paid their university expenses by engaging in the "agency" business, "reference" books being the most favored line.

This recalls Dr. Crane's recent article on "The Essential Value of the Book Agent," whom he describes as a literary specialist, an important factor in our educational system. Nearly all the important reference works are sold by the agents—they could not be published to rest on book-store shelves—yet these are the real literary foundation of the home. The book agent is a very important factor in our great educational system and is usually a person of character and standing; this line of educational work was engaged in by Washington, Garfield and many distinguished citizens.

We should welcome the opportunity the book agent affords.

Water Wasters

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—[To the Editor of the Times:] I have lived in a number of our larger cities, but I have never seen so much water wasted in sprinkling the lawns as in Los Angeles. I live in the Wilshire district on a hillside and almost invariably in going to the market each day am compelled to walk in the middle of the street to keep from getting wet, as not only the lawns are being sprinkled, but the entire sidewalks and part of the street as well. It is my idea that the sidewalks are for public use and should be kept unobstructed as much as possible. I have actually seen the water run for three hours at a time in front of our apartment.

This criticism is meant, however, as a constructive one, for it does seem to me that by reporting a few of these offenders this terrific waste could easily be stopped.

MRS. L. B. F.

But Why Mr. Scopes?

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Dr. David Starr Jordan is a great man, who, like other great men, sometimes does foolish things. The movement he has set on foot to put John T. Scopes through college is worse than foolish. It is unwise, unpatriotic and a menace to social order. By making a hero out of a lawbreaker others are encouraged to disobedience of law.

We honor the hero who scales rugged heights and goes "over the top" in defense of the flag, because his act is an inspiration to the living. The young man who, at the risk of his own life, saves the life of his fellow-man is justly rewarded with the Carnegie medal. The fireman who goes up the ladder in the smoke and flame of the burning building to rescue the imperiled child is justly cheered by the multitude below. The beach guard rescues the drowning maiden and we justly heap honors upon him. The color-bearer who plants his flag on the ramparts of death justly gets promotion. All these rewards are laudable because the living catch inspiration to the heroic from their deeds.

But, pray tell me, what act of heroism, what noble deed has Mr. Scopes performed that he should be made a hero and held up to the admiring gaze of our youth for their emulation? Why is he selected for honor? Has he shown himself to be more brilliant than a thousand other young men of the Tennessee mountains?

"I Come to Bury Caesar"

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is not hard to understand why our pacifists are so earnest in their approval of your editorial entitled "Character Assassination."

I can recall the time when pacifists were ashamed of their yellow streak, but there has been a decided change in their aspect that can be laid to the teachings of Messrs. Wilson and Bryan.

What was once a liability is now looked upon by some people as an asset.

One can readily see why they consider any averse criticism of their heroes as a direct attack on their own new-found dignity.

Mayor Approves Fund for Phone Rate Cut Drive

Approval of an appropriation of $5000 to be expended in employing experts to assist the Board of Public Utilities in securing data on which a reduction of telephone rates in Los Angeles will be asked of the California Railroad Commission was given yesterday by Mayor Cryer.

The Mayor declared that the present telephone rates were granted as a result of conditions following the World War. As these conditions, he said, are passing away, rates should be reduced. He also pointed out that the city's telephone bill this year will be $100,000, and said that the city government as well as the people of Los Angeles were interested in securing a reduction of telephone rates.

The State commission is to reopen the hearing on Los Angeles telephone rates in November. At this hearing the city will urge a reduction in the telephone charges in this city.

CHEMISTS VISIT PLANT AT SEARLES

Delegates Return from Two-Day Inspection to Potash Manufactory

An echo from the convention of the American Chemical Society was heard here yesterday morning when fifty of the members arrived in Los Angeles from a two-day inspection trip to the plant of the American Trono Corporation at Searles Lake, where they were guests of the management. The American Trono Corporation is the only company in the United States now engaged in producing potash commercially, according to G. R. Robertson, a local member of the society.

"All other plants which operated during the war have been closed because of the cheaper potash now obtained from Germany," Mr. Robertson said, "but in case of emergency or another war with Germany, this plant alone could supply the entire demand of the United States."

The plant produces about 110 tons of potash per day, or about one-tenth of the amount consumed by the United States.

Charges Denied by Prisoner in Mann Act Case

Whitney is charged with having taken Johanna Schneider, former maid at the home of Cecil De Mille, on a motor trip to Falls City, Neb., and back, in 1923. A promise of marriage was never carried out, it is charged, because Whitney was already wed and the father of several children.

The Schneider woman charges a child, now 15 months of age, was born of her relations with Whitney.

Jordan's Appeal Brings in Money for Scopes Fund

Dr. David Starr Jordan's recent plea for a $5000 scholarship fund for John T. Scopes, Tennessee educator convicted under the antievolution law, has brought in $1075 to date, Dr. Jordan's secretary announced yesterday.

Some of the contributors said they "wished to show which side" they are on and others praised Scopes for his unwillingness to cheapen his future by trading on his temporary notoriety, the secretary said.

ADAMS AND RINCON LOSE TRIAL PLEA

Evidence in Ullman Case Strongest Presented in His Court, Says Judge

Declaring the evidence of their guilt was the strongest that had ever been presented in his court, Judge Kestch yesterday denied a new trial to Willis Adams and Alfonso Rincon and sentenced them to hang at San Quentin for the murder of T. K. Ullman, Elizabeth Lake rancher. Ullman was beaten to death for $6, and his body thrown into a cistern.

"I am sorry for you, but on the evidence the jury could not have done otherwise," said Judge Kestch.

Oral notice of appeal was given. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis and Costello prosecuted the case.

COE'S BODY SENT HOME TO FATHER

Widows of Aviator Fail to Visit Undertaking Rooms; Zeigler's Funeral Held

The body of W. R. Coe, dead aviator mourned by two widows, each with a child, was sent last night on its solitary journey to Alma, Neb., home of his father, for burial. Neither of the widows went to the Leroy Bagley undertaking rooms yesterday, where on Saturday they first became aware of each other when they called there to arrange for the funeral of their husband.

Relatives and friends of Hampton Zeigler, who was with Coe in Coe's plane when it crashed down to death with both, turned out in considerable numbers at the Peck & Chase undertaking rooms yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock to attend his funeral. The body was disposed of in Rosedale Crematory.

The accident and denouement united the two Coe widows, Mrs. Dorothy Barrows Coe and Mrs. Otillia Bradley Coe, in common grief, and they turned over the body of their husband to his father.

M'ENIRY FREED ON BAIL

Parents of Young Banker Post Bond on Granting of Reduction to $5000

Following a reduction in bond from $10,000 to $5000, granted by Judge James, M. S. McEniry and Emma J. McEniry, parents of James E. McEniry, 24-year-old vice-president of the closed Corona National Bank, yesterday furnished security for the release of the accused banker.

McEniry has been in the Los Angeles County Jail since his arrest May 6, last, on two charges of misapplying $60,300 of the funds of the Corona bank, and of falsifying entries in the certificate-of-deposit register.

He was one of a quartet of bank officials arrested when National Bank Examiner J. M. Logan exposed asserted shortages in the Pasadena National, Corona National banks, and the State Bank of Lomita. Charges were filed against Irvin Jordan and Frank D. Patty, former vice-presidents of the Pasadena bank, and against McEniry and R. G. Van Vleck, cashier of the Corona bank. No action was taken against officials of the Lomita bank.

S. J. Cenzon, a friend of the McEniry family, also signed the banker's bond.

High School to Graduate Class in Midsummer

Midsummer graduation exercises will be held at the Los Angeles High School next Friday morning at 11 a. m. This is the first time in the school's fifty-two years of existence that students have received diplomas during the summer session.

The class is made up of nine boys and seven girls who are preparing a program for their commencement day. Because they will receive their diplomas at this time, they will be ready to enter the university when the fall term begins, rather than be forced to wait until the midwinter term.

It is expected that this innovation of summer graduations will be repeated whenever students complete their work during the summer term.

SOCIETY

BY MYRA NYE

Of interest to residents of the Southland is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Marjorie Greaves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Greaves, and Neill Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taylor of Denver, Colo., which was celebrated quietly in San Jose, July 25 last.

The bride's parents are widely known Californians, having divided their time between the northern and southern part of the State. Several seasons were spent at the Beverly Hills Hotel, where the three daughters mingled in southern society; Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Florence Moore and Mrs. H. A. Bruce. The Greaves home at Atherton is a stately place, surrounded by a lovely garden, wherein a charming garden party was given in honor of Mrs. Taylor before her marriage. Several members of the society set from Los Angeles were among the guests. It was intended at that time to have a large wedding but an the illness of Mrs. Bruce prevented.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are now on their honeymoon in Colorado. In October they will return to California and will make their home in San Francisco, planning, however, to spend a portion of each season in Los Angeles.

Since the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Greaves and Mrs. Moore have been spending delightful summer weeks at Del Monte, having returned last week to Atherton.

Guest of Mrs. Bond

Mrs. A. S. Pernette of Paris, France, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Margaret Buckler of The Ambassador, for the summer, is at present the house guest of Carrie Jacobs Bond at her charming home, Grassmont.

Tomorrow's Wedding

Wilshire Presbyterian Church will be the setting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock of an interesting wedding when Mrs. Helen Clarke Taylor, attractive daughter of Mrs. Camelia Clarke, will become the bride of Ralph M. Hults, Rev. J. A. Eby officiating. Mrs. Milton Hollingsworth will be matron of honor for the bride, and little Margaret Jane Tatum will be flower girl.

Milton Hollingworth will serve Mr. Hults as best man, with Robert L. Tatum, Arthur H. Rude, Clarence Bjerke, Ned Winstanley and Ralph L. Kaiser as ushers.

A lifelong friend of the bride, Dr. James Holloran, will give her in marriage. After a honeymoon journey of a fortnight the young people will be at home in this city at 919 South Sycamore avenue.

Sail on Majestic

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. N. Cama, prominent Parsee East Indians from Bombay, who have been visiting in Hollywood and Los Angeles for the past three months, are leaving today for New York, whence they will sail the 22nd inst., for Europe on the Majestic. Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

MALARIA

Mr. S.—While the chills and fevers of malaria are quite characteristic, the disease is diagnosed by an examination of the blood. Sometimes several examinations have to be made. The malaria germs have distinct and characteristic forms for each type of malaria and these are found in the blood.

You will not get malaria unless you are bitten by the mosquito that is infected by the malarial organism—that is the anopheles mosquito. (The malarial organism is not a germ (vegetation,) but a protozoan, one of the lowest forms of animal life. It has two cycles, one in man and one in the mosquito.)

Some sections of the country do not favor the breeding of this anopheles mosquito, so these sections are free from malaria except as the cases come in from the malaria sections. For instance, Southern California does not have this anopheles, but the central part does.

While I was interne in the Los Angeles County Hospital and doing laboratory work, one of the other internes asked me to do a blood test on a patient who had just been brought in in a comatose (unconscious) condition. The man looked as though he were dying, and I thought the examination would be futile, but, of course, I did it immediately. I found in the microscopic examination of his blood a very great number of the most beautiful little crescents with rosettes in their centers. They were the estive autumnal malarial organisms, the type that cause the most pernicious form of malaria. On my report, a solution of sterile quinine was immediately given intravenously to the patient, and he promptly recovered. Had he fallen into the hands of any but scientific physicians he would undoubtedly have died. (He had come from a malarial section of the country.)

Bad ventilation and bad air have nothing to do with malaria, unless the malaria mosquitoes are present, although the word "malaria" means "bad air," originating when it was thought that the disease was due to this agency.

A poor diet also has nothing to do with malarial infection, except, of course, that it might make one more susceptible to the disease if he became infected. The wrong diet might precipitate attacks of malaria in individuals who are already infected.

No, it is not believed that malaria is congenital. Very young babies may have the disease, but if they do it is because they have been bitten by the malarial mosquito.

The public health measures of prevention of malaria have to be directed against draining and treating the marshes and swamps that harbor the malaria mosquitoes. If the mosquito can be eliminated from any locality, the transmission of malaria ceases, and the innocent mosquito gets his infection from a malaria patient. If there were no malaria patients in the locality, the mosquito would not be infected.

QUININE

Quinine is used both as a preventive and curative. It is used extensively in the malaria districts. Small daily doses have proved to prevent malaria. Many of the Red Cross workers in the Balkans contracted the disease. I didn't, and I give credit to the small doses of Q. I took daily, for I swear I was stung as often as any one.

In Tice's Practice of Medicine, it is stated that while the malaria parasites will be killed off by taking of quinine for only a few days to two or three weeks, the majority of patients will not be cured unless they take quinine systematically for a period of eight weeks. You'll have to see your physician for the treatment.

Appropriation for Playground Recommended

The payment by the city of $25,000 toward the $110,000 cost of the land for the new fourteen-acre playground and recreation field for the southwestern part of the city was recommended yesterday afternoon by Mayor Cryer and the City Council's Finance Committee. The remainder will be paid by the playground department from its funds, although $25,000 will also be loaned the department from the city treasury, so that the purchase of the land can be completed at once.

The city's contribution will be made from the public improvement fund. The recreation field will be located in the district bounded by Sixty-first and Sixty-third streets, Western avenue and Normandie avenue.

Mrs. J. A. Adair, 222 North Van Ness avenue, reported to Hollywood police detectives yesterday that thieves had jimmied open a front door at her home, entered and ransacked the place, taking a $300 diamond ring and other valuables. Many of the articles taken, Mrs. Adair stated, belonged to her children.

Mate Left Her to Wed Riches, Wife Asserts

Frank Porter Madden didn't believe in work, nor in marriage for love, according to the testimony given by his wife, Margaret Heger Madden before Judge Gates in her suit for divorce.

"He was always talking about marrying a woman with money. I think he loved me, though," said Mrs. Madden, weeping softly on the witness stand.

"He told me he didn't believe in work," contributed a witness.

"I am going to get married again," read a note which the wife introduced as evidence, "but not for love."

This note, she said, was a farewell missive Madden sent her.

Judge Gates gave her a decree.

Good Gravy

Instead of adding plain wheat flour and fat when making gravy, use the water drained from whatever fresh vegetables you are saving. It will add flavor and nutriment, potato water being especially good.

The Kimono Pattern

So many dresses are made on kimono pattern these days that, while pretty, we all know the tendency to pull out under the arms. Try cutting a piece of material two inches wide and place under the arm from the edge of this sleeve to the bottom of the skirt. It will also make the dress set better.

Fruit for Pie

When using canned fruit for pie making, pour off some of the liquid and mix a little cornstarch with it and cook until slightly thickened. Pour this over the fruit after it is in the pie. You will find the pie will be much richer and not so watery when the thinner juice is used.

Summer Blankets

It pays to have cotton blankets for summer use, putting away the expensive wool blankets for winter. Frequently, the night is too cool for just a sheet and not warm for wool. The cotton blankets are easily laundered and inexpensive, besides their great lightness of weight.

Think It Over

Leftover Tomatoes

Save any leftover tomatoes that can be added to any other dish. Almost any stew, soup, gravy or escalloped dish is just a little better by adding a few tomatoes.

Obstinate Stains

Iodine stains will almost disappear wash out during the regular laundering of the garment, but should they prove obstinate, moisten the spots with alcohol and rub carefully with a clean cloth.

Pockets

How any housewife can get on without pockets in her house is beyond comprehension. They are invaluable to hold the many articles found when cleaning. Every one is in the room to which it will belong and prove great comforters.

Easy Gathering

Use the longest stitch on your sewing machine and close tension if you want the gathers. Then simply pull one thread until the gathers are even and full. On a hand thread machine, just make the longest stitch with a fine needle and it will do the trick.

Every Youngster Tries It

Every mother goes through the finding of lead pencil marks on her white woodwork at least once. They can be removed easily by rubbing with a piece of cut lemon and then with whiting on a damp cloth.

Use Cheap Fuel

If you find the garment you have to wear needs a few stitches or a pin instead, use a safety pin. This inexpensive pin of some sort or other is no easier way of losing it than by using it in the wrong place.

Peppy Poisons

Slice onions under a running faucet and avoid tears and smarting eyes.

A few kernels of rice in the salt shaker will prevent the salt from becoming damp and lumpy during the warm weather.

Return to oven and cook until done. Remove to a hot platter, place around each chop a ring of green pepper that has been parboiled in salted water. Garnish with sprays of parsley.

Defense in Pickford Kidnap Case Scores

Policeman Says Accused Not at Plot Meeting

Extra Session Proposed to Speed Up Trial

Defense in the case of C. E. Stevens, A. J. Wood and Claud Holcomb, on trial in Superior Judge McLucas's court for asserted conspiracy to kidnap Mary Pickford yesterday made what it regarded as two important points in testimony before the jury.

A. A. Montgomery, 5105 Montrose street, brother-in-law of Holcomb, and a city policeman, testified that Holcomb was in bed at the Montgomery residence on the night of May 25, when the prosecution contends he was at the Hayward Hotel discussing the kidnaping plot.

Montgomery's testimony was corroborated by Mrs. Montgomery. They testified that Holcomb went to bed at about 9 p.m., and remained there all night. Mrs. Montgomery also testified that accompanied by a neighbor, Earl Peters, a city fireman, she went to the City Jail to see her brother the day after his arrest, but was told by Harry Raymond that she would have to come back Wednesday.

HIT AT DETECTIVE

At this time, she testified, Raymond's right hand was not bandaged. This testimony was a direct thrust by the defense at Detective Harry Raymond, who, they contend, forced damaging statements from the defendants by brutally beating them. Raymond testified early in the trial that he fell in a gymnasium and sprained his wrist several days before the men were arrested, and that that injury explained the bandages on his right hand.

Fireman Peters followed Mrs. Montgomery on the stand and corroborated the main points of her testimony.

The three witnesses took the stand after Holcomb had been cross-examined. Another witness was Miss Rella Hawathay, an acquaintance of Wood's, who declared that she accompanied Wood one night to the Hayward and remained in his car when he went upstairs, presumably to talk to Louis Geck, and the other two defendants. She declared Wood returned intoxicated. Her testimony was brought out by the defense in an effort to sustain their allegations that Geck, admitted police informer in the case, instigated the kidnaping plot and urged the three defendants on by giving them liquor.

DENIES CONSPIRACY PART

Adrian Wood was the last man on the witness stand yesterday. He denied that he had agreed to take any part in the asserted conspiracy, and said he knew nothing of the plot to kidnap Mary Pickford until a few days before he was arrested. He testified that Holcomb had come to him and said that Geck had figured out a plot to kidnap Mary. He admitted going to the Hayword on two occasions, but accused Geck of most of the plotting, and alleged that Geck produced liquor on both occasions.

Judge McLucas in adjourning court yesterday afternoon, indicated that extra sessions of the court will probably be on the program during the next few days in order to hurry the case to the jury. He called court for 9:15 this morning and said that a night session might be called tonight. It is expected the case may go to the jury Thursday.

PUZZLE—WHO KILLED COCKTAILS

Question of Relative Liquor Consumption Comes Up at Lindsay Alimony Hearing, Husband and Wife Each Accusing Other of Imbibing

"Who drank the liquor?" was the principal topic of conversation yesterday at the hearing before Judge Holizer of alimony proceedings in the divorce suit of Isabelle Lindsay against Gordon Lindsay, Los Angeles business man.

Mrs. Lindsay said her husband drank it, copiously and frequently with the result that she did not think he was to be intrusted with the occasional companionship of their small son.

"Why, Judge," protested Lindsay, "She tosses off her cocktails at these afternoon parties, too. I am just as sober as she is."

Mrs. Lindsay indignantly disclaimed this charge. Such little drinking as she does, she said, is only that imposed upon her by what she called present-day social standards.

"Of course one has to take a highball or a cocktail these days, if one goes about at all, but I'm never drunk," she declared.

Judge Holizer declined to give a decision as to the relative sobriety of the parties, contenting himself with admonishing Lindsay to see that he was strictly sober on Wednesdays and Saturdays, which days he named for the husband to visit the child.

"I have no doubt but that a man of Mr. Lindsay's standing can be relied upon to take proper care of his son," Judge Holizer remarked.

Alimony was set at $40 a week. Mrs. Lindsay charged desertion and cruelty in her complaint.

Court Upholds Conviction on Double Charge

The first local ruling in years that a man can be convicted on two felony charges at one time and sentenced to two consecutive terms in prison was upheld yesterday by Justice Curtis of the Second District Court of Appeals, Division One.

Arthur Snyder, accused of breaking into a Newhall store owned by Arthur H. Wilkie and stealing goods valued at $800, appealed a conviction of a charge of burglary and another of grand larceny. He maintained that his two convictions and sentences on the same case were illegal.

Justice Curtis upheld the lower court's affirmative decision on the grounds that Snyder committed burglary when he forced his way into the store and grand larceny when he stole the goods.

MANN ACT VIOLATERS END IN JAIL

Trio Sentenced to Terms After Judge Untangles Relationship Mix

After Federal Judge McCormick had unraveled the correct relationship of Gorrie and Gilbert Jacobs, Stella Able and Burgoyne Russell, he sentenced the first three to six months in the Los Angeles County Jail for conspiring to violate the Mann White Slave Act by transporting the 17-year-old Russell girl from Terre Haute, Ind., to Los Angeles late last year.

After tracing the quartet's ancestors the judge found that Mrs. Able was the younger woman's aunt and that both women were third cousins to the Jacobs brothers.

Their troubles began when Gilbert Jacobs last December suggested that the four drive to Los Angeles in his automobile. The invitation was accepted and the journey began. Before passing the Indiana State line, however, Burgoyne was asked to return home, but she refused, Mrs. Able told the court.

On their arrival in Los Angeles the four paired and occupied separate apartments, Department of Justice agents learned. They were arrested upon advices from relatives in the Middle West.

Judge McCormick advised Gorrie and Mrs. Able to consult attorneys before consummating their contemplated marriage. The Russell girl is married and has been separated from her husband for two years.

State Orders Oil Syndicate to Pay Wages

The Mohawk Oil and Gas Syndicate, said to own and hold leases on a large amount of oil land near Culver City, was entangled yesterday in its second difficulty with alleged unpaid wage claims, according to State Labor Bureau Attorney Lowy.

After a hearing attended by two dozen men who say the syndicate owes them $5000 in wages, the State official ordered the oil concern's trustees, W. O. Spring, Miss M. L. Williams and Thomas E. Macauley, to pay the claims by 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The oil company has approximately $10,000 impounded in a local bank and has four wells flowing at the rate of 4000 barrels a day but this money and income are apparently tied up, according to Lowy, who stated he refuses to be a party in any trouble in a company where wage claims are concerned but will insist that payment be made according to law.

On a similar complaint several months ago, the State officials collected more than $5000 in wages due drillers, according to Lowy.

FINAL TRIBUTES PAID TO BANNING

Pioneer Capitalist Buried from St. Paul's

Flags at Avalon Flown at Half Mast

Favorite Hymns Added to Regular Service

Los Angeles yesterday at St. Paul's Protestant Cathedral paid its final tribute to Hancock Banning, clubman, capitalist and scion of one of the oldest Los Angeles county families, who died last Friday at Good Samaritan Hospital. Simultaneously with the funeral services here, memorial services were conducted in Wilmington and Avalon, while all flags on Catalina Island, of which Mr. Banning was one of the former owners, were at half-mast.

The regular Episcopal funeral services were conducted by Bishop Johnson, assisted by Rev. Thomas P. Swift of St. John's Church, Wilmington, an old friend of Mr. Banning. The singing of "Nearer My God to Thee," Mr. Banning's favorite hymn, and Stevenson's "Requiem" were the only departures from the usual service.

Hundreds of beautiful floral pieces were banked in the choir of the cathedral, tributes to the memory of the pioneer capitalist from personal friends and organizations with which his business life had been identified. Many men and women from Avalon and Wilmington attended the services.

Active pallbearers were Joseph B. Banning, Jr., William P. Banning, Arvin H. Brown, Eltinge T. Brown, Hobart G. Brown and Douglas Van Dyke.

Following the cathedral services, the body of Mr. Banning was taken by Pierce Brothers to the Inglewood Park Cemetery, where burial services, with only members of the family in attendance, were conducted by Bishop Johnson.

ELECTRICAL GOODS HOLD UP STRONG

Important Orders Booked On Pacific Coast During Recent Week

There is a strong tone to the electrical market again this week, and buying was active on the Pacific Coast, where important orders for ranges and line material were booked, according to Electrical World, New York. An exception is noted among the jobbers of the New York district, who are right now experiencing a summer slump, and in less degree this is true of the middle western wholesale business.

News from New England and the Southeastern States records active buying, and New York and Chicago manufacturers are busy and expect a continued demand. Reports just published by two of the larger electrical manufacturers for the second quarter of the year show a sizeable gain over 1924.

Building is still in good volume in New England an wire insulation pipe and wiring devices are selling well, also central-station supplies, notably fiber conduit, poles, crossarms and line hardware. Appliances are slow. Fixtures are active in the New York district. Contractors are buying from hand to mouth, and jobbers are quiet with stocks low. Manufacturers report steady business to industrials and utilities, including one order for 53,000 suspension insulators. Wire has been stimulated by a 5 per cent advance.

Radio is picking up. Jobbers in the Southeast are doing good business, the best markets being in Florida and Alabama. Line materials, transformers, meters, motors and street-lighting equipment are strong in the Middle West. The wholesale market is steady, but in small volume. Pole line hardware and specialties advanced slightly. Utilities are buying actively for maintenance. Clothes washers have sold well. Sales to power companies, industrials and contractors are excellent.

HE WANTED TO BE FRIENDLY

He was a cab-driver of the odd sort, called as a witness in an action for damages incurred in a street collision, and, ignoring the jury, he persisted in relating his version to the judge. Ultimately the latter stopped him and observed: "Address yourself to the jury." So turning awkwardly to the pew in which twelve tradesmen sat scowling, he smiled, nodded reassuringly, and remarked: "Mornin,' gents; all well at 'ome, I 'ope?"—[Yorkshire Post.

AIDING BEGGARS HIS JOB

Missionary to India Now on Visit Here Will Supervise Shelter for Mendicants on Return There

Running a shelter for beggars would seem the zero in tavern operation, but that's the job Rev. W. Bostwick, now a Los Angeles visitor, will take up when he returns to India within the next few weeks.

Mr. Bostwick, who is at the Bible Institute, has spent a number of years in Southern India as a missionary. Recently he has been on leave in the United States, having spent some time in Arizona. He is now preparing to go back to the missionary field, expecting to sail within the next few days.

REAL PROFESSION

"As is well known, the cities of India harbor thousands of beggars," he said. "In fact, begging in that country is a regular profession, often descending from father to son. It is encouraged by the prevailing religious belief of the Hindus that one who gives alms to a begger thereby enhances his chances of bliss in a future existence.

"But the conditions under which these mendicants exist are deplorable. What they receive is barely sufficient to keep body and soul precariously together. They make no pretense of providing shelter for themselves. They crowd together, often in tiers three or four deep, for warmth in any spot that offers when night overtakes them.

"To ameliorate this condition, the missionaries assisted by friends of the mission cause, have procured a large building at Bangalore, a city of 200,000 in Southern India, which has been turned into a shelter for beggars. It will accommodate 500. One of my duties when I return will be to have charge of this institution."

The beggar class of India is an outgrowth of the caste system prevailing in that country, Mr. Bostwick said.

SHOW TALENT

"The beggars belong to the lowest caste and are regarded as outcasts," he explained. "If a beggar touches the garment of a higher caste Hindu, that individual considers himself polluted."

Despite the degradation for centuries of the beggar class, the missionary said its members are as human as any other native in India.

"The missionaries have made special efforts to better the condition of the beggars," he said. "Many children of this class have been educated in the missionary schools and some have shown themselves in possession of unusual mental powers and have even distinguished themselves in the learned professions."

With 80,000 Miles Behind Him, Marmaduke is Only One of Kind in Captivity

Introducing Michael Marmaduke Marmoset, the monk, not the man. The man is merely his master, J. W. Ehle, chief engineer on the globe-circling Dollar liner President Hayes, in port on her sixth voyage around the world.

Michael's chief claim to fame is that he's the most-traveled monk in captivity, with three years and 30,000 miles behind him. Then Mike also is a golden marmoset—the plutocrat variety of the simian family, and the only golden in captivity. The only other died recently in the Bronx Zoo. Ehle bought him three years ago in the wilds of Brazil.

Mike also is one of the smallest monks, measuring five inches and weighing six ounces. He looks like a big butter ball and lives on bananas exclusively.

Mike's chief penchant is the radio, where he sits for hours, and here his chatter is often mistaken for static.

SCOUTS MAY SHARE IN COMMUNITY CHEST

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Aug. 10.—The fiscal year of the San Fernando Valley Council of Boy Scouts will end on September 30, and a drive for more members at that time is being arranged. If it is agreed, a valley division will be formed in various towns to aid in the chest campaign.

EMPLOYEE IN SCHOOLS ARRAIGNED

Man Arrested Here to be Returned to Washington on Attack Charge

Clayburn Close, employed by the Los Angeles Board of Education, was arrested yesterday on a warrant from Washington, D. C., charging him with having criminally attacked a 13-year-old girl there in 1923. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Turney and given until Friday to clear up business affairs when he will be returned to the capital.

Close lives at 1512 West Twenty-seventh street. His accuser, Ruby Reid, who he alleges was used as a tool in a political frame-up, has already confessed, he says, that her charges against him were fiction.

At the time of the asserted attack he was connected with a government penal institution and highly regarded. He had been a government employee for nine years. He is 45 years of age, married and has grown children.

At the time of his indictment in Washington the case created a stir. Close left Washington for Los Angeles where he has worked since as a coal checking inspector for the Board of Education.

Why She Was Happy

During the absence of the family in the country the nursery in town had been redecorated and rearranged.

Elsie, aged 6 years, was delighted at the changes, and especially at the placing of a mirror against her cot.

SEWER PROJECT BIDS RECEIVED

Paving Construction Figures Opened

Estimates Referred to City Engineer

Bids for two large public improvements, totaling in cost more than $1,200,000, were opened by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

There were six bids received for the construction of Section 21 of the outfall sewer, which provides for the laying of 9418 feet of connecting sewers in the district which includes Rodeo Road and Third avenue, Forty-first Place west of Western avenue, Van Ness avenue and Forty-first Drive and Fourth avenue at Vernon avenue. This section of the sewer will link this district with the new $7,500,000 main outfall sewer recently completed and now in use from the city to the ocean at Hyperion.

The bids for Section 21 ranged from $130,000 to $170,000, and were referred to City Engineer Van Norman for analysis and recommendation.

Seven bids were received for the paving and construction of a storm drain and sewers in the West Adams street and Smiley Drive Improvement District. This includes the laying of a storm drain in West Adams street from Thirteenth avenue (Montclair street) to Moynier Lane, which is at the city limits of Culver City. The storm drain will permanently remove the storm waters in this westerly section of West Adams street and the grading and paving of adjacent streets included in the improvement will drain the waters from these streets into the new Adams street storm drain. After the storm drain and sewers are completed West Adams and other streets will be paved. The total cost of all of this improvement work will be at least $1,000,000.

As these bids were submitted in unit cost prices, they were referred to the City Engineer for analysis and recommendation.

POINTS WAY TO FACTORY SUPREMACY

Industrial Expert Urges Speedier Train Service to Strengthen Industry

Cut down the time of your western train schedules and strengthen and increase your industries, declared E. St. Elmo Lewis, vice-president of the Campbell-Ewald Company of Detroit, and nationally known advertising man in Los Angeles on business, in an interview yesterday. He was a formerly chairman of the ways and means committee of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, having been instrumental in the development of Detroit as an industrial center.

E. ST. ELMO LEWIS

"California and Los Angeles have many opportunities to increase their growing roll of industries," he said. "You could manufacture silk here more advantageously than they do in Patterson, N. J., for you are thousands of miles nearer the raw material. Your tire industry is far more logical for further development here than at Akron and you could fabricate wool and leather goods here as readily as anywhere."

Mr. Lewis's last visit here was in 1900. He will address the Kiwanis Club tomorrow on "After Twenty-five Years."

He was formerly advertising manager of the National Cash Register Company and of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company.

CLUB STOCK DEALS HELD MISLEADING

Hearing to be Conducted This Morning on Asserted Encino Stock Plan

A hearing will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning before Earl C. Adams, local Deputy State Corporation Commissioner, on a complaint made by George Acret, former Venice attorney, that the Encino Country Club has issued misleading literature regarding its financial status.

In his formal charge, Acret, who claims membership in the club, asserts that no property rights were given with the memberships and that when a $500,000 holding company was organized to buy the concern capitalized at $25,000, a pamphlet was issued which stated that profits from the property would amount to $1200 a month and $6000 monthly from membership fees. Acret's complaint asserts that during 1924 the organization lost $84,000 and more than $11,000 since last January.

The complaint named S. T. Allen jointly with the club and stated that Charles F. Smurthwaite is president. It was presented yesterday by Deputy Commissioner Fraul.

SUIT HALTS REFERENDUM

Temporary Restraining Order Granted in Election for Wilshire Zoning District

A temporary restraining order was granted yesterday by Judge Reeve following filing of a new suit for an injunction against a referendum election on the new Wilshire Boulevard zoning ordinance passed by the Council last June. Since its passing the ordinance has been the target of legal attacks and has stirred up a hornet's nest among business men and residents in the district it affects.

The new injunction suit was filed by C. E. Carpenter. It makes Robert Domingues, Los Angeles City Clerk, defendant, and seeks to prohibit the City Clerk from certifying the referendum petitions. These petitions were filed on July 23, last. In the suit filed by C. E. Carpenter through the law firm of Hill, Morgan & Bledsoe, he charges that the petitions are defective in that a large number of the signatures and addresses gained are not as represented; that if these asserted bogus signatures were thrown out the number of bona-fide signatures would be too small for a referendum vote on the measure. The law requires a certain number of signatures before a referendum vote can be secured.

An injunction suit filed by Hector M. Zahn late in July on the ground that the ordinance in question was not subject to a referendum vote was thrown out of court by Judge Shaw, who dissolved a temporary injunction gained at the time.

Mrs. Dorothy H. Sutton, recently appointed by the Near East Relief as director for all Greece of its child welfare bureau, is a former Montclair, N. J., schoolteacher.

Owner's Protest Council Street Opening Program

"To create four corners on Vermont avenue," was the way John W. Carrigan, State Industrial Accident Commissioner, described the proposed opening of Council street for a distance of 700 feet when he appeared before the Board of Education last night.

Mr. Carrigan represented 300 property owners who oppose the movement of the Vermont-Beverly Improvement Association in having the street cut through.

Opening Council street between Juanita and New Hampshire street would cut through the grounds of Virgil Junior High School, which already faces on three streets. This fourth street would run flush with the sidewalk of the school building.

The project will be brought up before the City Council the 17th inst., and the opposing property owners appeared before the board last night to ask support to defeat the street plan.t

"MRS. PARTRIDGE PRESENTS" ENJOYABLE COMEDY

By Edwin Schallert

Pleasure, at least, and some degree of profit may be promised to those who happen to turn their attention to the current presentation at the Biltmore Theater. I do not find "Mrs. Partridge Presents," which is playing there, one of the thrilling experiences of playdom, but it deserves the adjectives refreshing and enjoyable. Furthermore, it brings once again the always human and fascinating presence of Blanche Bates, not to speak of a supporting company both clever and bright.

There is something genuinely inspiriting about this attraction after so many plays that make a painful effort to accomplish something—and don't. This one, at any rate, does not burst forth with any wild hurrahs and pretense, and it is clean-cut, sane and wholesome, and may be safely recommended to anyone who is not seeking the extravagances of sophistication.

In a way, perhaps, we have come to expect the appearance of Miss Bates lately in the mother portrayal—and as a rule the modern mother. She introduced the type quite successfully several seasons ago in "The Famous Mrs. Fair," and from certain angles "Mrs. Partridge Presents" may be described as an echo of that previous attraction.

This time, it is the mother who is ambitious for the independence of her children, whom she depicts rather than one wholly interested in affairs outside of her home. She is, of course, the business woman, active, aggressive and carving her own destiny. There are counterparts for her character, without doubt, in present-day life, and in that and other respects the play written by Mary Kennedy and Ruth Hawthorne, as well as Miss Bates's interpretations, offers a pleasant sense of reality.

Of course, it does not all stand close analysis. The mother's overwhelming determination to see her daughter go on the stage has a very forced aspect. Her objections to the girl's marriage because her own had been a dreary one is not quite in accordance with her otherwise progressive viewpoint. These are flaws that obtrude very evidently at times, although as entertainment the play carries on very well in spite of them.

There is an evident cleverness in the dialogue, and much that is amusing and mirthful. The gleam of this cleverness and humor is not as steady as it should be, and there are a few spaces that are inclined to be even dull. These lapses are, however, generally pretty well redeemed.

The supporting cast enhances very materially the attractions of the piece, and also goes far to lift some of its less interesting moments out of the rut. One girl, Carlotta Irwin, has a rare flash of comedy. She offered a veritable little Miss Malaprop, modernized and flapperized, that brought a brisk enjoyment in all the scenes in which she appeared.

It is a youthful and very talented group, altogether, that Miss Bates has brought with her. Katherine Revner, who appears as the daughter, is both charming and capable, and left one with the sense of definitely filling her very important role. Others, especially Edward Emery, Jr., and Edmund George, were excellent.

Miss Bates herself is perfection itself in the smoothness of her technique, and her radiant sense of comedy. Much of the dialogue acquired sparkle simply because of her ardent and at times effervescent interpretation. The audience responded as always to her magnetism, and she finally had to acknowledge their approval in a very friendly and engaging curtain speech.

"Mrs. Partridge Presents" is in no sense a new departure for Miss Bates. But for those who like the humanness of her own work, it should have much appeal. As I have indicated, too, the company she has brought is exceptionally good.

Loew's State Film Stars Busy Leading Woman

Dorotry Mackaill, leading woman for Milton Sills in his first starring picture, "The Making of O'Malley," which is now showing at Loew's State, is one of the busiest women on the screen.

After working eight weeks in the filming of "Chickie," she plunged right into "The Making of O'Malley." She did not have even one day's rest. As soon as she finished "The Making of O'Malley" she rushed to Fort Lee, N. J., where Dick Barthelmess was waiting for her to be his leading woman in "Shore Leave," which opens at Loew's State in the near future. Meanwhile, on the Coast many producers were waiting for her to come West.

"The Making of O'Malley" a love story of a New York cop and a rich society girl, was directed by Lambert Hillyer. In the supporting cast are Thomas Carrigan, Claude King, Warner Richmond, Julia Hurley, Helen Rowland, Charles Graham, Allen Brander and Jack De Lacey.

CHANEY DEPARTS TO STUDY NEWEST SCRIPT

They will motor to Bishop, where they will abandon their car and will pack back into the mountains.

Chaney has just completed his most recent production, "The Tower of Lies," which Victor Seastrom directed, and with him on his vacation goes the script for his next story, the title of which has not been chosen.

He will go into seclusion in the mountains for the next two or three weeks, studying the script and getting in mind the characterization he is to portray.

LILLIAN ENJOYS HOLLYWOOD

Lillian Gish is having a glorious time renewing old friendships in California before starting work on "La Boheme," which King Vidor will direct for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. This is the first time Miss Gish has worked in a California-made production in more than five years. Previous to that time, practically all the pictures in which she appeared were made in Hollywood.

Bringing Beauty to "Beauty Week"

Justine Johnstone
Appearing at the Orpheum Theater.

ORPHEUM IS ENTERTAINING

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

By way of opening this review, let it be stated right off the bat that the bill at the Orpheum this week is far above the usual in entertainment value. Every act is worthy of commendation and, while at times there are rough places, for the most part the playhouse outshines itself.

There are really two headliners—Justine Johnstone and Annette Kellerman, Miss Johnstone appearing in a somewhat humorous dramatic skit and the diving Venus "doing her stuff" in a large tank of water, at the same time presenting several dance numbers. These are indulged in both by herself and by the five members of her supporting company.

Justine Johnstone's sketch is scarcely original and at times her acting is merely a pose to show off her blond beauty, but in the main she is highly satisfactory and takes the audience by storm. In the water, Miss Kellerman is very pleasing, too, but she insists upon marring the effect of her piece by putting on her impression of Pavlowa's "Dying Swan."

Jane Green has greatly improved over the work she gave last week and is actually entertaining, as is testified by the way the audience greets her.

A few minutes with Jack Renny is sufficient to shake any laugh cord that hasn't been shaken in months or years. His dry humor, presented in a conversational manner, is contagious to the degree that it is hysterical. He is one of the cleverest performers on the bill.

Joe Rome and Lou Gaut, the long and short of it—speaking of stature—are presented in an act wherein every opportunity to create laughs is awarded them. And they don't fail to take advantage of this offer, for their bit is quite entertaining. Arnold Bayley and Lloyd Corrigan offer a clever little skit, too, and provide a number of laughs.

Kay and Lorene Sterling open the show with a skating act that is diverting, to say the least, and Allen White's Collegians, with their youth, pep and harmony close it. Both are well worth seeing and hearing.

"Romola" New Attraction on Criterion Bill

In its short lifetime the film version of "Romola," which is now having its first downtown showing at the Criterion Theater, has garnered a wealth of praise.

In France, the great Georges Clemenceau, former Premier of that nation says, "such a work of art merits every success," while Leonce Benedite, director of the Luxembourg and Rodin museums, Paris, has come forward to say, "It was with the greatest pleasure that I viewed the beautiful film, 'Romola.'"

Santiago Alba, former minister of fine arts in Spain, says, "I take great pleasure in extending congratulations on the film 'Romola,' the production of which has given me great pleasure. It is a page of the most delicate art and appeals like few other films."

The amount of praise for Lillian Gish, who enacts the title role, is equal if not more enthusiastic than that of the film. George Jean Nathan, the vitriolic critic of the drama and screen, says, "The smile of Lillian Gish is a bit of happiness trembling on a bed of death; the tears of the Gish girl are the tears that old Jonann Strauss wrote into the Rosemary of his waltzes. She plays young girls and she plays them with something that borders on histrionic genius."

Joseph Herpesheimer, the noted author, says, "In Lillian Gish moving pictures have a miraculous possibility—the perfect medium of expression."

"Romola" is from George Eliot's famous classic and was directed by Henry King. In the cast supporting Lillian Gish will be found Dorothy Gish and Ronald Colman. Other features on the Criterion program include the "Melody Monarchs," Roy Smoot and company, with those two popular dancers, Florence Lewis and Adele Kellogg.

Old England to Live Once More for "Pinafore"

The Ambassador plunge, famed as the scene of many a modern aquatic event, soon will be transformed into a bit of old England in preparation for the presentation there of "H. M. S. Pinafore," by the Coast Opera Company Friday.

Under the direction of Mme. Alma Stetzler, former prima donna of the "Chocolate Soldier" and now acting in the capacity of art director of the company in whose forthcoming production she will appear as "Buttercut," a small army of workmen are busy converting the plunge into an amphitheater.

The ship set will be built on one edge of the pool, while the wings and backdrop, depicting historic old Portsmouth, Eng., are being prepared in a local studio. The first dress rehearsal of the cast of twenty principals, forty choristers and twenty musicians composing the orchestra will be held next week under direction of Impresario Joseph Rose, veteran operatic conductor.

FILM EXPORTS DOUBLE IN YEAR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—In the motion-picture trade exports for the month of June reached a total linear footage of 20,803,969 at a declared value of $595,199, according to the weekly commerce report just issued by Secretary Hoover's department. This is slightly over 2,000,000 feet more than was sent abroad for the month of May and over double the quantity exported during June, 1924.

For the month of June 926,944 linear feet of negatives were exported at a declared value of $142,284. This is about 100,000 feet less than was sent overseas during May and a little less than 75,000 feet under what was exported during the same period last year.

The report says that for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1925, preliminary Department of Commerce figures showed exports of positives to the amount of 210,452,587 linear feet, valued at $6,739,786. This shows a net increase of more than 67,000,000 feet over exports of positives for the preceding fiscal year.

MAJESTIC REOPENS WITH BRIGHT COMEDY

Edward Everett Horton, Ruth Renick Make Triumphant Return in "Rolling Home"

BY HERBERT MOULTON

If there was ever any doubt in Edward Everett Horton's mind as to just how he stands in the opinion of Los Angeles theatergoers, it must certainly have vanished Sunday night. He came bounding back to his public with all the surety, the finesse, and the polish which have been the major factors of his past success, and he did it, appropriately enough, in a comedy called "Rolling Home."

The Majestic, however, was more than the scene of an ovation for Horton. For one thing, it marked the opening of that popular playhouse under the management of Michael Corper and brought back to the local theatrical fold the charming person of Ruth Renick, who has not been glimpsed around these parts for all of six years.

So with these events taking place, it did not matter so much just what "Rolling Home" itself had to offer. Miss Renick and Mr. Horton were the principal attractions—and as such they proved 100 per cent perfect. Judging from their performances, there is every reason to believe that they will make an interesting team this season at the Majestic.

"Rolling Home" isn't startlingly new. It has been seen on the stage and in the films, with variations, a number of times. In some respects, it is a vehicle unworthy of Horton's talent. He is the same Horton of "Beggar on Horseback" and "Outward Bound," but he has serious limitations to contend with. On the other hand, there are superb moments when the personality that has won him a host of admirers shines through.

Horton makes magnificent comedy out of the triumphant return of the prodigal son. Triumphant, because he returns after a long absence in the guise of a multi-millionaire—with ten dollars in his pocket. With him comes a chance acquaintance—with five dollars in his pocket. They ride into town in a Rolls Royce, which accounts for the brass band, the fire department, and the rousing welcome.

The humor of the situation mounts when Horton, quite inadvertantly, wanders into the role of public benefactor, with a host of promises—the fulfillment of which would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000,000—hanging over his head.

Although the plot at several points takes the same aspect as those oftentimes seen in musical comedies, it very laudably keeps its way clear from anything which savors of heaviness. There's no double-dyed villain and there's no melodramatic counterplot to strike a jarring note. Everything is more or less plausible save for one or two of the characters, which were somewhat overdone.

The rural flavor of the piece works in its disfavor. The time has gone, happily, when sophisticated metropolitan audiences find humor in the language and antics of small-town folk, for the simple reason, perhaps that small-town folk as they have been depicted on the stage for the last few decades have virtually disappeared. They remain but a memory—and the memory has been laughed at so long that it is no longer potent.

Nevertheless, "Rolling Home" remains an evening of pleasurable entertainment. If for no other reason than to renew your acquaintance with Mr. Horton and to see again the delightful Miss Renick, your time will be well spent.

The supporting players were, in the main, quite adequate. Franklin Pangborn, who has been seen at the Majestic many times, received a warm welcome when he first appeared. It is regrettable that his role was not as large as should rightfully go to one of his ability.

Barney Gilmore, Herbert Bethew and Olga Elde offered interesting portrayals, although Mr. Gilmore made one uncomfortable at times because of unfamiliarity with his lines. Florence Oberle, Parks Jones, Louise Lester, Frank Dawson, Henry Hall, Fred Cummings and John Graham appeared in support. Norman Feusier's bit with Horton during the back and knee-slapping episode drew a lot of well-deserved laughter.

"Rolling Home" was written by John Hunter Booth and produced under the direction of A. Leslie Pearce. It is an attraction well worth seeing, if only for the reasons given in the third paragraph above.

ISHAM JONES AND PLAYERS HEADLINE

Hillstreet Bill Offers Several Humorous Numbers to This Week's Audiences

"Music hath charms—" evidently. Certainly, the presence of Isham Jones and his Brunswick recording orchestra at the Hillstreet Theater this week is being greeted with popular approval. Of a jazz variety, without being glaringly so, this orchestra is presenting a daily program well worth the center of attention. Their novelty number of "Frankie and Johnnie" is packed with musical laughs.

Entirely out of the ordinary is the skit presented by Wanser and Palmer. The chairman of the teamsters' entertainment committee at a local dance and the society matron meet on the common ground of a missing husband and a vamped sweetheart. There are many laughable lines, although at times they are rather obvious. However, the regular number of bootlegger and booze jokes occur, so popularity is assured. One wonders whether a funny act would be funny if liquor were a minus quantity. Perhaps some one will try it one of these days. It is something to hope for, at least.

"The "Golden Visions" are truly golden. Three figures, covered with a gold coating, pose in several scenes, and afford a remarkable study of still life. Art on the vaudeville stage is unique and very attractive.

Others to contribute to this week's entertainment at the Hillstreet are Neal Abel, who is really quite clever; Sheldon and Bailey and the Herbert Bolt Trio. By the way, the feature film, "After Business Hours," with Elaine Hammerstein and Lou Tellegen, affords several good laughs at the newcomers in that precarious state known as matrimony.

Beauty Week at Orpheum With Trio of Stars

This is "beauty week" at the Orpheum, though there be those who say that every week is beauty week at that theater. However, the presence on the bill of three of the outstanding beauties of the show world justifies the appelation. One of these pulchritudinous persons is Annette Kellerman, whose swimming and athletics are world famous. She gives a big new act, with a large supporting company.

Another is Justine Johnstone, conceded by artists to be "the most beautiful woman in the world." In her blond loveliness she is irresistible. She appears in a play, "Judy O'Grady" and also in some most stunning frocks.

The third is Jane Green, the fascinating singer of somewhat blue songs. Jane is a vivacious person and makes up the trio of femininity, all of whom would take beauty prizes anywhere. The bill also includes, as support, Rome and Gaut, Allen White's Collegians, Jack Benny, the Sterlings and the Radio Robot.

MILESTONE ON VACATION

Lewis Milestone, new director for Warner Brothers, who just completed his first film, "Seven Sinners," will direct Matt Moore in his next starring production. Milestone has just departed for a week's vacation in the mountains, where he will read the new story, the title of which has not been announced.

Colleen Shows Emotional Range in Desert Film

Colleen Moore, one of flapperdom's queens, clinches her claim to consideration as an actress of deep emotional power by her performance of the role of Maggie Fortune in "The Desert Flower," now showing at the Alhambra.

As Selina Peake in "So Big," Miss Moore vigorously shook the psychological shackles with which the public had held her in her niche as a salamander. In "The Desert Flower" she establishes her ability to portray roles of the deepest emotional purport.

OLMSTEAD, NOT ASTOR

Gertrude Olmstead, and not Gertrude Astor, plays the lead opposite Reginald Denny in "California Straight Ahead," Denny's latest Universal farce comedy now playing at the Forum Theater, according to word from the studio. The name of Miss Astor was inadvertently mentioned in a review published in The Times yesterday, and inasmuch as Miss Olmstead is now in the hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis, she believes she's had enough hard luck.

Dorothy Seastrom is playing the role of Dolly Whipple in First National's version of Israel Zangwell's "We Moderns," which stars Colleen Moore.

Real Estate Improvements

6½% MONEY.
Through our Eastern connections we are now able to offer the public money at the low rate of 6½% per annum on improved property in settled localities. This includes residential as well as business property. Loans made on a five-year basis.

5½% FLAT LOAN.
Up to 40% of a conservative valuation. We make a flat loan of 5½% for three years at reduced commission. This is the kind of a loan that some borrowers have been wanting. Now is the time to get it.

9% INSTALLMENT LOAN.
This is attractive to the home owner, with this loan we go close to 60% of the valuation of the property. The payments are easy. The interest is reduced every month, so that the borrower pays interest only on what he owes. We aim to reduce the loan as rapidly as possible.

200-MONTH PLAN.
With this plan the loan is entirely amortized in two hundred months at the rate of ½% each month. Amounts of $100 to $100,000 considered on this basis, 6% interest. We approve loans for more than 50% of the value of the property on the basis of taking the place of the small bond issue at much less expense.

BUILDING LOANS.
We are making building loans at the low rate of 7%. Will refinance into one of the above loans according to the nature of the loan. You can start building four or five days after application for loan has been made.

SURROUNDING TERRITORY.
Applications considered from Inglewood, Compton, Burbank, Pasadena, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Huntington Park, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Beverly Hills, Glendale.

VOLCANO BOILS FISH IN OCEAN

Molten Lava Kills Finny Denizens

Sea's Temperature Rises to High Figure

Oceanographers See Many Strange Sights

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — An interesting report has been received by the Department of Commerce from Dr. Charles J. Fish, an assistant in the Bureau of Fisheries, Department of Commerce, who accompanied the oceanographic cruise of the Arcturus, under the auspices of the New York Zoological Society, to the Sargasso Sea in the South Atlantic and to the region of the Galapagos Islands in the Pacific.

On May 10 the Arcturus left Balboa for a second trip to the Pacific, making ten stations between Cape Mala and the Cocos Islands and eleven between the Cocos and the west coast of Albermarle, the largest island of the Galapagos group. Six stations were made between Tagus Cove and Cape Marshall, where a great mass of molten lava was observed flowing into the sea. In describing this scene the report states:

OCEAN STEAMING

"As we rounded the northern end of Albermarle on June 14, a great mass of steam was reported rising from a point just beyond Cape Marshall where we had seen the volcano on our previous visit. Running parallel to the shore at a distance of about a mile, we suddenly passed from the clear blue ocean water into a pale green opaque area caused by great masses of minute particles held in suspension. At this time we were about four miles from the rising clouds, which now showed clearly at the water's edge. The green area stood out distinctly as a broad arc, extending out to sea for about half a mile and then turning to the north with the strong tide and current. The temperature of the water changed as we entered the green zone, rising from 75 deg. Fahrenheit to 99 deg. Fahrenheit at a point one-half mile from where nine great masses of molten lava were pouring from crevices in the rocky cliff into the sea.

"As we passed beyond the border of this area the temperature fell again, dropping from 99 deg. to 89 deg. within a distance of hardly more than a ship's length. The boiling water along the shore had killed all of the invertebrates of the region and probably most of the fish. When we were in water of 84 deg. Fahrenheit a large Manta jumped from the surface, and shortly after this an octopus drifted by, apparently in a dying condition. Within fifty feet of the lava flow, a sea lion was seen to suddenly leap out of water, repeating the procedure four or five times as we drew nearer and nearer the boiling area, and finally sank from view. Birds in large numbers, more than we had seen at any time during the trip, had collected here and were flying actively about, probably reaping a rich harvest although we saw no dead fish floating at the surface. There were small petrels, noddy terns, frigate birds, and pelicans. The pelicans were swimming about within 100 feet of the steam, in a temperature which must have far exceeded 100 deg. Fahrenheit for the water registered 99 deg. half a mile away.

"On May 11, while passing Maristo Point, an enormous school of tuna rose about the ship and could be seen leaping and dashing about the surface for miles around. One fish of about fifty pounds was taken on a spoon hook, but all further trolling attempts failed. From then until our arrival at Cocos, on the 14th, jumping fish could be seen at almost any time, sometimes in small schools but often in large numbers extending far out on the horizon in all directions. After leaving Cocos few were seen, although small schools were occasionally reported. On June 2 a forty-eight-pound Gymnosarda pelamis was taken, and later a specimen of Gymnosarda alleratata of about the same weight.

FIND OLD RELICS

"Interesting collections were made in the fresh-water streams on Cocos Island. Three species of fish occur in the streams; one, a goby, is very abundant, clinging by its ventral sucker to the rocks. A single specimen of a large goby, weighing two and one-half pounds, was taken far up in the stream entering Chatham Bay. A third species, trout-like in shape and about six inches in length, was seen several times, but none was captured. That these streams were important watering places in the old whaling days of the early nineteenth century can be seen from the large numbers of ships' names and dates on the rocks, dating back to 1797. I am bringing back one which the bureau may find of value as a relic of the old Pacific whale fishery. It bears the following inscription: "Brig. Adeone, William Lowe, November 20, 1820."

A proposed line of stations extending from Cape Marshall, on the east side of Albermarle Island along the equator, to the mainland had to be omitted because a broken condenser necessitated an immediate return to Panama for repairs, and from there the ship proceeded to the Sargasso Sea in the Atlantic. Press dispatches report that unfavorable conditions were again encountered in the Sargasso Sea.

Conservation of Alaska Fish Fields Urged

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) Aug. 10.—Rigid conservation of the Alaskan fisheries was recommended to President Coolidge today by Representative White of Maine, ranking Republican on the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee.

Mr. White, who has just returned from Alaska, informed the President that the fishing industry had suffered considerably during the last year from a lack of fish. He declared a belief that the new law giving the Department of Commerce complete jurisdiction over the fisheries ultimately would remedy the situation. Meanwhile, he saw no need for offering an immediate cure.

The situation in Alaska was described by Mr. White as very gloomy, with transportation and business generally affected by the setback to the fishing industry.

HOLDS FIFTH PLACE

Chicago Population Statistics Give City Three Million

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Aug. 10. — Chicago stepped across the 3,000,000 population mark today and now ranks fifth in the large cities of the world, and is in a neck-and-neck race with Paris for fourth place. Latest statistics give Paris a scanty lead of 25,000.

The percentage of increase in the last five years has averaged 11 per cent, which means the smallest percentage in increase since the Federal census was first taken in 1840.

The 3,000,000 population figure is based upon statistics of actual residents in the hands of the city librarians and does not include temporary residents residing in hotels, or remaining here but a portion of the year, with voting privileges elsewhere.

WORK TO START ON HARBOR "Y"

Construction to Begin Immediately

Building Will be Gift to Service Men

Assocation's National Body Approves Plans

Construction of the new Army and Navy Y.M.C.A. at Los Angeles Harbor—the gift of the people of the Southland to the nation's defenders on duty in this district—will begin this week, it was announced yesterday by L. S. Anderson, chairman of the San Pedro branch of the association.

The building will cost $750,000, the money having been contributed by the public in Southern California. The building will be hurried to completion in about 300 days.

The architects for the building plans call for a building of striking beauty of South European style with every modern convenience.

The national council of the association at New York has approved the plans for the structure and all the suggestions of the council will be incorporated in the building, which will contain 300 sleeping rooms and 500 additional emergency beds.

The plans for the building also were approved yesterday by the City Building Department, and a force of 200 men will be put to work on the structure at once. The contract for the main unit of the building has been awarded to the Wurster Construction Company on its bid of $461,400.

"This magnificent building is a gift of the people of Southern California through the Y.M.C.A. to the boys of the Army and Navy so that during their shore leave they may enjoy its gymnastic, recreational and social conveniences under Christian influence and guidance," Harry F. Henderson, general secretary of the association, stated.

CANADA TO HAVE NEW SEAPORT

Melted Glacier Extends Bay so as to Make Harbor on West Coast

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Aug. 10.—Two Canadian engineers are rushing to Glacier Bay, a harbor west of Lynn Canal, to stake a townsite and open a new Canadian port in the famous Alaska panhandle.

These engineers are H. Forde and A. Halkett, and while they have not admitted it, there is an understanding that they represent railway interests anxious to get connections with the Canadian Yukon without going through Alaska.

When the international boundary line was fixed between Alaska and Yukon, it ran through two large glaciers, for which Glacier Bay was named. Since that time the glaciers have melted and the bay which at that time was some distance from the boundary, now extends across it into Canadian territory, giving Canada the only salt water harbor this country has from the south end of the Panhandle north.

This kindness of nature to the Canadian north was discovered by two prospectors, and they notified the Canadian government at once.

At present all goods going into the Yukon territory have to pass through Skagway, the United States port, before reaching the Canadian boundary. If a new port is established in Glacier Bay a short railway of less than 100 miles can be run to Bennett Lake and entrance given to the Yukon without passing through American territory.

PIONEER OF COURT HERE SUCCUMBS

Judge William A. Cheney, 77 years of age, a pioneer resident of California, passed away at his home, 1913 Ocean View avenue, at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Judge Cheney was born in Boston, Mass., in 1848, and came to California in 1875. He settled in Plumas county and from there was sent to the State Senate in 1879. In 1882 he came to Los Angeles and was elected to the Superior bench in 1884. He was one of the two Superior Court judges at that time and served in that capacity until 1890, when he retired to take up the practice of his profession.

Until his final retirement in 1917, Judge Cheney was the chief counsel for many years to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. He leaves one son, Harvey D. Cheney, also a lawyer, and a grandson, William M. Cheney, 17, who is a student at the Los Angeles High School.

Funeral services will be conducted from the chapel of Peck & Chase, 1213 South Figueroa street, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

WHITE MAN HELD AS INDIAN SHOT IN LEG

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA, Aug. 10.—Badly wounded last night by a shotgun charge fired into his right leg, Jess Emerson, an Indian, 18 years of age, had to have the limb amputated this morning to save his life. J. D. Reeves, an American, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff William Quick in Imperial county, near the scene of the shooting. Reeves is held at El Centro. According to Reeves's story to a neighbor, he had trouble with the Indian over the tying of a horse in his field to grass. Reeves told Emerson to take the horse out of the cotton patch and asserts the latter chased him to the Reeves home, where Reeves obtained a gun and fired.

MURDER LAID TO ROW OVER LOAN

Bay's Wife Tells of Refusing Anson Money

Ugly Name Aroused Mate, She Asserts

Carmichael Denies Knowing Anything of Row

A request for a $25 loan is believed by Hollywood detectives to have precipitated the film cowboy row Sunday which wound up with "Yakima Jim" dying with his boots on and with "Red" Carmichael and Tom Bay in jail charged with suspicion of murder.

Detective Page said Mrs. Bay related that "Yak" asked her husband to loan him $25 Sunday morning and that her husband called her to find out about making the loan. She "put her foot down on it," according to Page, and Bay so informed "Yak." Then according to her story as related by the detective, "Yak" said:

"You wouldn't let that woman tell you what to do, would you?"

WORD ANGERED BAY

"Yak" did not use the word "woman," but used another word, it was said. It was this particular word that angered Bay. However, they separated and it was later in the day when they met that a .45-caliber bullet from "Red's" Colt Frontiersman bored "Yak" through from rib to rib in the backroom of a little Cahuenga-street hotel.

"Yakima Jim" Anson

"Red" told Detective Kearin yesterday that he and "Yak" went to "Yak's" room and while he was in there heard a gun crack.

He came out in time to see Bay going out through a second-story window. He was surprised to see his own gun, which he thought was in his suitcase in an adjoining room, lying on the floor with one bullet gone and "Yak" lying wounded on the floor.

"Red" professed not to know what it was all about. Bay, according to Page, corroborated his wife's story. "Yak" told detectives he did not know what it was all about except that "Bay was tryin' to be tough, I guess." Officers said all three had been drinking.

"Yak," according to some of his pals, was a real-for-sure cowboy from the Yakima Reservation, Washington, who was brought here by James Cruze for "The Covered Wagon." "Red" also was a range rider from Texas, more recently. Bay was a showman and professional rodeo rider originally from Oklahoma. All three had just returned from location with Cruze who is working on "The Pony Express."

Bay refuses to talk. His black beady eyes snap but he maintains silence. "Red" is, as the boys say, "plumb scared" about the muss he is in.

Capt. McDowell of the Hollywood Police Station did not like the looks of the gang of cowpunchers that gathered around the "waterhole" across the street from the station and calling the Central Station said so in plain words and roared:

"I want you to come out here and get these fellows away from here." His request was complied with.

Last January, Bay was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and got off with a ninety-day suspended sentence in Police Judge Chambers's court. A Hollywood police report says he shut himself, his wife and 14-year-old stepdaughter in their home and turned on the gas and that when the girl attempted to escape through a window he fired one shot in the floor and then brought the butt of his revolver down on her head. She was treated in a hospital.

"I guess he just wanted to be tough," drawed a number of Bay's acquaintances in explanation of the shooting Sunday.

Bay told officers he had lost a roll of $440 in bills. Officers found a roll of $346 lying on the ground where he is said to have landed when he jumped from "Yak's" room.

The body of "Yakima Jim," who was James Anson, lies in the Pierce & Low undertaking rooms where Coroner Nance will hold an inquest at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Anson's mother, Mrs. Mary Peterson, is said to live in Shoshone, Idaho. A sister, Mrs. Al Pike, lives here but now is visiting in Ogden, Utah.

WIFE WAS HIS MEMORY

"Your story of the absent-minded minister," writes a contributor to the Youth's Companion, "reminds me of a minister whom I knew in a little Wisconsin town many years ago. He had a wretched memory, but for all that he was nothing less than a saint.

"His absent - mindedness was chronic. He seldom could remember his text, and being averse to notes, he depended on his good wife to come to his rescue. He would lean over the pulpit and say, 'What was my text for today, my dear?'

"She would tell him, and he would then proceed to preach a fine sermon from it.

"One Sunday, after the singing of the second hymn he opened his Bible-and, leaning down, made the usual request, 'My text, for today, my dear?'

"'I don't know, I'm sure,' composedly replied his wife. 'You forgot to tell me!'"—(Exchange.

The animals had been considered a nuisance, eating grass needed by the cattle. A few were cut out and turned back to their owners, and the others were shot.

SUITOR SHOOTS TWO, ENDS LIFE

Maywood Police Head and Woman Wounded

Suicide Was Inspector in Engineer's Office

Jealousy Declared to be Cause of Tragedy

James T. Packard, police commissioner and member of the Board of Trustees of Maywood, was shot twice in the body last night just outside a bungalow occupied by Mrs. Nellie Wilson at 1608½ Acacia street. He was shot, say the police, by Charles Sibley, an inspector of the Los Angeles City Engineering Department, who, after shooting Packard, shot Mrs. Wilson twice in the neck and then committed suicide.

Jealousy, according to the authorities, is the motive for the attempted murder and suicide. Sibley, described as young and good looking, was said to have been jealous of the attentions Mrs. Wilson had been paying others.

Mrs. Nellie Wilson

Last night he is supposed to have secreted himself outside Mrs. Wilson's door, hidden behind a trailing vine. Packard is said to have stepped out and as the woman called good-night to him, Sibley's pistol barked twice. Packard crumpled to the ground.

Another shot sounded and when neighbors and police broke into the house, Sibley was lying at Mrs. Wilson's side, dead. He had shot himself through the head, the police reported.

The woman and Packard were hurried to the Receiving Hospital. They will recover. But they will not talk of the drama of the little brown house. Sibley was 30 years of age and lived at 836 South Hope street.

Mrs. Wilson, said to be an attractive young Spanish woman, is the mother of a 13-year-old daughter, Helen, living with her, grandmother at 5776 South San Pedro street. The woman in the case was also said to have been known under the name of Mary Davis. Packard is married and lives at 6039 Vinevale street, Maywood.

On her trip East, Mrs. Valentino will be accompanied by George Ullman, business manager for the Valentinos. They expect to return to this city within three weeks. Rudolph, it was stated, will not accompany his wife, as he is in the midst of the production of "The Lone Eagle," his first picture under his United Artists contract. As soon as Valentino completes his present picture, he said, he and his wife will make a tour of Mexico, a trip they have planned for some time.
